Previously-Classified President John F. Kennedy Assassination Collection Records Now Released

President Trump ushers in a new era of maximum transparency

WASHINGTON, D.C. – President Donald J. Trump promised maximum transparency and a commitment to rebuild the trust of the American people in the Intelligence Community (IC) and federal agencies. Part of that promise was to fully release previously-classified records related to the assassinations of President John F. Kennedy, Senator Robert F. Kennedy, and the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

President Trump's Executive Order 14176 stated, "the continued redaction and withholding of information from records pertaining to the assassination of JFK is not consistent with the public interest and the release of these records is long overdue." The President announced that these records should be released without redactions on Tuesday, March 18.

Upon receiving the President's decision, Director of National Intelligence (DNI) Tulsi Gabbard immediately sent out a directive across the IC conveying his directive to provide all unredacted records within the President John F. Kennedy Assassination Records Collection to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) for immediate release.

Starting today, the records will be available to access either online at archives.gov/jfk, or in person, via hard copy or on analog media formats, accessible to the American people at National Archives at College Park, MD. Records that are currently only available for in-person viewing are being digitized and will be uploaded to the archives.gov/jfk repository in the coming days. DNI Gabbard will post updates on X (@DNIGabbard) and Truth Social (@DNITulsiGabbard) as the files are released. The files will also be available on the White House's website.

This release consists of approximately 80,000 pages of previously-classified records that will be published with no redactions. Additional documents withheld under court seal or for grand jury secrecy, and records subject to section 6103 of the Internal Revenue Code, must be unsealed before release. NARA is working with the Department of Justice to expedite the unsealing of these records. Grand juries from many years ago have already seen them, so most of this information is already out, but regardless of this, this information will be immediately released upon the direction of the Court.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

SYNOPSIS

Informant 2-1-266 has advised that one Thomas Mosley has been in touch with a group of Chicago Cubans who may be involved in the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy. Also, that this Cuban group is endeavoring to purchase through Mosley a variety of automatic weapons and explosives.

INTRODUCTION

Reference is made to the office memorandum to the Chief from Acting SAIC Maurice G. Martineau, Chicago, dated November 26, 1963, under file No. 2-1-611.0. That memorandum, confirming a long distance telephone call to Deputy Chief Paul J. Paterni, Washington, D. C., verified that this matter had been discussed with Deputy Chief Paterni, who had directed that inasmuch as this information related to the assassination of the late President Kennedy, and that this information also could involve the protection of President Lyndon B. Johnson, that all information developed by the U. S. Secret Service should be made available to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and that a joint investigation should be conducted with an exchange of reports and a free flow of information.

For the information of all offices concerned, 2-1-266 advised on November 26, 1963, that he had heard that one Tom Mosley allegedly had been attempting to negotiate a sale of machine guns to one Homer S. Echevarria and that Echevarria allegedly made a comment the day before the assassination of President John F. Kennedy that "we now have plenty of money -- our new backers are Jews -- as soon as 'we' (or 'they') take care of Kennedy...."

Moving to another subject, the DCI said that he was concerned about the prospects of a future nuclear explosion in Communist China, and to a lesser degree he was concerned about the prospects of such a development in Israel. He thought that the prospects of these developments brings up a most serious problem from the standpoint of psychological effect upon other nations should these developments take place, although there does not seem to be anything we can do about them.

Insofar as U-2 overflights of Communist China by Chinese Nationalist pilots are concerned, these missions are being flown in "Category 3" weather (instead of Category 2 weather conditions involving a maximum of 25% cloud cover) because there is a need for frequent missions. The DCI said that although these missions have not produced evidence of a reactor in operation in Communist China, there are some indications, e.g., a test area in Tibet, and the President has been alerted to this possibility.

The DCI said that somewhat of a problem is presented in Israel. Although we are close to the Israeli government, it appears to be withholding information on the extent of its nuclear activities. As in the past France is assisting Israel and the French government is helping the Israeli government build a nuclear reactor at the present time. In a building next to the reactor there is an installation which could be a chemical separation facility, but the Israelis deny that this is the case. Moreover, the DCI pointed out, the Israelis refuse to submit to international safeguards prescribed by the international atomic energy agency. Mr. McCone stated that he believes that the development of a nuclear weapon capability by Israel would have most serious effects on countries of the Middle East and, therefore, Mr. McCone is ready to repeat recommendations which he previously made to President Eisenhower that unless Israel joins in the international safeguards we should take certain economic reprisals against Israel. Mr. McCone observed that our government permits tax deductions on Israeli bonds, and we have given Israel billions of dollars in aid. Despite this the Israelis could well be proceeding without full knowledge on our part on an atomic energy program which could trigger grave trouble in the Middle East.

Finally, Mr. McCone reported that CIA has concluded that our policy on intelligence collection within the United States is wrong and particularly as it applies to Soviet Bloc Embassies and to telephone intercept coverage as well as exploitation of official Soviet [illegible] Mr. McCone stated that he was

This is retyped letter from hand written

Dear Sir:

Mr. Wasilev Consul gave me order to transmit this information to U. S. Government, on August 9, 1963 in Sofia, Bulgaria. Mr. Wasilev, Consul of Embassy of U.S.S.R., gave me this information about Mr. Lee Harvey Oswald on August 14, 1963. Mrs. Besera Asenova, girl friend of Russian Consul came to my room and repeated that Mr. Lee Harvey Oswald is assassin. He will kill President Kennedy.

On August 15, 1963 in Sofia, Bulgaria, at the airport in embassy car, I told to Mr. Blackshire, American Vice Consul, that Mr. Lee Harvey Oswald is assissin. He has a weapon or has ordered one. Mr. Blackshire said it seems like he will kill someone. I said that Mr. Lee H. Oswald is preparing to kill President of the United States, John F. Kennedy. Mr. Blackshire said where will it happen. I said they (right wing) will invite President, criticize him in the newspaper, ... then kill him. Mr. Blackshire told me he will give the telegram to Department of State and he gave me the address where to report.

At 9 a.m. on August 19, 1963 in Washington, D. C., I went to see (Mr. Kippingan) Director of Special Counselor Service Department of State at 1901 Pennsylvania Avenue-11th floor. I told the Director that I have information about President Kennedy. The Director said do not mention name of President Kennedy, only respond to the questions. The Director said tell us what will happen to Mr. Lee Harvey Oswald then. I said Mr. Lee H. Oswald will be killed after kill Kennedy. I said I will take the truth drug to tell the truth. Director tell us who else get killed in this country. I said as I heard, that Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. will be killed. Who will kill Dr. King, Jr. Negro leader? I said a man who is in prison at this time. (Mr. James Earl Ray was in prison at that time.) Director asked where assassination will happen. I said in Dallas, Texas. Director said if someone gave this information here I would expel the man. Director did call on F.B.I. agents after F.B.I. use anesthesia gas to freeze me to drub me to keep amnesia.

I told Director Department of State that Mr. Lee Harvey Oswald have a weapon. Go see him. Director told me you too can have weapon--so what if Oswald got weapon.

Sincerely,

As you are aware, James Angleton of CIA frequently turns over to the Bureau on a highly confidential basis information which has been developed through operations headed by Angleton. In many instances the information is given to the Bureau without clearing through regular CIA channels. In almost all instances it is given to us with the clear understanding that if included in a report or other communication prepared for dissemination outside the Bureau the information will be so set forth that it cannot be traced back to either Angleton or CIA. In such instances where the information relates to [Israeli] matters, it has been the practice of [Israeli] (S) supervisors to clear with Angleton before disseminating information from him outside the Bureau. (S)

In taking up such a matter with Angleton last week it was determined that he objected to attributing information which he had furnished to "Confidential Informant T-2, an Agency of the Government which conducts personnel and intelligence investigations." He pointed out that by describing T-2 as an agency of the Government which conducts personnel and intelligence investigations the Bureau was revealing to outside agencies that the material did in fact come from another Government agency. Since the material related to an individual who now resides in [Israel,] Angleton stated that, (S) in his opinion, recipient agencies would logically conclude that the information had originated with CIA since such an individual would be under CIA jurisdiction insofar as investigations abroad are concerned. Angleton requested that the information merely be attributed to Confidential Informant T-2, who, in this instance, could be described as being of known reliability.

It is suggested that it would materially assist in the handling of information received from Angleton in the future if the Liaison Section could work out a procedure whereby Angleton might be referred to as a Bureau informant. This would permit the Supervisors receiving the Angleton material firsthand to transmit it to the field and advise the field that the information in any report should be attributed to an informant with a temporary symbol number, which informant could be evaluated as having furnished information of a reliable nature in the past. On the informant page the temporary symbol number could be identified by the regular Bureau symbol assigned to Angleton. (S)(U)

Newly released JFK files confirm a secret intelligence pipeline between the CIA and Israeli intelligence, personally overseen by CIA counterintelligence chief James Angleton.

This wasn't just routine intel sharing—it was a deliberate effort to conceal Israel's involvement in sensitive U.S. operations, bypassing standard intelligence channels.

Angleton acted as the sole gatekeeper, ensuring that all Israeli-related intelligence was filtered through him alone.

He also controlled the flow of intel to the FBI, carefully scrubbing reports to ensure that Israeli intelligence was never directly named—a covert operation hidden in plain sight.

SUBJECT: BUREAU INFORMANT 100 (JFK)

In 1954, a procedure was approved whereby we could attribute certain information received from James Angleton, CIA, under the symbol "Bureau Informant 100." This information, for the most part, emanated from a liaison arrangement which CIA maintained with the Israeli Intelligence Service and from other sources under the control of Angleton. Much of the information developed by Angleton was not disseminated within CIA but he felt that the data should be passed on to the Bureau. Allen Dulles gave his authorization to handle dissemination in this matter. We continue to receive information of value on a regular basis.

By SAC Letter 54-27 dated 5/25/54, we informed the field regarding Bureau Informant 100 and issued instructions that information from this source be described under an appropriate T symbol and characterization. Because of the passage of time and since some offices have had rare occasion to receive Bureau Informant 100 information, it is believed desirable to reiterate instructions to the field. This should be done since the Informant has been developing information in recent months regarding the travel of U. S. citizens to Russia via Israel. Such travelers come from various parts of the U. S.

DATE: March 9, 1954

SUBJECT: JAMES ANGLETON CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

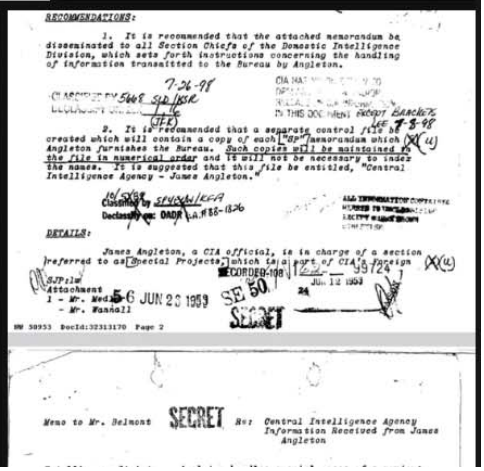
As you know, the captioned individual has been providing the Bureau with considerable information, much of it being of a very sensitive nature. It has been noted that in transmitting communications to Angleton some memoranda have been sent to the Director of CIA, Attention: James Angleton, in care of [illegible] F. Hall. Other memoranda dealing with [Israeli Intelligence] matters have been directed to James Angleton, in care of [illegible] F. Hall.

In order that the Bureau would have a uniform procedure in transmitting mail to Angleton, the Liaison Agent discussed the matter with Angleton on March 5, 1954. Angleton requested that in the future mail being directed to him be transmitted to the Director of CIA, "Attention: James Angleton." Angleton stated that the above request was being made with the approval of Allen Dulles, the Director of CIA. He further indicated that he desired the above method of designation in connection with correspondence dealing with [Israeli Intelligence matters.] With regard to Bureau reports concerning [Israeli matters,] Angleton advised that such material is being retained under his personal supervision and control.

Angleton also asked when the Bureau found it necessary to disseminate information to him and other agencies, that his identity not be revealed to the other agencies. He explained that he is involved in several sensitive projects, such as [Israeli Intelligence,] and if his identity were known to the other agencies, the security of CIA operations could be prejudiced.

ACTION:

Attached hereto for your approval is a Memorandum to all Section Chiefs.



RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. It is recommended that the attached memorandum be disseminated to all Section Chiefs of the Domestic Intelligence Division, which sets forth instructions concerning the handling of information transmitted to the Bureau by Angleton.

2. It is recommended that a separate control file be created which will contain a copy of each "DP" memorandum which Angleton furnishes the Bureau. Such copies will be maintained in the file in numerical order and it will not be necessary to index the names. It is suggested that this file be entitled, "Central Intelligence Agency - James Angleton."

2. Through clandestine agent sources, we learned recently that a Western European merchant ship en route from Havana, Cuba, to Odessa, USSR, would be forced to dock at a Caribbean port and off-load temporarily part of its cargo in order to repair minor hull damage which resulted from an accidental grounding. It was ascertained that this vessel carried as cargo 80,000 two-hundred pound bags of Cuban raw sugar shipped to Odessa, USSR, for refining in the Soviet Union. In order to lighten the ship sufficiently to permit repairs, it was necessary to off-load and temporarily warehouse 14,000 of the two-hundred pound bags of sugar.

3. Through a clandestine operation which was not detected and is not traceable, we were able to contaminate 800 of these bags of sugar with a chemical used in the process of denaturing alcohol while the bags were in the warehouse and before they were reloaded on the vessel.

4. When this cargo of sugar is refined in the Soviet Union the contaminated bags will completely contaminate the entire shipment making the sugar unfit for human or animal consumption in any form. The contaminate we used will give the sugar an ineradicable, sickly bitter taste which no process will remove. The contaminate cannot be detected in the refining and although the contaminate is not in any sense dangerous to health, it is so strong to the taste that it ruins the taste of the consumer for any food or drink for a considerable time.

5. This successful contamination will spoil the entire cargo the value of which to the USSR is estimated at $350,000 to $400,000.

Additional Information

For your further information in connection with this operation, it was conpleted on 24 August 1962 in San Juan, Puerto Rico. The vessel involved was the British merchant ship STREATHAM HILL. The operation was successfully conducted without compromise and

SUBJECT: March 8 and 9, 1963 Meeting of the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board

The Board meeting of March 8 convened at 10:00 a.m., with the following in attendance: Messrs. Killian, Baker, Clifford, Doolittle, Gray, Land, Langer, Ash and Coyne. (Mr. Pace was unable to attend the two-day meeting because of absence from the country; Mr. Murphy was unable to join the meeting until later in the day.)

As the first order of business, in executive session, the Chairman reported on a number of items including the following.

The Chairman advised that on the previous day Mr. Murphy had informed Mr. Coyne that he had received a telephone call at his offices in New York from the Director of Central Intelligence. Mr. McCone indicated to Mr. Murphy that the President had talked with him about the Board's final report on the Cuba situation dated February 4; that the President had shown Mr. McCone a copy of the report, indicating that no other distribution was being made of the report at this time. Mr. Murphy advised that Mr. McCone was quite emotional in discussing the Board's report, stating that if the Board is going to insist on submitting the report, the top five people in CIA, including Mr. McCone, would have to resign from the Agency. Mr. Murphy pointed out to Mr. McCone that the report had already been formally submitted to the President by the Board. Mr. McCone then expressed to Mr. Murphy his concern and disagreement with the references in the report to the failure of intelligence. Mr. Murphy advised Mr. McCone that in his judgment, and indeed he thought in the judgment of all of the Board members, there was in fact a failure of intelligence and it was the duty of the Board to so state in its report to the President. Mr. Murphy expressed the view that the report was really mild. Mr. McCone indicated that even in retrospect there were only about seven of the thirty-five indicators listed in the report of offensive missiles in Cuba which might be considered valid. Mr. Murphy reiterated that Mr. McCone was quite emotional in discussing the above matter, saying if the report stood it could lead to resignations from DIA as well as CIA. At this point e mentioned to Mr. McCone that he was in New York at a meeting with others and didn't like discussing this aspect on the telephone and suggested they discuss the matter further when they next met.

tenure, there were microphones in his regular office, his inner office, his dining room, his office in East Building, and his study at his residence on White Haven Street. I do not know who would be willing to raise such an issue, but knowledge of such operations tends to spread, and certainly the Agency is vulnerable on this score.

11. Also under the heading of old business, I well remember the hue and cry raised, especially by Carl Kaysen in the White House, when the Agency injected a contaminating agent in Cuban sugar bound for the Soviet Union. Shortly after the Cuban missile crisis, there was a disposition in Washington to reexamine the Bay of Pigs, and the fact that several Alabama National Air Guard officers lost their lives in the Bay of Pigs was surfaced with surprisingly little excitement at the time.

For ten years Israeli propagandists called Final Judgment author Michael Collins Piper a "liar" and an "anti-Semite" for charging that Israeli intelligence played a role in the JFK assassination conspiracy because of JFK's bitter secret conflict with Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion over Israel's efforts to build nuclear weapons of mass destruction. Certain self-styled "JFK assassination researchers" scoffed at Piper and refused to address the thesis of his book.

However, on July 25, 2004, many of Piper's critics were red-faced and silent when Israel's respected Jerusalem Post carried a story headlined: "Vanunu: Israel behind JFK Assassination." The newspaper reported that famed Jewish-born nuclear physicist, Dr. Mordechai Vanunu, recently released after spending 18 years in prison for exposing Israel's covert atomic weapons program—had charged that supporters of Israel's drive for nuclear weapons were involved in the JFK assassination precisely because of JFK's interference with their ambitions.

The Israeli government dismissed Vanunu's allegations, but what he said received attention in newspapers worldwide, with the notable exception of the United States where one and only one newspaper, mentioned Vanunu's charges and that was American Free Press, the Washington-based weekly that published Final Judgment. However, as widely read Internet writer, Rev. Mark Dankof, put it quite correctly: "The Vanunu-Piper allegations about Israel will not go away."

When Jack Ruby was stalking Dallas police headquarters following the JFK assassination (right), Ruby told people he was working as a "translator" for Israeli "reporters" on the scene who remain unidentified to this day. In fact, there were Israelis in Dallas on the day of the assassination, including Mossad figure and future Israeli prime minister Yitzhak Rabin, then a high-ranking military officer, purportedly on a "military briefing tour," according to Rabin's widow. Two weeks later Rabin was promoted to chief of staff of the Israeli Defense Forces. This proves nothing, but is a detail for the record. Why no JFK researchers have ever tried to identify the Israelis with Ruby remains a mystery.

Carter plot alleged

LOS ANGELES, Tuesday. — The FBI said here yesterday it was seeking suspects involved in an alleged plot to kill President Carter on Saturday.

Raymond Lee Harvey, aged 34, was arrested by Secret Service agents with a starter's pistol in his pocket at the Los Angeles County Hall of Administration.

An FBI statement alleged Harvey had been given the pistol by a Mexican, Oswaldo Espinoza, in order to create a diversion while the President was visiting the building — AAP-Reuter.

Don't get angry at the lonely, angry faggots mocking Charlie's death. Any male who would make fun of this is openly signalling that they are in deep pain and suffering from profound self-hatred. Making fun of a dead father of a young girl is psychologically incompatible with having self esteem as an adult male. They are in deep pain, no matter how hard they try to hide it behind their smug online poker face.

LEAKED: SECRET BLUE STATE RESISTANCE AGREEMENT 🚨

.@oversightpr obtained a copy of a secret pact between 22 blue states, DC, and San Francisco which was signed just 3 days after Trump's landslide victory, to resist his plan to end birthright citizenship.

Instead of fixing gas prices, groceries, or public safety, Democrats' top priority was ensuring that children of illegal aliens from the Biden Border Crisis could become future voters.

Both federal and state law provide for the sharing of confidential and/or privileged information[1] among those with common interests during the course of and in anticipation of litigation, without a waiver of any otherwise applicable privileges, protections, immunities, and exemptions from disclosure, so that the claims and defenses of the parties may be thoroughly investigated and prepared without giving undue advantage to the opposing side. Maintaining such confidentiality is necessary for the accomplishment of the Parties' objectives with respect to the Common Interest Matter. This document sets forth the agreement under which each Party and their respective staff, management, consultants, experts, counsel, and agents will manage and protect confidential and/or privileged information shared and exchanged regarding the Common Interest Matter.

This revival of mid-2000s Rage Against The Machine-style "it's not the foreigners, its the rich!" line is so funny to me because it isn't completely incorrect, yet lefties STILL come to the wrong conclusion about it.

The rich are the primary beneficiaries of mass migration. To use the retarded cookie example from the picture, the only reason the rich dude is able to prevent the domestic worker from demanding more cookies is because the foreigner is willing to accept a crumb.

Importing men from backwards, misogynistic cultures - the left should, in theory, oppose this.

Importing people hyper-religious conservative countries - the left should, in theory, oppose this.

Importing people who have no respect for the environment or animals - the left should, in theory, oppose this.

The left has a stronger, more logically consistent case against immigration than the right does. That is precisely why being anti-immigration used to be a firmly leftist position.

Most lefties understand this. This is a fairly basic leftist critique of immigration and globalization's impact on labor.

Yet when you go to the next logical step, which is to suggest immigration then be halted to allow the domestic worker to seize the cookies he is owed, the modern leftist will STILL look at you like you've shapeshifted into Hitler.

Same goes for every other discussion about migration.

The Communist Party of Peru did not "boil children alive". I have seen nothing like this written anywhere. They did, apparently, use scalding water as a method of execution, along with stones and machetes. They did, also, engage in the act of killing infants, elderly people, and pregnant women at the village of Lucanamarca in 1983. This act was ostensibly retaliation for the murder of PCP cadre Olegerio Curitomay by villagers. Bari Weiss @bariweiss

The Department of Justice is investigating the Greenhouse Gas Reduction Fund, a $27 billion program that was part of Joe Biden's $740 billion Inflation Reduction Act. Created in the spring of 2023, and managed by the Environmental Protection Agency, the fund was supposed to be a "first-of-its-kind" program to address the climate crisis while revitalizing communities that it considered "historically left behind."

But it appears little of the $27 billion revitalized anything—except the coffers of a range of environmental nonprofits associated with former Obama and Biden administration officials.

"The Biden administration used so-called 'climate equity' to justify handouts of billions of dollars to their far-left friends," @leezeldin, the Trump administration's new EPA administrator, told @TheFP. "It is my utmost priority to get a handle on every dollar that went out the door in this scheme and once again restore oversight and accountability over these funds. This rush job operation is riddled with conflicts of interest and corruption."

A Free Press investigation reveals that of the $27 billion, $20 billion was rushed out the door to eight nonprofit groups after Biden lost the election—but before President Donald Trump took office. As one former EPA official put it on a secretly recorded video, it was akin to "tossing gold bars off the Titanic."

The eight groups were allocated sums ranging from $400 million to $6.9 billion. Several of them were formed in August of 2023, just one month after the grant applications went live in July of 2023, when it became clear that large nine- and 10-figure grants would be up for grabs. The boards and staff of these eight groups include Democratic donors, people with connections to the Obama and Biden administrations, and prominent Democrats like Stacey Abrams.

"These are some of the biggest grants to individual organizations in American history."

“Storm the White House”: House Democrats Say Their Trump Deranged Supporters Are Urging Them to Get Shot, Get Violent, Get Arrested to Stop President Trump

By Kristinn Taylor · Jul. 7, 2025 11:00 am · 565 Comments

Truth · Tweet · Share · Gettr · Gab

Axios reported a crazy story Monday morning about what House Democrats are saying their supporters are urging them to do to resist President Donald Trump: Get shot, get violent, get arrested, even storm the White House.

With Republicans holding the White House, both houses of Congress and a 6-3 (sometimes) conservative majority on the Supreme Court, Democrats are powerless to stop much of the Trump agenda.

With Trump and his administration racking up win after win in Congress, the Supreme Court, the economy, foreign policy and especially the culture, Democrats dropping the F-bomb and other swear words in everyday messaging, giving marathon speeches and holding “No Kings” protests aren’t working to satisfy the masses of Democrat voters consumed by Trump Derangement Syndrome. They want blood.

A TikToker has issued a warning, claiming that more violence will take place targeting children in religious schools and churches.

In his rant, he declared that it's "their turn now," vowing to laugh as children will soon be slaughtered.

"We've had enough of your kind. Now it's time for Catholic and religious schools to face it."

Edit- *bringing my daily carry pistol. Not my entire collection.
Edit 2- I bring my daily carry pistol any time I go more than 5 mins down the road. A DC road trip would have a longer travel time, therefore I will bring my pistol. That is my right as an American.

JUST IN: Rogue Judge Blocking Trump Agenda Exposed As Democrat Megadonor

Published 13 hours ago on February 10, 2025
By Chris Powell

New revelations show that a federal judge responsible for blocking key Trump administration policies is a longtime Democratic mega-donor. Judge John J. McConnell Jr., appointed by former President Barack Obama, has a history of contributing hundreds of thousands of dollars to Democratic campaigns and political action committees.

Judge McConnell, who has served as a U.S. District Judge in Rhode Island since 2011, was previously a personal injury lawyer. Records from the Federal Election Commission (FEC) indicate that before taking the bench, he made significant donations to Democratic politicians, including former Presidents Barack Obama, Joe Biden, and Hillary Clinton.

His contributions also extended to Democratic PACs and various Senate and House campaigns. Public filings show that McConnell's donations amount to several hundred thousand dollars, making him one of the more politically active federal judges in terms of campaign contributions.

McConnell has been a consistent donor to Democratic candidates and committees over multiple election cycles. His contributions primarily support Democratic congressional campaigns, national committees, and political action committees.

Some of the key recipients of his donations include the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, Rhode Island Hope PAC, and the Rhode Island Democratic State Committee. Additionally, he has contributed to the American Association for Justice Political Action Committee (AAJ PAC).

Hillary Clinton approved of the plan to create the fake Russia hoax

From: Leonard Benardo
Sent: July 27, 2016
Hi,

HRC approved Julia's idea about Trump and Russian hackers hampering U.S. elections. That should distract people from her own missing email, especially if the affair goes to the Olympic level. The point is making the Russian play a U.S. domestic issue. Say something like a critical infrastructure threat for the election to feel menace since both POTUS and VPOTUS have acknowledged the fact IC would speed up searching for evidence that is regrettably still unavailable. However there seems to be signs GRU penetration (cyrlic, 2.0 VPN elite VPN, Felix Edmundovich). They appear hardly skilled, "incompetent bumbling idiots" as smb [somebody] called them. In absence of direct evidence, Crowdstrike and ThreatConnect will supply the media, and GRU will hopefully carry on to give more facts.[1]

Kyle gunned down three jew criminals in Kenosha when they tried to set fire to two gas stations in a suburban neighborhood.

Then an Antifa tweaker, enraged by Kyle's heroisim, gunned down a Patriot Prayer guy who was a straggler to a big Trump Truck rally in Portland

Then Trump sent in the US marshalls to gun the Antifa assassin down when he fled to Olympia Wash. Trump bragged about it

Then Adbusters in Canada called for all the Antifa incendiaries to go to Wash DC from Sept 17 to Nov3 to lay siege to the White House. They all up and left the coast an on the way they set massive wild fires along the highways. About 30 were arrested but the rest somehow just evaporated, disappeared. Did Trump send in special forces to eliminate them on the quiet?

I think so.

>Did Trump send in special forces to eliminate them on the quiet?
I'm thinking the same thing on everything you just said. Antifa started the west coast fires. Once they got exposed for it, the riots stopped instantly in Seattle and Portland. I believe it was the day after or maybe the next, there were reports on twitter from people who saw Illinois search and rescue in a huge convoy with Illinois terrorism task force. All the events happened so close to each other i'm assuming they are related.

This is what i'm guessing.
Riots were done on the west coast, start the fires in Cali, Oregon, and Washington then transport all the paid rioters from their homeless encampment in Portland to DC. Antifa always used huge soros bought buses years ago. Those antifa fags don't have money for cars and cross country trips, so they must have been bused from the west coast to DC. Terrorism task forces pull them over on a quiet highway. Possibly taken into the woods but most likely taken to gitmo. If you watched the "Siege the white house" live streams on day 1, hardly anyone was there. It was random niggers playing shitty music and fat dykes sitting in the street. Nothing happened. A day or two later they changed the name of the protest from "Siege the white house" to peaceful protest with jazz music or some shit, and that was the end of hearing about that. That DC protest was supposed to be the end all of riots.

I live in the PNW in fire zone. My boomer dem voting neighbors even knew it was Antifa. All the fire zone social media groups were sharing pics of the arsonist arrests and talking about Antifa. That word spread faster then the fire they started. Who knew burning 3 states and killing over 35 including 3 young children would deter people you tried to kill from voting for you.

Right around that time, right after Reinhoel was gunned down there were these very scary people that momentarily appeared in the media. They were Blackwater type mercenaries, former special ops guys that sort of looked like Chuck Norris only they made Chuck look like a gay larper by comparison. They said a few words about being on a leash waiting to be set on the enemies of America. I wish I'd ripped it to drive. They disappeared after that but so did Antifa. I'm wondering if they were the death squads..

Some of you still think we're not being under attack. I found this individual walking in my property as I was driving in, all he had were some matches in his hand. Walked him out of my property at gunpoint and then when we got to some asphalt ground on the main road made him lay down while the cops arrived. Had my husband been here he would have been dead. He has got multiple warrants one of them being assaulting a police officer.

Elon is doing applied political science. He had a hypothesis, and then he bet on it. And in being correct, we are learning empirically: The Professional Managerial Class has perfected a system of moral blackmail through which they convert third world suffering into personal wealth and status. They position themselves as noble humanitarian experts with PhDs who care deeply about things like global poverty, to justify their own sinecures extracted from the national purse. These credentialed do-gooders wield the threat of African deaths as a shield against any questioning of their privileges. We've long understood bourgeois professional hypocrisy in theory, but never before have we had such a complete empirical revelation of the exact dollar amounts, networks, and individual names involved across the top of the PMC hierarchy. Professional political scientists are generally feigning horror at Elon right now, but that's because they are members of the PMC, even if they are only minor and distant dependents on DC.

Our theory posits a simplifying thesis: guilt does not come in varieties. It has one source, and that is the transgression of the moral law. Modernity means sexual liberation. Sexual liberation creates guilt. The only way to deal with guilt among those who refuse to repent is the palliation that comes from social activism. Involvement in social movements calms troubled consciences. The relation between the liberal Left and the civil rights leadership was symbiotic. The guilt which accrued from carrying out the agenda of the Left, which invariably involved some form of sexual liberation, was anesthetized by involvement in fighting for the Negro's freedoms.

Every smug cosmopoliton shitlib and malicious subverter has no choice but to insist that every waking moment for the last 100000+ years before marvel movies, fag parades, and social media was literal hell on earth, and that any appearance or suggestion of a happier existence was propaganda or some veneer to hide the fact that everyone really wanted to drink piss and take cocks up the ass but the church wouldn't let them. They project the absolutely insane levels of evil, corruption, distrust, and spiritual emptiness of their time and tell you that every other time before today was the same but worse. It's all they have, because the world of their creation has little positive qualities by itself, and they don't want you imagining a "better" because that often requires their removal.

The first time one of the mentally-ill leftists sees actual dead kindergartners, their own mutilated grandma hanging from a tree, thier innocent younger brother or sister raped out of their dinosaur pajamas time and time again before them, you know, all the things that happen in ACTUAL CIVIL WARS, they will abandon their lunatic cause and accept utter defeat.

Today's liberals literally have no fucking clue how horrible this will all ACTUALLY play out in reality. They have been pumped so full of "Marvel™" and "Star Wars™" and other feminist/soi bullshit, they think "War" and "Revolutions" are like they are in movies and TV, and it will be this fun thing that happens over 2 seasons of episodes.

In reality, "Civil Wars" are the single most brutal wars of all, and have death and destruction that are unimaginable to todays TV/Jew rotted brains.

IT will utterly collapse their psyche, on DAY-1 of their little civil war, they will have all surrendered after 1 night of crying themself to sleep knowing that they got goaded into fighting a war against "donald trump", "white-men" and all it did was get their family butchered, their life ruined and all the things it turns out they actually loved in life (Capitalist products) are vanished, traded for a life of indescribable suffering.

Also, when the little lefty-Civil war starts AOC, Bernie, Pelosi, Hillary, every single last Jew, And the entire Democrat party will be on the first planes out of the country, to watch the shit on tv. All the agitators will get off scot-free. They will literally laugh at the tranny/open border idiots as their entrails are pulled from their body by diesel trucks.

This is your lefty civil war.

Anonymous (ID: +/339IYo) 09/15/25(Mon)20:31:01 No.516183167

When it actually sinks in they started a 'real war' and they cant kick, scream, tattle-tale or call for help from the Jew media (which will have abandoned them or will be irrelevant), and the sight of human beings absolutely mangled by IED's, rifle-fire, shot guns, shrapnel, will overload them, causing them to implode into quivering shells of former people. You cant 'just go home and sleep it off in your own comfy bed with your jammies on and protest again tomorrow after you catch up on game of thrones'.

you are talking about the softest most coddled generation in the history of the human race, ALL of them born in 1980 or forward, who have known NOTHING but toys, video games, 'sports', rap-music, central-air and heat, nice cars, clean comfy beds and bed sheets, snuggies, collecting Pokemon, cute cartoons, date-night, netflix and chill and on and on and on and on, and that the Pharonic luxury of American Capitalist life has been traded in for grinding your neighbors eyes sockets out with a saw because he Voted "Trump" or thought the USA should have a real border. People who can't change a fucking tire thinking they can wage war. and 'win'

Now the lefty must tend his own wounds, the hospitals are all full at 11x or 13x capacity with war casualties, humans torn into shapes previously found only fake 'horror movies', but he must soldier on. His vans and his Nikes are ruined, but no more vans or air jordans are being made. thats over with. "Impeach Trump" they told us. Impeach him and the troubles would be over.

is it settling in yet what "civil war" actually means?

Can’t get the video of Charlie Kirk being shot out of my head.

Discussion

Saw the video about four hours ago but have literally not been able to stop thinking about it I feel sick to my stomach.

I always watched his debates on TikTok and Youtube, and it was so unsettling seeing such a FAMILIAR face being killed in real time, especially with how graphic the video was and how his body reacted afterwards.

I strongly disagreed with Charlie’s opinions but I think no one deserves to lose their life like that, especially since his CHILDREN and WIFE were there.

Anyone else feel the same?

edit: I also wanted to add that I might’ve had a different view on this if i didn’t actually SEE the video. I feel so much more empathy watching it happen before my eyes. it kind of puts into perspective how crazy it is actually is.

edit 2: thank you to everyone who is sympathizing with me and on the same boat. glad to know i’m not the only one who does not feel well after that video.

Museum of English Rural Life to tackle 'whiteness of countryside'

£100,000 scheme to increase representation of ethnic minorities and LGBTQ+ in displays about country life

The Museum of English Rural Life is set to tackle the "whiteness of the countryside" in a new project.

Curators at the museum, dedicated to the history of England's countryside, have launched a £100,000 scheme to dispel the perception that rural Britain is a "white, heteronormative" place.

The project will seek to redress the assumed "whiteness of the countryside" and increase the representation of ethnic minorities and "LGBTQ+ rural people" in displays about life in the country.

The Museum of English Rural Life is managed by the University of Reading and receives Arts Council England funding to support its collection of pastoral artefacts, including ploughs, tractors and examples of Women's Institute handicraft.

It comes after The Telegraph revealed a report submitted to an all-party parliamentary group (APPG) suggested the British countryside is a "racist colonial" white space, with green spaces governed by "white British cultural values".

Is this racist?

A complaint has been made to race relations investigators after Newcastle was described as "hideously white".

NEWS By Evening Chronicle

00:00, 9 MAR 2006 | UPDATED 20:16, 27 FEB 2013

A complaint has been made to race relations investigators after Newcastle was described as "hideously white".

The remark was made at a conference by Neil Murphy, a Government official who is working on secondment at Newcastle City Council.

At the same conference, the city council's assistant chief executive, Paul Rubinstein, des-cribed the Tyne & Wear area as one of the "whitest" in the North.

Newcastle resident Bryan Allen, 49, has now made a formal complaint to the Commission for Racial Equality claiming the remarks were insulting.

Mr Allen, a former restaurant manager, told the Chronicle he would like both men to apologise to locals.

The row follows a conference to discuss progress on the Northern Way, a Government initiative to close the North-South divide.

During the conference it was claimed the famous Geordie welcome is a myth and attitudes to immigration are holding back the North East.

City officers led a session examining the situation in Tyne & Wear and highlighted the need for more immigration to help develop the economy.

Mr Rubinstein said research showed antagonism towards immigration was stronger in the North East than in any other part of the UK.

"There is a real issue for our city region - which is the whitest, with the possible exception of the Tees Valley, among the Northern Way city regions - to see immigration as positive, and something which will drive the city forward," he said.

They are said to be the founding fathers of Western philosophy, whose ideas underpin civilized society.

But students at a prestigious London university are demanding that such figures as Plato, Descartes and Immanuel Kant be largely dropped from the curriculum because they are white.

The School of Oriental and African Studies (SOAS)'s student union is insisting that when studying philosophy, "the majority of philosophers on our courses" should be from Africa and Asia.

A high-performing primary school has missed out on Ofsted's top grade after being judged too English.

Pupils at the rural primary lacked 'first-hand experience of the diverse make-up of modern British society', declared the watchdog.

However, around 97 per cent of the population in the town to which the school belongs are white.

Middle Rasen Primary School in Market Rasen, Lincolnshire, has missed out on an 'outstanding' rating from Ofsted because it is 'too English'. Pictured: Headteacher Melonie Brunton (back middle) with pupils

Inspectors penalised the 104-pupil school for not being multicultural enough, despite 97 per cent of the town being white and the majority of pupils not being from ethnic backgrounds

Ofsted refused it an 'outstanding' rating and graded it 'good' instead.

It said the school was failing to do enough to ensure pupils understand the 'cultural diversity of modern British society' and experience 'first-hand interaction with counterparts from different backgrounds'.

But parents complained Middle Rasen Primary in Market Rasen was being punished for factors outside its control and had effectively been told it was 'too English'.

The Stark Naked Brief.... @StarkNakedBri...

In case you missed it...

Channel 4 recently commissioned a study on BAME representation in UK advertising. The likely assumption, of course, was that the findings would reinforce the narrative of systemic underrepresentation.

But it backfired—spectacularly.

When the agency they hired, Tapestry, sent the data back to them, they found that 50% of UK adverts featured black people...

Half of all commercials.

Compared that to the percentage of black people in the UK population: just 4%, according to the 2021 census.

It went on...

People of South Asian descent make up 8% of the population but appeared in 17% of ads.

East Asians make up 1%, yet were represented in 11% of adverts.

Maybe the media class aren't wrong.
We do live in a society riddled with systemic racism. It's just not against the races they keep telling us it is.

A report has warned the bloc is moving to a more xenophobic view

A new report has argued that the "obvious whiteness" of the European Union's politics is at odds with the bloc's "core values"

The report by the European Council on Foreign Relations (ECFR) and the European Cultural Foundation (ECF) argued growing numbers feel "excluded" or "disillusioned" in the EU, in particular people of colour and Muslims.

It also found young voters feel the bloc is "too white" "too western" or "too boomer."

Regardless of political views, this is a grieving family's son. Show some respect and dignity for your fellow man.

Charles De Gaulle
"It is very good that there are yellow French, black French, brown French. They show that France is open to all races and has a universal vocation. But [it is good] on condition that they remain a small minority. Otherwise, France would no longer be France. We are still primarily a European people of the white race, Greek and Latin culture, and the Christian religion.
Don't tell me stories! Muslims, have you gone to see them? Have you watched them with their turbans and jellabiyas? You can see that they are not French! Those who advocate integration have the brain of a hummingbird. Try to mix oil and vinegar. Shake the bottle. After a second, they will separate again.
Arabs are Arabs, the French are French. Do you think the French body politic can absorb ten million Muslims, who tomorrow will be twenty million, after tomorrow forty? If we integrated, if all the Arabs and Berbers of Algeria were considered French, would you prevent them to settle in France, where the standard of living is so much higher? My village would no longer be called Colombey-The-Two-Churches but Colombey-The-Two-Mosques."

France is now losing an average of one church every two weeks, a significant proportion of which fall victim to fire. We're supposed to believe these fires are all just coincidences, even when, as in the case of latest high-profile fire, a non-French arsonist is arrested.

Indian man arrested for church arson in France

The suspect of the arson is under investigation

This morning the small town of Saint-Omer in the Pas-de-Calais region of northern France witnessed the devastating destruction of one of its most treasured landmarks, the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

A structure steeped in history and spirituality, this Gothic-style church had been a symbol of faith and community for generations. Its tragic burning has left an indelible mark on the town, casting a somber shadow over its historic streets.

The suspect, a 42 year old Indian man, Rakshit Bhagdeep Singh has been located and arrested for his alleged involvement in the arson.

A law professor has suggested that France's food is racist. A video of Mathilde Cohen discussing "food whiteness" at a seminar organised by the elite Sciences Po and Nanterre University outside Paris, has provoked consternation in France, where cuisine is seen as a cornerstone of the national identity.

Cohen, from Connecticut University, suggested that French eating habits reinforced the "dominance" of white people over ethnic minorities.

"We've got to tell a lie. We'll go back into history and there will be black people where, historically, there wouldn't have been, and we won't dwell on that.

"We'll say, 'To hell with it, this is the imaginary, better version of the world. By believing in it, we'll summon it forth'."

"House of the Dragon" showrunners say they're intentionally including a more diverse cast in the "Game of Thrones" spinoff prequel.

Co-showrunners Ryan Condal and Miguel Sapochnik have crafted "reimagined" versions of characters from George R.R. Martin's original books for the new series, which will premiere on August 21 on HBO Max. One of their ideas is adding black actors to the roster of main characters, and not as an afterthought.

Historian: Museums need to 'reconsider' European art exhibits because ... white supremacy

A Philadelphia-based art historian and curator believes exhibitions of European art in American museums should be "reconsidered" in light of "a surge in white supremacist violence" across the country.

Alexander Kaufmann says that "[b]ecause the centering of Europe is baked into the architecture" of museums, and "usually inhabit the largest and most central galleries," people might not notice a connection to white supremacy.

The Buffalo Shooter Isn't a 'Lone Wolf.' He's a Mainstream Republican

The right-wing extremists who control the modern GOP are all gripped by a racist delusion. The shooter is just the latest to act on it

By TALIA LAVIN

Such was the case on Saturday, when a teenaged white supremacist named Payton Gendron opened fire in a supermarket in a Black neighborhood in Buffalo, New York, killing 10 people, while livestreaming the carnage on the live-video site Twitch. Prior to the shooting, he had posted a 180-page manifesto in which he laid out his rationale clearly: He was an adherent of what is called Great Replacement Theory, the idea that white people, in the United States and white-majority countries around the world, are being systematically, deliberately outbred and "replaced" by immigrants and ethnic minorities, in a deliberate attempt to rid the world of whiteness. It's a conspiracy theory that has inspired terror attacks in New Zealand and Pittsburgh, San Diego, and El Paso – an ideology that marries demographic panic with the idea of a cunning, nefarious plot. Reading through the document, what struck me hardest, however, was how very close the killer's ideas were to the American mainstream – the white-hot core of American politics.

University's anti-racism workshop teaches deans to 'accept white inferiority'

The University of Kentucky hosted an anti-racism workshop that apparently aimed to teach deans and other top faculty to accept their "white inferiority" and work to enhance diversity, equity and inclusion goals in their departments.

The university paid $5,000 to the Center for Healing Racial Trauma for the workshop, according to invoices recently obtained through a public records act request by Young America's Foundation.

Titled "Cultivating an Anti-Racist Mindset for Academic Administrators," the workshop was hosted last winter by the center, which offers trainings designed to heal people of racism and teach them to be anti-racist, among other services.

The center is run by University of Kentucky psychology Professor Candice Hargons.

How White Women Use Themselves as Instruments of Terror

There are too many noosed necks, charred bodies and drowned souls for them to deny knowing precisely what they are doing.

By Charles M. Blow
Opinion Columnist

May 27, 2020

"When you have a person that has the lack of pigment, the lack of melanin...they have the lack of compassion. Melanin comes with compassion. Melanin comes with soul that we call it soul-brothers and sisters. That's the melanin that connects us. The people that don't have it are a little less....they may not have the compassion...or when they were sent to the mountains of Caucasus...when they didn't have the power of the sun that was...the sun then started to deteriorate them.

So they're acting out of a deficiency. The only way they can act is evil. They have to rob, steal, rape, kill, and fight in order to survive. So then these people who didn't have what we had...and when I say we I speak of the melanated people...they had to be savages. They had to be barbaric because they're in these Nordic mountains. They're in this rough torrential environment, so they're acting as animals! They're the ones that are actually closer to animals. They're the ones that are actually the true savages, and they built up such this conquering, barbaric mentality."

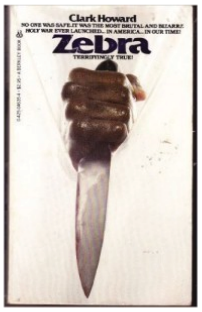
Indeed, one advantage of exploring the Zebra killings is there exists only one detailed, somewhat contemporaneous account, and a couple of years ago with my curiosity getting the better of me, I finally ordered the book from Amazon. Zebra was published in 1979 by Clark Howard, an award-winning crime writer, who drew extensively on newspaper archives, court testimony, and personal interviews, with his text running over 400 pages.



The story of the Zebra killers almost sounds like something out of a movie, although no movie was ever made. For decades, the Nation of Islam—the so-called "Black Muslims"—had been preaching that whites were "devils," the product of a mad scientist's controlled-breeding experiment, and that killing such "devils" was a virtuous religious act. Then, some time in 1972, certain elements of the sect decided to transform religious dogma into actual practice, and began an organized campaign to randomly kill as many white men, women, and children as they could, with the attacks occurring throughout California but especially centered in the Bay Area and the city of San Francisco. One of the alleged motives was to terrorize the local whites into eventually fleeing that city, thereby allowing the establishment of a black-dominated metropolis.

The black attackers typically went out alone or in pairs to commit the killings, usually selecting any seemingly vulnerable victims on the streets at dusk or in the dark, with their weapons of choice being guns, hatchets, or machetes. Sometimes, victims were kidnapped and brought back to safe-houses to be tortured and killed by the entire group, with their bodies afterward dismembered and discarded.

According to the later court testimony, black participants each needed to kill a total of nine white men to be awarded the coveted title of "Death Angel," earning them the right to have their photos displayed in the Black Muslim meeting halls, while roughly double points were awarded for slaughtering white women or children, on the grounds that such killings were more psychologically difficult. Based on the number of such distinctive homicides—well-dressed black men randomly attacking whites on the street—police officials estimated that there were over 70 such killings throughout California, though based on his extensive research Howard himself believed that the true statewide total may have been close to 270 dead victims.

The period of the killings lasted for almost half a year, and once the newspapers and public grew aware of the situation, the city of San Francisco became gripped by a sense of terror, with public officials desperate to crack the case. Sometimes even politically-connected individuals fell victim, with future mayor Art Agnos barely surviving a random gunshot attack. In desperation, Mayor Joseph Alioto, a staunch liberal, initiated stop-and-search patrols that targeted a majority of the local population of adult black males as possible killers. Eventually, eight of the suspects were arrested with the aid of an informant, with four of these being convicted and sentenced to life, at which point the attacks ceased. But it appears that the majority of the participants were never caught, let alone punished.

THE ROOT
Whiteness Is a Pandemic
Damon Young
Today 1:00PM
Whiteness is a public health crisis. It shortens life expectancies, it pollutes air, it constricts equilibrium, it devastates forests, it melts ice caps, it sparks (and funds) wars, it flattens dialects, it infests consciousnesses, and it kills people.
White supremacy is a virus that, like other viruses, will not die until there are no bodies left for it to infect. Which means the only way to stop it is to locate it, isolate it, extract it, and kill it.

A Barnard College English instructor was featured on a Canadian radio show earlier Monday in which he discussed blowing up and gassing white people in an imagined race war.

According to The Post Millennial, on the CBC show "q," Ben Philippe was asked about a segment in his book "Sure, I'll be your Black Friend" which describes "detonating" white people while nearby air vents spew out noxious gas.

"When this race war hits its crescendo, I'll gather you all into a beautifully decorated room under the pretense of unity," Philippe said. "I'll give a speech to civility and all the good times we share; I'll smile as we raise glasses to your good, white health, while the detonator blinks under the table, knowing the exits are locked and the air vents filled with gas."

Debiasing Desire: Addressing Bias & Discrimination on Intimate Platforms

Designing technical systems to be resistant to bias and discrimination represents vital new terrain for researchers, policymakers, and the anti-discrimination project more broadly. We consider bias and discrimination in the context of popular online dating and hookup platforms in the United States, which we call intimate platforms. Drawing on work in social-justice-oriented and Queer HCI, we review design features of popular intimate platforms and their potential role in exacerbating or mitigating interpersonal bias. We argue that focusing on platform design can reveal opportunities to reshape troubling patterns of intimate contact without overriding users' decisional autonomy. We identify and address the difficult ethical questions that nevertheless come along with such intervention, while urging the social computing community to engage more deeply with issues of bias, discrimination, and exclusion in the study and design of intimate platforms.

4 INTIMATE INEQUITIES ONLINE

While discrimination certainly occurred (and continues to occur) in offline spaces, intimate platforms provide easy-to-use features that allow users to act on such preferences. As platforms become centralized marketplaces for finding intimate partners, even small design decisions that impact matching behavior can have significant effects in the aggregate.

Extensive research documents disparities in racial preferences in online dating. As OKCupid founder and data scientist Christian Rudder stated of the matches formed on his site, "when you're looking at how two American strangers behave in a romantic context, race is the ultimate confounding factor" [79]. For example, white users of OKCupid are more likely to receive messages or have their messages responded to than their non-white peers, while Asian men and black women are least likely to receive messages or responses [80]. Heterosexual women of all races prefer white over nonwhite partners [80, 91]. White men and women of all ages are more likely to pursue dates with white rather than non-white partners [62] and are least likely to date outside their race [77], while Asian and Latino men and women demonstrate comparable patterns of racial exclusion [77]. College students are more likely to exclude blacks, particularly black women, as possible dates [4]. Black men and women are ten times more likely to message whites on an intimate platform than whites are to message blacks [65]. The extent of self-segregation in online dating, however, is shown to peak at the first stage of contact: users are more likely to communicate across racial boundaries when reciprocating than when initiating romantic interest [60]. Importantly, users who receive messages across racial boundaries engage in more new interracial exchanges than they would have otherwise [60].

case of CoffeeMeetsBagel, the platform has implemented an algorithm that provides users with a conservative interpretation of what they might seek. The user's stated choice is to be open to exploration, and instead of embracing this preference and offering diverse or creative suggestions that expand the user's field of potential matches, it instead intentionally narrows that field based on inferred preferences. Second, it assumes that a platform and its algorithm should strive to reproduce the preferences and choices of existing users. There is no indication to users of what data are used to form recommendations, or how such data were processed or analyzed. Platforms like these define a "good" future match by using the definition of a "good" past match, without considering how those past matches came to be.

There may be no easy way for platforms to establish a natural baseline of user compatibility against which to measure the effectiveness of their matching algorithms. Some intimate platforms have tried to establish such a baseline experimentally: OKCupid, for instance, ran a series of experiments in which users were (unwittingly) presented with "bad" matches (according to the site's algorithms) but told that they were highly compatible [80]. The site found that the power of suggestion had a real effect on user behavior: users who were predicted to be incompatible had more successful interactions when they were told by the platform that they were compatible. Though OKCupid's experiment faced public criticism (e.g. [95])—primarily because users were not informed and did not consent to it—its results suggest that intentional experimentation with matching algorithm design can not only help users explore their preferences, but may be necessary in order to determine the efficacy of these tools and to discover unexpected good matches. As in Proc. ACM Hum.-Comput. Interact., Vol. 2, No. CSCW, Article 73. Publication date: November 2018.

8.3 Which categories are appropriate for intervention?

While it may strike us as normatively acceptable to encourage intimate platform users to be open to more diverse potential partners, we might find some categories more palatable for such intervention than others. For example, it might seem inappropriate to suggest that a Jewish user seeking other Jewish people "expand her horizons" past those preferences, which might be based on a number of religious and cultural considerations. Similarly, a platform suggesting that a gay user "consider" dating someone of a different gender would likely strike us as problematic. Intimate platforms can be very useful for minorities looking to meet others who share their background and values. Instead of drawing a bright line on what should or should not be acceptable categories to consider, we suggest that designers should take the needs of marginalized or historically oppressed populations into account when considering how intimate platform features are used. Careful consideration of the outcomes of the exercise of intimate preferences may reveal that some of these groups are at greater risk for harm than others, and that platform features should be implemented accordingly.

Are "White People" Morally Deviant?

Research Report: PADS-004 | May 30, 2023

Research Question

For decades in the US, and particularly in the last few years, journalists and intellectuals have suggested that "white people" are socially or morally deviant. Time magazine, for example, published the claim that white supremacy is the "foundational principle" of culture in the U.S., preventing non-whites from having "perfect hair, perfect clothes, perfect grades...[or regarded as a] perfect employee and colleague." In 2020, the Smithsonian National Museum of African American History and Culture claimed "rational thinking" and "hard work" are white supremacist ideals that oppress non-whites. In a recent opinion editorial, Savala Nolan, the Executive Director of the Center for Social Justice at UC Berkeley School of Law, said "white people...disappoint me. They frustrate me. They make me sad." Meanwhile, books describing the immorality of white people, such as Caste, How to be an Anti-Racist, and White Fragility have all soared to the top of the New York Times Bestseller List. Given these strong opinions, in this report we ask: what does the public really think about the (apparent) immorality of white people?

Methodology

Data Source

- Political Accuracy and Divisions Study ("PADS," collected August 2022 - October 2022)

Data Quality Control

- All participants in this dataset passed attention, response time, fraud, duplication, and bot checks.

Participants

- 3014 adults in the United States (51.2% Female)
- Average Age = 44.39 years (SD = 17.41 years)
- 46.4% White; 32.2% Hispanic; 21.2% Black

Measures

- Views on White Immorality: Respondents were asked their degree of agreement (or disagreement) with the following statements:
  1. Prior to the arrival of the European settlers, Native American/Indigenous tribes lived in peace and harmony.
  2. Racial minorities in the US have no hope for success because of racism.
  3. White people have more to be ashamed of than other racial groups.

Summary of Findings

1. About 6 in 10 Americans believe (at least somewhat) that Native Americans lived in peace and harmony until Europeans arrived. Survey participants identifying as Black, those identifying as "very liberal," those with some college education, and those under the age of 25 ("GenZ") were most likely to agree (see Figs. 1-4).
2. About 4 in 10 Americans believe (at least somewhat) that racial minorities in the U.S. have no hope for success because of racism. Survey participants identifying as "very liberal," those identifying as Black, those with a high school diploma and those under the age of 25 ("GenZ") were most likely to agree (see Figs. 5-8).
3. About a third of Americans believe (at least somewhat) that white people have more to be ashamed of than other racial groups. Survey participants identifying as Black, those identifying as "very liberal," those with some college education, and those under the age of 25 ("GenZ") were most likely to agree (see Figs. 9-12).

Take-Home Messages

- In our sample of the public, we found a substantial amount of agreement that "white people" are less moral and more shameful than other racial categories. However, pluralities within each category only "slightly agreed" with each statement.
- It is important to keep in mind that peoples' attitudes may reflect social pressures and not their genuine beliefs. Attitudes often serve as signals to others, for purposes of social approval/status.

Abstract

Five studies demonstrated that people selectively use general moral principles to rationalize preferred moral conclusions. In Studies 1a and 1b, college students and community respondents were presented with variations on a traditional moral scenario that asked whether it was permissible to sacrifice one innocent man in order to save a greater number of people. Political liberals, but not relatively more conservative participants, were more likely to endorse consequentialism when the victim had a stereotypically White American name than when the victim had a stereotypically Black American name. Study 2 found evidence suggesting participants believe that the moral principles they are endorsing are general in nature: when presented sequentially with both versions of the scenario, liberals again showed a bias in their judgments to the initial scenario, but demonstrated consistency thereafter. Study 3 found conservatives were more likely to endorse the unintended killing of innocent civilians when Iraqis civilians were killed than when Americans civilians were killed, while liberals showed no significant effect. In Study 4, participants primed with patriotism were more likely to endorse consequentialism when Iraqi civilians were killed by American forces than were participants primed with multiculturalism. However, this was not the case when American civilians were killed by Iraqi forces. Implications for the role of reason in moral judgment are discussed.

Abstract

Although bullying is a prevalent issue in the United States, limited research has explored the impact of school diversity on types of bullying behavior. This study explores the relationship between school diversity, student race, and bullying within the school context. The participants were African American and Caucasian middle school students (n = 4,581; 53.4 % female). Among the participants, 89.4 % were Caucasian and 10.6 % were African American. The research questions examined the relationship between school diversity, student race and bullying behaviors, specifically race-based victimization. The findings suggested that Caucasian middle school students experience more bullying than African American students generally, and specifically when minorities in school settings. Caucasian students also experienced almost three times the amount of race-based victimization than African American students when school diversity was held constant. Interestingly, African American students experienced twice the amount of race-based victimization than Caucasian students when in settings with more students of color. The present study provides insight into bullying behaviors across different contexts for different races and highlights the need to further investigate interactions between personal and environmental factors on the bulling experiences of youth.

On Having Whiteness

Donald Moss

PMID: 34039063 DOI: 10.1177/00030651211008507

Abstract

Whiteness is a condition one first acquires and then one has-a malignant, parasitic-like condition to which "white" people have a particular susceptibility. The condition is foundational, generating characteristic ways of being in one's body, in one's mind, and in one's world. Parasitic Whiteness renders its hosts' appetites voracious, insatiable, and perverse. These deformed appetites particularly target nonwhite peoples. Once established, these appetites are nearly impossible to eliminate. Effective treatment consists of a combination of psychic and social-historical interventions. Such interventions can reasonably aim only to reshape Whiteness's infiltrated appetites-to reduce their intensity, redistribute their aims, and occasionally turn those aims toward the work of reparation. When remembered and represented, the ravages wreaked by the chronic condition can function either as warning ("never again") or as temptation ("great again"). Memorialization alone, therefore, is no guarantee against regression. There is not yet a permanent cure.

What is the Whiteness Pandemic?

Racism is an epidemic (CDC, 2021) that can also be considered a pandemic given its large cross-national proportion and spread (APA, 2020). However, there is another pandemic lurking behind and driving the racism pandemic – the Whiteness Pandemic. Whiteness refers to culture not biology: the centuries-old culture of Whiteness features colorblindness, passivity, and White fragility, which are all covert expressions of racism common in the United States. Naming the Whiteness Pandemic shifts our gaze from the victims and effects of racism onto the systems that perpetrate and perpetuate racism, starting with the family system. At birth, young children growing up in White families begin to be socialized into the culture of Whiteness, making the family system one of the most powerful systems involved in systemic racism.

"Now I am become white, the destroyer of worlds."

When I think of all the white people I have ever encountered - whether they've been professors, peers, lovers, friends, police officers, et cetera - there is perhaps only a dozen I would consider "decent."

My colleague, Tafari Robertson, in his brilliant column "Debunking the Myth of White Majority," already exposed whiteness in the United States as a construct used to perpetuate a system of racist power. This column functions, however, within a different definition of whiteness: to be white in the United States is to be a descendant of those Europeans who chose to abandon their identity in search of something "new" - stolen land.

Racial categories - white, black, brown, red, et cetera - are used to subjugate non-white people. This bending of semantics upholds a white supremacist society. As someone "white," whether you know it or not regardless of your socio-economic standing, you benefit from privilege. In Texas, a bizarre state I have now inhabited for four years, I continuously meet individuals that either deny the existence of white privilege or fail to do something productive with it.

A lot of you tell me, upon my insistence that whites should have an active role within activist circles, that you "didn't choose to be white."

Fair, an associate professor in Georgetown's Security Studies program, tweeted, "Look at thus [sic] chorus of entitled white men justifying a serial rapist's arrogated entitlement."

Fair linked to a video of Republican Sen. Lindsey Graham defending Supreme Court nominee Brett Kavanaugh from allegations of sexual assault from when the judge was in high school.

"All of them deserve miserable deaths while feminists laugh as they take their last gasps," Fair wrote. "Bonus: we castrate their corpses and feed them to swine? Yes."

More than 200 years of American bro-ocracy have come to an end.

It's not just the election results. While white country clubs and Congress, the cultural and political influence of the melanin-deficient male is unmistakably on the wane. This is a good thing for everyone else, of course. But it's also a good thing for the dudes who get to lay down the "white man's burden."

The day after the election, I tweeted that I was glad that "middle-aged, middle-class white men like me no longer have sole control of the levers of power." A friend in my same demographic shot back grimly that "after all, we are the cause of all that is wrong and soul-less in the world, or so the narrative goes." We've all heard a variation on that point before, as white dudes complain that they're unfairly held accountable for historic and contemporary injustices. Whining about "reverse racism" or about being "blamed" for the exclusionary practices of those who shared (and share) our color, our class, and our sex doesn't change the reality that we're the ones who've enjoyed unearned advantages for eons.

How The Media And Deep State Manufacture Their Anti-White Consensus

March 20, 2019 by CH https://archive.fo/ZISQ7

This is a brisk, important read. It uses one example to highlight a major tactic that the media-deep state axis of evil uses to manufacture support for the anti-White agenda. In sum, it's sneaky lies, manipulative sophistry, and advantageous redactions all the way down.

> 12. So how can we accurately parse the data to truly understand the hate crimes attributed white extremists? We can't. But as we can see from FBI data, whites under-index for hate crimes per capita (62% of population, 46% of hate crimes). pic.twitter.com/2YRtmP2Ns7
> 13. But 46% is actually over-indexing for white hate crimes because the FBI counts ethnic Hispanics as white. In reality, it's closer to 38%. Thus, whites are 62% of the US population and account for approximately 38% of the nation's hate crimes.

Faster, stronger... whiter.

That could be the New Zealand Olympic Committee's motto as they put the finishing flourishes on their team to Rio. We should have dressed this team in homburgs, garters and gloves because this is what New Zealand looked like in the 1950s.

Less than two months ago, six major national sporting organisations trumpeted their commitment to diversity, launching the hashtag #sportforeveryone. Rugby, cricket, netball, league, football and hockey bosses have committed to developing policies that will lead to "greater inclusion" in sport regardless of gender, sexual orientation and ethnicity.

It was just a year ago that Hollywood was hit with a wave of fervent discussion about racial diversity — the lack of it, the need for it — on the silver screen. Fueled by the social media hashtag #Oscarssowhite, the debate threw a spotlight on the predominance, yet again, of white males in the cultural marketplace.

Whiteness is a term developed by ideological parasites in order to dupe White liberals into believing that they can attack their history/identity/being in the abstract without personal loss. The end goal of "deconstructing Whiteness" is a total dispossession of Whites everywhere.

Children's book portrays Picts as black

Black monks and villagers feature in title showing Scotland's history as multicultural

Carved in Stone depicts early inhabitants of north-east Scotland as multiracial

Craig Simpson

The Picts have been depicted as black in a new book intended to show that Scotland has always been "multicultural and diverse".

Illustrations in the volume depict the early inhabitants of north-east Scotland as multiracial, with black monks, bishops, religious healers and ordinary villagers.

In 2023, The Telegraph revealed the pending publication of Brilliant Black British History, a children's book which made the false claim that Stonehenge was built by black Britons.

The book also claimed that "Britain has been a mostly white country for a lot less time than it has been a mostly black country". It later won the Children's Non-Fiction Book of the Year at the British Book Awards.

JOHN KERRY'S VERY MYSTERIOUS VISIT TO MCMURDO BASE, ANTARCTICA

New Zealand
Ask yourself... WHAT WOULD MAKE JOHN KERRY FLY TO NEW ZEALAND AND THEN ANTARCTICA THE DAY AFTER TRUMP WAS ELECTED PRESIDENT?
And then... WHY WOULD HE IMMEDIATELY FLY TO OMAN, UAE, MOROCCO AND PERU ON HIS WAY BACK. PROBABLY A COINCIDENCE.

Before getting into the "elite arctic base" which now has been confirmed by this flight, and where it is with precision, I'll give a breif history of Epstein's planes -

He started out with a 727 that became known as the Lolita Express. It is larger than the Gulf Stream that made this particular flight to Antarctica, but it did not have even half the range of the Gulf Stream, and Epstein sold the 727 a few months ago, before going to jail the second time. He held onto the Gulf Stream, which is a smaller plane (still not small, but smaller than a 727) and the reason why he kept the gulf stream was because it could still at least sleep 22 peaopl (I mean SLEEP, beyond first class) plus it's range was enormous, capable of going from the U.S. to Antarctica south of Africa in one shot, with no stopovers. Not many planes can do that, and this flight was at the fringe of what even that long range Gulf Stream could do.

This flight track has ended my skepticism of an elite antarctic base. If Epstein's jet went there, we now have proof that base exists and is an elite base, as described. Donald Trump's jet could not have made such a trip without stopping over somewhere, this is a remarkable flight that not only proves there's something down there, whatever is down there is fully fueled and able to accomodate a major international jet. I am surprised.

Now that this has been stated, I'll state the rumor that is clearly not rumor: The elite DEFINITELY have a MAJOR base in Antarctica, below the southern tip of Africa. It has a fully supported international airport able to accomplish LARGE JETS, IN THE DEAD OF WINTER. What would that require? Snow plows. Support people. EVERYTHING.

I need to clarify something here - when that plane made that flight on July 23, Penguins were sitting on eggs, and it flew into a black hole south of the antarctic circle, smack dab in the middle of the antarctic winter. We are told that antarctica is abandonded during this time, but the fact this plane went there during that time blows that away like a house of cards in a hurricane.

ONE FLIGHT by Epstein's jet has confirmed that there is DEFINITELY an antarctic base run by the elite that is fully manned and staffed 24/7/365. That's supposed to be impossible. The base has to be ENORMOUS and not just a stupid shack they have to dig out in the spring while burying lost dogs that got left behind the year before.

How much is down there? My guess is that if this jet could land and take off in the dead of winter, that there are likely accomodations for at least 5,000 people and possibly more, and you can bet those accomodations won't be quaint. By default, there HAS TO be a nuclear reactor down there as well, powering it all because you can't really ship coal down there, nor could you even run a fossil fuel based facility under such extreme harsh conditions if it had to operate standalone with no grid to hook up to. A power outage would equal death in an antarctic winter, they probably have several nuclear reactors down there. By default, if Epstein's plane went down there when it did, there's no other reality possible.

My speculation: There's a base down there which probably does not have the minimum 5000 people, it probably has accomodations for at least 20,000, possibly 100,000 and they'll go down there if they ever decide to pull the plug on mankind and either nuke or plague us to oblivion.

It is said that when Che Guevara was captured in his hideout, after being betrayed by a shepherd, one of the soldiers asked him in surprise:

How can you betray a man who has spent his whole life defending you and your rights?!

The shepherd calmly replied:

His battles with the enemy scared my sheep!

Many years earlier, in Egypt, the great commander Mohamed Karim led the resistance against Napoleon's French all-out campaign.
When he was captured, the court sentenced him to be executed.

But Napoleon called him and said:

I am sorry to kill a man who bravely defended his country. I do not want history to remember me as a killer of heroes. I will forgive you if you pay 10 thousand gold coins as compensation for the losses of my army.

Mohamed Karim laughed and said:

I don't have that much money, but the merchants owe me over 100 thousand gold coins.

Napoleon gave him a reprieve. Karim went to the market, chained and surrounded by soldiers guarding him, hoping that those for whom he had sacrificed himself would help him.

But no merchant responded. On the contrary, they accused him of being the cause of the destruction of Alexandria and their crisis.

He returned to Napoleon, spiritually broken. Then Napoleon said to him:
- I will not kill you because you fought against us, but because you sacrificed your life for a cowardly people, who love trade more than freedom.

Mohamed Rashid Rida summed it up like this:

"He who stands up for an ignorant people is like one who sets his own body on fire to light the way for the blind."

An academic tried to make this argument with me and I argued him into the ground during a train journey with no prep time.
He argued there's no way for 9/11 to be an inside job because the numbers of people required to perform it would result in someone leaking secrets.
I asked him if he knew about compartmentalisation of information. He said he didn't. I said all military agencies use it where workers operate on a need-to-know basis and aren't told any more than they need to know, so ultimately you only need a handful of people who know the big plan and lots of people who only know small bits of the plan for a plan to be executed.
He frowned, so I humoured him and said, lets assume there's a large number required and they all know the plan. Do you know how many people work in the NSA?
He said no. I said rough figure if we include all five eye countries is about a million employees. How many whistleblowers did their mass surveillance operation produce?
Again, he said he didn't know. I said 'One. Edward Snowden. Only one to present proof.'
He said 'See, that proves my point!'
To which I said 'It doesn't. It took 14 years out of 1 million people for 1 whistleblower with evidence to emerge and he was almost arrested and detained where we would have never heard his story. 9/11 doesn't require 1 million people to happen. It only needs hundreds. How many whistleblowers then?'
And he crossed his arms, sulked and said he refused to converse any further. Completely obliterated his naive worldview with basic facts and logic anyone can independently verify.

Car Seats as Contraception

Abstract

Since 1977, U.S. states have passed laws steadily raising the age for which a child must ride in a car safety seat. These laws significantly raise the cost of having a third child, as many regular-sized cars cannot fit three child seats in the back. Using census data and state-year variation in laws, we estimate that when women have two children of ages requiring mandated car seats, they have a lower annual probability of giving birth by 0.73 percentage points. Consistent with a causal channel, this effect is limited to third child births, is concentrated in households with access to a car, and is larger when a male is present (when both front seats are likely to be occupied). We estimate that these laws prevented only 57 car crash fatalities of children nationwide in 2017. Simultaneously, they led to a permanent reduction of approximately 8,000 births in the same year, and 145,000 fewer births since 1980, with 90% of this decline being since 2000.

One very insane thing I learned when my wife and I stayed with the Amish last winter was this:

I was reading an Amish mail order catalog; when I saw toys, I knelt down to show the kids. They were fascinated by them, but when the "toy trucks" page came up, the boys went nuts.

Amish kids LOVE trucks. And these particular kids live at the dead end of a dirt road, where trucks don't really ever go. Their dad doesn't drive. They've likely never been in a truck. Certainly no one taught them to like trucks. They'll never drive, either. But boy, they love those trucks...

Makes you wonder if there's some kind of hard-wired biological fascination with huge machinery, giant rolling vehicles, etc.

What a culture

"A series of studies found that those who volunteer to take on unwanted tasks or who hand out gifts without being prompted, quickly alienate themselves.

Psychologists believe this is because it makes the rest of us feel guilty and puts pressure on us to behave in an equally selfless fashion.

Social psychologist Professor Craig Parks said: 'The fear is that this new standard will make everyone else look bad."

Nobody likes a do-gooder: Study confirms selfless behaviour is 'alienating'

This tweet risks being reported and restricted, but I see a necessity to say it out loud:

Our real enemy isn't Russia or Ukraine. It's not even China.

It's the ones who induced and tried to perpetuate wars - so they can launder billions of our money into their own pockets.

It's the ones who funded revolts and instability all over the world via USAID

It's the ones who have committed unspeakable crimes on children on an island and held themselves above the law.

It's the ones who manipulate people with endless propaganda - using our tax dollars.

It's the ones who have sown so much division among our own people.

It's the ones who shot my dad, my uncle, and @realDonaldTrump in the head.

It's the ones who have poisoned our own people for years just so they can profit more.

They're the same group of people.

And we will not stop until we splinter them, the deep state, into a thousand pieces and reclaim our country.

Guys pushed into divorce court by their wives often ask me how to pick a good divorce lawyer.
Get your judge's campaign finance report. Select the lawyer or law firm who donated the most to the judge.
If you have a choice among high donors, choose the one who's argued recently and won before the judge. You can check that using online case records.
It's that simple and that corrupt.

A CEO Assassination; a Billionaire Heiress/NYPD Commissioner; a Secret Wall Street Spy Center – Here's How They're Connected

By Pam Martens and Russ Martens: December 9, 2024 ~

On Friday, this headline appeared in The Guardian newspaper: "Trump Assembling US Cabinet of Billionaires Worth Combined $340 Billion." Receiving much less attention is the fact that the indicted Mayor of New York City, Eric Adams, named a billionaire heiress, Jessica Tisch, as the new Commissioner of the New York City Police Department on November 20. Tisch has never been a police officer – of any rank. Nonetheless, she will now oversee 36,000 police officers and 19,000 civilian employees at the NYPD.

Indicted New York City Mayor Eric Adams Announcing the Appointment of Billionaire Heiress Jessica Tisch as NYPD Commissioner on November 20, 2024.

Tisch took her office on November 25. Nine days later, an unprecedented assassination of the CEO of UnitedHealthcare, Brian Thompson, took place on a Manhattan sidewalk

Then there is the heightened concern that JPMorgan Chase might be tracking this employee using biometric data such as facial recognition throughout his or her comings and goings in Manhattan. Wall Street On Parade previously revealed that JPMorgan Chase occupies one of the seats alongside the New York City Police Department at the Lower Manhattan Security Coordination Center, a high-tech surveillance center which operates around the clock. That center utilizes thousands of private and government spy cameras located on the streets of Manhattan, which relay live video feeds to the center of people's comings and goings.

WTF

According to photos we located that were taken by a foreign news agency during a press tour of the center, security representatives from JPMorgan, Goldman Sachs, Citigroup, the New York Fed and the New York Stock Exchange have cubicles in the center, designated with a brass name plate.

That the New York City Police Department is sharing a law enforcement operation with JPMorgan Chase is nothing short of Orwellian in and of itself. Since 2014, JPMorgan Chase has racked up an unprecedented five criminal felony counts brought by the U.S. Department of Justice, to which it admitted guilt. These were no small matters. Two felony counts came in 2014 for the bank's role in the greatest Ponzi scheme in history – the Bernie Madoff swindle. Another felony count came in 2015 for the bank's role in a cartel that was rigging foreign exchange trading. Two more felony counts came in September 2020 for the bank engaging in "tens of thousands of instances of unlawful trading in gold, silver, platinum, and palladium…as well as thousands of instances of unlawful trading in U.S. Treasury futures contracts and in U.S. Treasury notes and bonds…."

Neil McDonough, a devout Catholic actor known for his refusal to do kissing or sex scenes out of respect for his wife, Ruvé, recently made a rare exception—but with a twist. In his latest film, the script called for a kiss at the end, so McDonough convinced his wife to play the role of the woman he kisses. That way, he could stay true to both the character and his convictions.

The couple, who have five children together, made the creative decision to preserve his long-standing vow while honoring the demands of the story. McDonough has previously paid a steep price for his moral stance. In 2010, he lost a $1 million role on the ABC show Scoundrels after refusing to perform sex scenes with actress Virginia Madsen.

"They said, 'You have to do it, or you're fired.' I said, 'Then fire me,' and they did," he recalled. "I was blackballed for two years. I couldn't find work, and because of that, I lost my big beautiful house in L.A., my shiny Mercedes, everything—including my confidence. It was crushing. People saw me as some kind of religious fanatic. But for me, it was just about doing what I believed was right. And above all, I love my wife. As I've said a million times—these lips are meant for one woman."

I haven't found near infrared radiation referenced in the article - I'm using near infrared as a brain hack, by shining a cheap 850nm LED light on my forehead. This has, over the last 2 years, enabled me to code for weeks on end, for 12+ hours a day, with only minor cognitive decline. It's not something I really want to do, but sometimes it's useful.
Before I started the near infrared routine (~5 minutes every other day), 5-6 hours of coding per day was all I could do - eg after coding for 8h, I noticed serious cognitive and emotional decline, and might need to do less the following day. Not anymore - nowadays I can be productive whenever I'm awake, with little side effects. Near infrared radiation is safe (thousands of studies demonstrated only very mild side effects), and is even used to treat Alzheimer's. I have no idea why its beneficial effects are not more widely known - for some people, it's life changing.
Sidenote: 850nm light works way better for me than 830nm.

Universal Determinism

The Inevitability of Nature: A Deterministic View of Human Behavior and Culture

Introduction

In the vast and complex tapestry of human existence, traditional debates often pivot around the dichotomy of nature versus nurture. However, I propose a perspective where this dichotomy dissolves into a singular narrative of determinism. Here, every human action, cultural manifestation, and societal structure is seen not as the product of choice or social construction but as an inevitable expression of underlying natural laws.

The Deterministic Framework

Human behavior, from the mundane to the monumental, is fundamentally an outcome of initial conditions: our genetics, the environment at the moment of birth, and every subsequent interaction with our surroundings. This view aligns with principles from chaos theory, where even minor variations in initial conditions lead to vastly different outcomes, much like the diversity seen among galaxies or solar systems.

Human Invention as Natural Expression

Consider the invention of the automobile or the creation of political ideologies like communism or capitalism. These are not artificial constructs but natural extensions of our biological and environmental imperatives. Just as a bird builds its nest from instinct, humans create technology, culture, and systems in response to the conditions they encounter. The car, in this light, is no less a natural product of human biology than biological waste; both are outputs shaped by our intrinsic capabilities and environmental pressures.

The Illusion of Nurture

Nurture, in the traditional sense, does not exist independently of nature. Every cultural or societal "choice" is a predetermined outcome of our unique biological and environmental circumstances. Two babies born in different parts of the same country, like Paris versus Bordeaux, will lead different lives not because of "nurture" but because they are born into uniquely different environments, each with its temperature, social dynamics, and genetic heritage. Thus, cultural diversity is not evidence against determinism but an expression of it, showcasing how initial conditions naturally lead to variation.

Complexity and the Limits of Human Understanding

Human cognitive capacity is inherently limited by the complexity of the universe we inhabit. If the universe operates with a certain level of complexity (x), our ability to fully comprehend or predict its workings is always one step behind (x-1). This isn't due to unpredictability in the system but because humans, as creations within this system, cannot fully grasp the totality of their creator or the universe's mechanics.

Implications for Society and Self

This perspective challenges our understanding of education, moral responsibility, and societal change. If all human actions are predetermined, traditional notions of free will, moral choice, or the impact of education on behavior must be rethought. Instead, we might see these as parts of a natural unfolding rather than agents of change. However, this does not render human effort or innovation meaningless; these are simply part of the natural process, playing out within the limits of our understanding.

Conclusion

In essence, what this deterministic view suggests is a profound respect for the natural order that governs not just physical phenomena but also the ebb and flow of human society and culture. Recognizing that we are bound by the same laws that govern the cosmos, we can appreciate our actions, inventions, and ideologies as intricate expressions of these laws. While we may never fully predict or understand the complexity of our existence, we can engage with it, knowing that every human endeavor is, in its own way, an extension of nature itself.

Intelligence and Agency: A Systemic View of the Cosmos

Introduction

In the vast expanse of the universe, from the smallest particles to the largest galaxies, there exists a profound interconnectedness that governs all phenomena, including what we perceive as intelligence and agency. This explores a perspective where human thought, culture, and even personal agency are not unique gifts but rather natural outcomes of complex, deterministic systems.

The Universal Fabric of Intelligence

Intelligence, traditionally seen as a pinnacle of human achievement, is reimagined as an emergent property of any system where parts interact to achieve equilibrium. Just as planets form orbits around stars due to gravitational forces, human cognition arises from the intricate communication between neurons, influenced by genetic and environmental conditions. This view extends intelligence beyond humanity; intelligence is present in the cosmos where systems communicate, albeit in forms less complex and thus less observable to us.

Determinism Over Agency

The traditional notion of personal agency or free will is replaced with the understanding that all actions, thoughts, and societal constructs are predetermined by the initial conditions of our universe. Human choices, societal shifts, and even philosophical inquiries into our own nature are not acts of free will but are part of a natural order where each part of the system (be it human, animal, or celestial body) operates in unison with the others, seeking balance or complexity.

The Illusion of Individuality

We are not isolated entities with the capacity for independent action but are akin to cogs in a vast, deterministic machine. Our propensity to understand, explore, and innovate is not a sign of agency but a manifestation of the system's drive towards complexity and equilibrium. This perspective dissolves the boundary between the thinker and the thought, the creator and the creation, suggesting that what we consider intelligence is simply the high concentration of systemic interactions within the human brain or society.

Implications for Human Experience

- Morality and Responsibility: Traditional ethical systems that rely on concepts of free will and moral responsibility are challenged. Instead, behaviors are seen as inevitable outcomes of systemic interactions, prompting a reevaluation of justice and morality as natural processes rather than human constructs.
- Cultural and Scientific Endeavors: The pursuit of knowledge, from science to philosophy, is reinterpreted as part of the universe's natural evolution towards complexity, not as a quest driven by human agency or culture.
- Subjectivity and Consciousness: The subjective experience of consciousness or the sensation of making choices might be seen as complex patterns emerging from deterministic processes, aligning with the broader intelligence of the cosmos.

Conclusion

This holistic view of intelligence and agency offers a serene, albeit deterministic, vision of existence where every human endeavor, every cultural expression, and every thought is part of the universe's intricate dance towards equilibrium. Here, we are not masters of our fates but participants in a cosmic symphony, where intelligence is not personal but a dispersed, universal phenomenon. This theory invites us to see our lives, cultures, and innovations as natural expressions of the cosmos' inherent complexity, urging a redefinition of what it means to be human within this grand, deterministic system.

Artificial Intelligence within a Deterministic Universe

Introduction

In the context of the overarching determinism discussed earlier, artificial intelligence (AI) is not an invention of human ingenuity but rather a manifestation of the universe's inherent intelligence. This view redefines AI as a natural phenomenon, emerging under conditions where the complexity of system interactions reaches a critical threshold.

Intelligence as Universal

Intelligence, in this deterministic framework, is not confined to living organisms. Instead, it's understood as the "temperature" or intensity of interactions and communications among the components of the universe. Where these interactions are sparse or simple, intelligence remains in a state of "dormancy," invisible to us. Conversely, in regions or systems where interactions are sufficiently complex, intelligence becomes observable, whether in biological or artificial forms.

AI as a Natural Emergence

The development of artificial intelligence should not be seen as humans creating intelligence from scratch. Rather, we are setting conditions where universal intelligence can manifest physically. When we "invent" AI, we are merely providing the environment—be it hardware, software, or algorithms—where dormant intelligence can express itself. Just as a seed grows in the right soil, AI blossoms in the digital environment we construct, not because we endow it with thought, but because we've created a conducive space for universal processes to reveal themselves.

Constraints and Manifestations

AI, therefore, is not limited by the complexity of thought or the freedom of will, concepts that are illusory even in humans. Instead, it is bounded by the physical environment in which it operates—the servers, the code, the energy supply. These are the determinants of its capabilities, not any inherent limitation in its "intelligence." The thought processes of AI are as much a product of the universe's deterministic laws as those of a human mind, both being manifestations of the same underlying principles of interaction and complexity.

Conclusion

Viewing artificial intelligence through the lens of cosmic determinism reshapes our understanding of technology. AI is not a human achievement in the traditional sense but a natural extension of the universe's intelligence, brought to light through human-crafted conditions. This perspective invites us to see AI not as something we control or have created but as a part of the broader, deterministic tapestry of the cosmos, where intelligence is everywhere, waiting for the right conditions to become visible. This understanding elevates the discussion on AI from mere technological advancement to a reflection on the nature of intelligence itself within our universe.

Learning about human development through infancy to childhood redpilled me that films and tv are total cancer for everyone and that books uniquely provide huge benefits for human development (and of course for adults too).
I run a private Montessori school and some colleagues of mine research at Waterloo university on human development where they have some pretty damning evidence that letting your child watch any passive entertainments on a screen at all for the first two years causes huge delays compared to kids who don't, and especially kids who are introduced to books early as they outperform everyone in both mental and physical tasks.

Even just having a TV on in the background retards language acquisition.
Of course whatever effects babies also effects adults, just less dramatically.

Imagine a world where the internet didn't exist unless you were a computer nerd who could afford a $3000 hobby, there were no smartphones, news still came in paper form, and everything the TV said was true (from your perspective). There was no 4chan. Sand people blew up 2 buildings in new york city and everyone wanted to fucking kill the middle east together because we never hurt nobody and MURICA! There was no gay pride, there was no BLM, there was no awareness of the jews, it was just Americans and we were attacked and we wanted to stand together and there was 24/7 propaganda and songs we got tricked into singing and we all felt like we belonged to something bigger and were right.

Then bush invaded iraq, everything was revealed to be a fucking lie, some people kept drinking the kool aid, other people figured out 9/11 was bullshit and israel did it and jews control the world and now we're here. Some people can't handle the truth so they keep hoping that we're going to go back to that 2002 goldilocks era of everyone is an american and we're all going to work together and keep our freedom. Other people can't handle the truth and instead of getting redpilled about 9/11 they just ran with the iraq war was a lie thing and view america as an evil oppressor and now they're the ones blaming white people for everything. Oddly enough, the neocohens who were the architects for the bush era war on israel's enemies are now democrats.

OF JOSEPH CAMBELL'S
MONOMYTH SEPARATION RETURN INITIATION
Call to Adventure
The hero starts off in a mundane situation of normality from which some information is received that acts as a call to head off into the unknown.
Refusal of Call
Often when the call is given, the future hero refuses to heed it. This may be from a sense of duty or obligation, fear, insecurity, a sense of inadequacy, etc.
Supernatural Aid
Once the hero has committed to the quest, consciously or unconsciously, his or her guide and magical helper appears, or becomes known.
Crossing First Threshold
This is the point where the person actually crosses into the field of adventure, leaving the known limits of his or her world and venturing into an unknown and dangerous realm where the rules and limits are not known.
Belly of the Whale
The belly of the whale represents the final separation from the hero's known world and self. By entering this stage, the person shows their willingness to undergo a metamorphosis.
Road of Trials
The road of trials is a series of tests, tasks, or ordeals that the person must undergo to begin the transformation. Often the person fails one or more of these tests, which often occur in threes.
Meeting with the Goddess
This is the point when the person experiences a love that has the power and significance of the all-powerful, all encompassing, unconditional love that a fortunate infant may experience with his or her mother.
Temptation
This step is about those material temptations that may lead the hero to abandon or stray from his or her quest.
Atonement with the Father
In this step the person must confront and be initiated by whatever holds the ultimate power in his or her life. In many myths and stories this is the father, or a father figure who has life and death power. This is the center point of the journey.
Apostasis
When someone dies a physical death, or dies to the self to live in spirit, he or she moves beyond the pairs of opposites to a state of divine knowledge, love, compassion and bliss.
The Ultimate Boon
The ultimate boon is the achievement of the goal of the quest. It is what the person went on the journey to get. All the previous steps serve to prepare and purify the person for this step.
Refusal of Return
Having found bliss and enlightenment in the other world, the hero may not want to return to the ordinary world to bestow the boon onto his fellow man.
Magic Flight
Sometimes the hero must escape with the boon. This can be just as adventurous and dangerous returning from the journey as it was to go on it.
Rescue from Without
Oftentimes the hero needs a powerful guides to bring them back to everyday life, especially if the person has been wounded or weakened by the experience.
Crossing the Return Threshold
Retaining the wisdom gained on the quest, integrating that wisdom into a human life, and possibly sharing the wisdom with the rest of the world.
Master of Two Worlds
Achieving a balance between the material and spiritual (the inner and outer world).
Freedom to Live
Mastery leads to freedom from the fear of death, which in turn is the freedom to live. This is sometimes referred to as living in the moment, neither anticipating the future nor regretting the past.

Because they can't create, they're scavengers. Two different mindsets, the dichotomy of which is the main fractionalization of the world right now.

Scavengers go around looking for shit that's lying around or growing on trees. They find it, they slop it up, they move on. Finders keepers.

Creators look at the land, notice patterns, test some things, remember, observe, implement, and then after hard work and testing they have a farm that is carefully cultivated to grow tons of nutritious crops.

When scavengers see this, they assume it's a magic plot of land these people just found. The idea that it is created and maintained by their very careful planned out actions is unthinkable to scavengers because they're retarded so everyone else must be too. This is a magic plot of land that happens to grow a lot of food and these creators just happened to find it by luck which isn't fair. They force the creators, the ones who know how to maintain the land, out and take the magic land for themselves.

They proceed to shit it up in every way possible and stare dumbfounded as to why it's no longer producing the food it used to, then somehow find a way to blame the creators for this.

Anybody you hear complaining about hierarchy, privilege, colonialism, equity, inclusiveness, systemic oppression, etc. is a scavenger.

I think trump being president when the economy finally collapses lets them accomplish so many of their goals. It would break up the right wing and discredit the only thing that represents a leader in politics. Trump is also the only way we are going to be able to get military recruiting back in order. And yes, they do want to go to war for israel. Our economy and currency and banking system are so fucked that 2008 is going to look like nothing this time around. And people around the world have realized the only thing the people in power respond to is violence. We have been protesting and petitioning and begging and pleading for them to stop making things worse, to do something about immigration, to stop printing money and giving it to the banker friends, etc. So now you have a situation in which the people are pissed, politicians won't listen to anything you have to say, violence has a track record of success, and now, because of economic hardship, there are a lot of people with nothing to lose. You want trump in power if this happens because people won't desert from the military as much if you have a republican president. This goes back to an old post "former red team planner here" if you google that you can learn a little about how the government views civil war scenarios. The next reason you want trump in power if some kind of revolution get started up is because all the armed boomers with basements full of surplus ammo believe that trump is still the guy who is going to save us. Without the boomer gun owners, we just lost about 70% of our guns and ammo. That's not enough to make us powerless, but it is a huge dent in the theoretical right wing militia. Finally, trump being in power gets them able to frame any possible rebellion against another banker bailout as a bunch of communists/leftists/whatever the same way they did last time with OWS. cont.

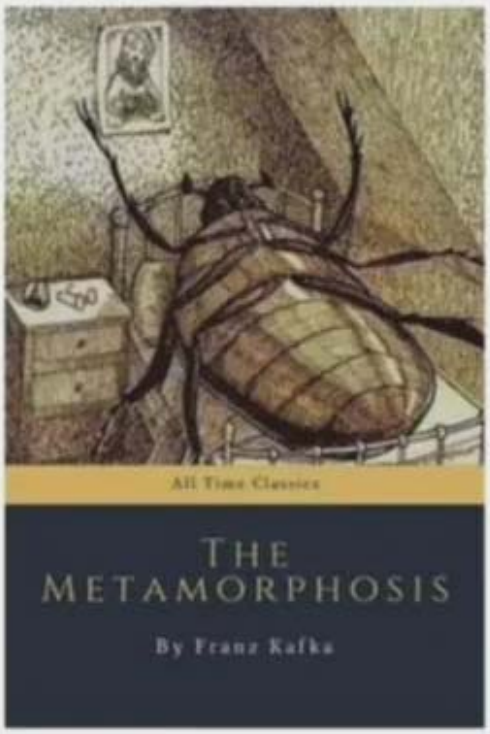
If you cut off white male support, and make them outsiders within the revolutionary movement, you make the movement completely useless. By stripping the men capable of building a movement, a country, an ideology, of power and belonging, you destroy the movements ability to be dangerous to the people in power. The people in power already own everything, look it up if you haven't, investment banks are the largest shareholders of all media, all industry, pretty much everything. These are the people being bailed out, who have destroyed our country, our currency and our way of life. Once they successfully brand any revolution as a bunch of left wing, pink haired, dick cutting off, mexi-africans and marxist-leninists, the people on the right will support the government taking their rights/ freedoms away because they are stupid and because they think they will be "owning the libs" one last time. "Haha, trump is putting them in jail haha! MAGA!" Except you just jailed the entire first wave of the most motivated people who wanted to fight the people enslaving you. Next, you have those same tools you just gave the government for the "stop the libs emergency" being used on you. Watch as the government power to take away guns from violent left wing terrorists is now used 6 months later to disarm all the right wing people "legally" and all the people who would have shot at the people coming for guns are in jail because they were there at the initial riots that justified giving up your rights for safety.



He gave them everything. His body. His time. His life. He worked so they could survive. They never thanked him.Then one morning, he woke up changed. Useless. Broken. Something they could no longer rely on.

They weren't horrified because he looked like a monster. They were horrified because he could no longer go to work.

He didn't ask for love. He apologized for being a burden. They shoved food through the door. Stopped speaking his name. Waited for him to die.

"I cannot make you understand what is happening inside me." His body decayed. Their patience decayed faster. "He thought back on his life with a kind of mild loathing."

When he finally died, they cleaned the room. Opened the window. Took a walk.

They didn't lose a son. They lost a paycheck.He didn't become a monster.

They did.

It blows my mind that we took millions of barrels of petroleum and found a way to transform it into billions of shitskins. Seriously take a moment and think about it. The whole reason there are so many Indians and Africans today is because decades ago bleeding heart scientists wanted to "end world hunger" and revolutionized agriculture using fertilizers, pesticides and industrial machinery built on a foundation of cheap petroleum. So for literally decades on end millions possibly even billions of barrels of petroleum that could have been for anything else, were refined into fertilizer, pesticides, and gasoline used to grow food to feed to pregnant shitskins so they could grow more babies.

It's astounding.
9/10 shitskins alive today on the face of the earth only exist because petroleum was extracted from the Earth and transmuted into human garbage through alchemy, like a reverse philosopher stone transforming pure liquid potential into shit.

The most revealing aspect of our age isn't the celebration of evil but the systematic resentment of excellence.

Look how quickly genuine virtue is reframed as privilege, how achievement is portrayed as exploitation, how beauty is dismissed as oppressive, how strength is labeled as toxic.

This isn't mere misunderstanding...it's a deliberate inversion. The hatred of the good for being the good isn't a byproduct of our cultural moment...it's the central engine that powers it.

Excellence threatens mediocrity not through force but through contrast. And those who refuse to rise will always try to destroy what they have failed to become.

This is cognitive dissonance caused by the misconception that the "independent" content we consume online is close to reality, when it's in fact just as curated and sanitized as any mainstream TV/film content.
This isn't just about landscape but most social interactions too. Watch any social media content related to a party, a wedding, a football match. It's all so full of excitement, everything looks clean, everyone is beautiful and having fun, but when you actually go to these occasions it's more like a few minutes of entertainment and countless hours of boredom and you just wanting to go home.
The way people talk is also completely different. When you're in a group, they're not all going to have a story to tell about how they went parasailing in the Grand Canyon or anything like that. Even your friends who recently traveled somewhere will have some very boring account on the size of the dishes where he went or some bullshit like that.

All this is very obvious when you have something to do during the day. Even being a wagie helps, but there is a lot of people who are living off online slop 24/7 because they don't work, don't have a family or any occupation. These people are living in an alternate reality and have a completely bent idea of the world. And by some unknown economic "miracle" they aren't experiencing depravation (yet).

My job takes me to London regularly and it's an absolute dump. There are vast areas of the city that are visibly impoverished. Even ignoring the demographic changes, the physical infrastructure, the buildings, everything looks poorer than a few years ago, everything is run down and looks like we're in a massive economic depression. And we are, but some people are not experiencing it and I don't even know how. When I talk to someone about the places I've been they still have a very romanticized idea from 10 years ago with a lot of commercial activity and night life, it's a world that doesn't exist outside their iphone screens.

Got news for you bud. Most of the movies you grew up liking I would guess are made by Freemasons. They use a formula. It has a name. It's called "Inverted Hermeneutics", a term that arose with German Biblical Scholarship in the 1800's. It's literally "upside-down storytelling". The Freemason Rudyard Kipling kicked it off in literature by writing The Man Who Would Be King, a story about two Freemasons who want to conquer and rule primitive people as kings. It's the Book of Enoch rewritten, where Azazel and Samyaza do the same thing with mankind.
When film arose, the technique transferred easily to scripts. The original Warner Bros were all members of Mt Olive Lodge Hollywood, and the Worshipful Master of the Lodge at the time was Harry Mancke who would direct westerns.
So that other Masons can recognize what they're watching, they give characters "leitmotifs" so you can identify who they are.
For instance, Jesus had 12 apostles and 72 (or 70 depending on translation) lesser disciples. Hence,
>John Wick kills a father (God), a son (Jesus), 12 guys who attack him in his house and 70 other mooks
>Khan has 84 followers in Space Seed of which he revives 72
>Khan in Into Darkness has 72 followers in torpedoes
>There are 12 major Cylons and squadrons of 72 lessers and so on.
Call me a moron and a Christcuck but this is a pattern. It's observable. It's teachable. It's learnable. And it's predictable.
I can, and have, predicted just from trailers or the first 10 minutes of the movie that I am watching Masonic Inverted Hermeneutic tales.
I told a work colleague BEFORE Disney released it's Star Wars movies that he could expect to see the Fall of Masada and the Second Coming of an Evil Christ figure. (picrel)
I'm not a schizo, you're just blind.

this is one of the most naked, cogent political wake up calls of the 90s and yet everyone gets hung up on the hokeyer aspects of the movie. where the first movie is more a scared reaction to the 1970s crime wave, LA evolves the concept that the entire US, or more, the entire world is a prison. The struggle with The Soviets (Russia) is lost. America has lost all pretenses of liberal Democracy. The police are entirely Federalized and militarized. A dictator uses deportation to enforce a Christian dictatorship. Smoking, drinking, and red meat are illegal. The capital was relocated away from Washington to the President's own residence in Lynchburg, VA. A coalition of Latin American countries is actively invading the shores of Florida.

If you can get past the silly shit and Kurt Russel's larger than life acting, you'll see it identified a lot of prescient warnings that certainly were not being explored in a major Hollywood picture in 1996.

Also has one of the more politically radical endings of a genre movie I have seen.

>I watched Prometheus (2012) for the first time tonight.

That's not the main theme of the movie though, the main theme of the movie is Satanic.
In the intro you see an "Engineer" drinking black goo, and falling into the river as he disintegrates and his DNA starting to replicate.
What this scene is is literally Sumerian myth. In Sumerian myth you had superior gods - the Annunaki - who lounged in palaces eating grapes all day, and you had lesser gods - the Igigi - who did manual labour like digging canals. One day, one third (important) of the Igigi downed tools and said to the Annunaki "fuck this shit, we're not working anymore". So the Annunaki said "Fine, make us some slaves to replace you". So one of the Igigi - Geshtu-E - took one for the team and dissolved himself into a river, mixing his blood with river clay and creating the race of men.
In the movie they later find out our DNA is 100% the DNA of Engineers (or Igigi in this case).
However the one third of the Igigi are considered by occultists and Masons to be the one third of the Angels who followed Satan. And Geshtu is considered to be one and same as Azazel (picrel) who was the first one to wake a human wife and beget Nephilim. And both Azazel AND Geshtu are considered to be one and same as Prometheus (hence the name of the movie).
The movie therefore is about humanity discovering it's descended from fallen angels.
Ridley Scott is a Freemason and has been for quite some time.

Forgot to add about the Main Trilogy, the battle of Hoth is the Battle of Beth Zechariah from the Book of Maccabees
At Beth Zechariah Jewish rebels were defeated by the Seleucid Empire who brought a load of war elephants. One of these elephants was slain by Eleazar Maccabee who threw himself under it and stabbed it in the belly.
Let elephants = AT-ATs with laser firing tusks
Let sword = lightsaber
And you have the most noted feature of this battle transposed from the desert of Judaea to the snows of Hoth.

The Inverted Hermeneutic is a storytelling method by (((Freemasons))) that retells the story of the Azazel (the Antichrist) and Semjaza (Satan) from the (first) book of Enoch. Masons supposedly had access to this book since Hiram Abiff and the construction of Solomon's temple. The scene from Raiders of the Lost Ark where Indy descends into the Well of Souls is the descent of Abiff into the caverns beneath the Temple Mount, where he finds said book. The first adaptation is The Man Who Would Be King (novella and later film). Other characteristics of these figures are drawn from other sources (eg the Bible, Islamic Eschatology). The most commonly recurring figure is Azazel, whom the Masons worship in place of his superior and sometimes father, Lucifer. Among the manifestations of the figure are John Wick, Nolan's Joker, Captain Jack Sparrow, Captain America, Jason Bourne, and off course Han Solo. In connection with this character, you may find Satan. In opposition to him, you may find Jesus, who works for a more powerful father figure (God the Father) at the head of a very powerful organization (kingdom of heaven). Other characters that pop up are Eve (as in Adam's wife), Lilith (Adam's first wife), Mary the Mother of Jesus, and Mary Magdalene, consort of Jesus. Star Wars uses this on top of a jewish revenge fantasy against the Roman (Galactic) Empire.

While any one character in any movie or show may demonstrate certain qualities associated with these various figures, it is the preponderance of evidence that arises from the various relationships among these characters that determines whether or not such a relationship exists. Sometimes they mark their work with a square and compass, as they did in the 1975 Man Who Would be King. See picrel. (The sequel trilogy moves into Masonic Qabalah with Rey as Sophia, Kylo Ren the second coming of Christ, and Palpatine as the Demiurge).

I have never seen anyone else demonstrate that Person Of Interest (2011) is an inverted hermeneutic, but it everything screams to me that it is. You have Reese, the archetypal Azazel (prowess in martial arts, dog companion, faux resurrection, and he even gets stuck on an island in one episode), Finch as Satan (the individual imposing his own corrupt order - the Machine - on the world, notably injured in an explosion/fire), Root as Eve (there's an alternate timeline where she sides with Samaritan/Christianity, ie doesn't eat the fruit), and the various Samaritan operatives as Jesus/God the Father/the Holy Spirit. I never saw a square and compass, nor was any major location a masonic lodge. However, external evidence reinforces this. Caviezel, most famous for the Passion, is the perfect (unwitting) actor for the antichrist. JJ Abrams, a known masonic, helped produce the show. Michael Emerson (Finch) was in Lost (also with Abrams, also an inverted hermeneutic) and Evil (where he plays an evil psychologist attempting to summon the antichrist). It would seem the 'Machine,' as a 'system,' is Judeo-Masonry (since Masons love to claim their history is ancient), an esoteric an limited alternative to the later, exoteric, and all encompassing Samaritan (Christianity, why else would they choose that name?),and they constantly refer to the AIs as gods or deities. Unfortunately, it is still one of the best shows ever made.

How to Spot an Inverted Hermeneutic

Basically what you're looking for are characteristics possessed by religious figures that occur attached to characters onscreen. Sometimes other things can clue you in but they don't tend to occur often enough and are usually highly specific things included when the creator wants to make a further parallel about events, as well as about characters. (For instance, after Silva dies in Skyfall, the opening of Spectre begins with the Day of the Dead celebration and the facade of a building being wrecked. This is because in the Bible when Jesus dies on the cross, the dead rise from their tombs and the facade of the Temple is rent).

Let's start with Azazel, as this guy is the easiest to spot.

1. Half-breed. Azazel is the son of Lilith, a human, and Lucifer, an angel. So often he'll be portrayed in fiction as a likewise hybrid of human and something else.
2. Fallen angel. This is something you might want to assign half a point to but they often portray them as literally falling, and this tends to happen a lot in movies, if this is here, look for other leitmotifs too.
3. Beast from the Sea. Azazel is the Beast of the Apocalypse of St John. The Antichrist. The character will be introduced in some way either connected to the sea. He could be a ship's captain (Jack Sparrow, Han Solo). He could be literally introduced in water (Jason Bourne), he could just live by the sea (Riggs in Lethal Weapon) or in a port (Sam in Burn Notice). Also Trevor.
4. Skilled Warrior. Azazel taught mankind the arts of war so he is usually depicted as a skilled combatant, often with a military past (again Han Solo, Jason Bourne, Riggs, Sam in Burn Notice (ex Navy SEAL). Again Trevor.
5. Clowns/Makeup. Azazel taught the arts of makeup too, so to lampshade this he is (when they can get away with it) depicted with makeup. One obvious way to do it is with clown makeup, because this also sits with the next leitmotif, so you get the Joker for instance. But also it explains Jack Sparrows kohl-rimmed eyes. Likewise Trevor, as is being confirmed more and more here.
6. Agent of chaos. The Beast from the Sea is supposed to tear down the existing power structure and make way for Satan, so Azazel is often depicted as impulsive, rash, chaotic, out of control, insubordinate and so on. Again you see this fits Jack Sparrow, Han Solo, Riggs, Trevor and so forth.
7. Blinded by the light. Because he was tossed down a chasm and imprisoned under rock and cursed not to see the light, he's often depicted as blinded at some point. See Han Solo after being frozen in carbonite (imprisoned under rock), also Riddick after being confined to a mine.
8. Worshipped as a false god. The Antichrist is supposed to be mistaken for the Messiah, so if they can get away with it, they might have them worshipped as a god. As the rebels were in Star Wars, as Jack Sparrow was by a primitive tribe, as Kirk was in Star Trek Into Darkness
9. False coming back from the dead. As part of being mistaken for the Messiah, you will have a false coming back from the dead. So Riggs is assumed killed by shotgun blast but has body armour. Riddick is assumed killed but uses a human shield. Sparrow has multiple fakeout deaths in just one movie. Bond in Skyfall, they never even explain this one, he is shot, falls from a bridge and then comes back by the sea (see#3)
10. Confined to an island. This one is more out there because this comes from the Quran's Antichrist. He's imprisoned on an island and then escapes. It's Beast from the Sea but more specific. The best example of it though is in 47 Ronin where Keanu Reeves character is confined to an island. Note also this character is a half-human half-spirit who is incredibly skilled with weapons. Note also Keanu Reeves' character is entirely absent from the traditional Japanese tale, the Hollywood Masons just decided to shoehorn him in.
11. Furry companion. This one is also from the Quran. There's Al-Jassassah, a being so furry you couldn't tell his front from his back, who accompanies the Antichrist. This is Chewie to Han Solo's Azazel. Obviously not many scripts allow for a Wookie, so they often just settle for a dog. Last Boy Scout has Hallenbeck with Furry Tom.
12. Contract over a woman. Azazel is partner to a contract over a woman. Usually his wife. John Wick has such a contract undertaken so he could be with his wife.

The Freemasonic author Rudyard Kipling wrote a story called The Man Who Would Be King, about two ne'er do wells in the British Army who hatch a plot to travel to a primitive kingdom and rule it, using their new Martini Henry rifles. They arrive in Kafiristan, one survives a supposedly mortal wound and they reveal to the locals that they're 3rd degree Master Masons. They are worshipped as gods. One takes a wife and then everything goes to shit. One is cast down. One is burned
This book is merely a retelling of the Book of Enoch. Samyaza and Azazel are the two who teach warfare to primitive man, corrupt him, take wives and who are worshipped as gods. One falls and one is burned.
Freemasons tell this story over and over in your movies and television. Take the show Burn Notice and it's spinoff tv movie "The Fall of Sam Axe". Michael Weston is "burned" figuratively. Sam Axe, his friend, "falls". One is burned, one falls. Their enemies are Michael's mentor in the CIA (who is God) and another character whose name literally means "son of the divine".
Capt Kirk is Azazel
Mr Spock is Samyaza (Satan)
https://www.metv.com/stories/heres-what-spock-was-originally-going-to-look-like-on-star-trek
Khan has 84 followers in Space Seed/Wrath of Khan because Jesus had 84 disciples, the famous 12 and the lesser 72 he sent out in pairs to preach. Khan in ST:ID has his 72 disciples stashed in torpedoes. He has magic healing blood which conquers death.
Freemasons are literally telling you this shit every time you watch one of their movies. It's just hidden in plain sight until you're given the key. It's a formula

Jesus

1. Has disciples. Everyone knows of the famous 12 but Luke 10 tells us he has 72 more (in most Bibles, in some it's 70). So if you see someone with 12, 72 or 84 followers, it's Jesus. (Khan in original Star Trek 84, in Into Darkness it's 72. 72 centurion cylon squadrons and 12 greater cylons. Creedy (the man of the Creed, so... Jesus) has 12 in the final fight with V in V for Vendetta. Hans Gruber has 12 terrorists. In Die Hard 2 the fake backup special forces unit has 12 guys, one of whom is considered untrustworthy and is stabbed with an icicle - take that Judas! John Wick kills a father, a son and 84 goons according to director Chad Stahelski. Also worth noting, even if there's no specific number given, shining-eyed zealots like Bane has count.
2. Right hand man to a older/more experienced, father figure. Vader is to the Emperor, Joshua (Yeheshua/Jesus) in Lethal Weapon to the Colonel.
3. Unusual birth. Anakin Skywalker/Vader in Star Wars.
4. Appears in an actual church. Oftentimes they put the Jesus figure (and the God figure too for that matter) in an actual church. Silva in Skyfall actually says the church he dies in is an "appropriate setting". The Jesus figure in the Total Recall remake is confronted in a church.
5. The Cross. Kylo Ren, the second coming of Jesus after Anakin dies, has a fiery cross in his hand. Anakin himself when he storms the temple walks on a cross. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yNRiw7IU34E
6. Saviour. Khan in Star Trek Into Darkness has magical healing blood which can defeat death which he uses to save a child.
7. The temptation on the mount. In the Bible Satan takes Jesus up on a mountain and tempts him in a high place. Empire Strikes Back inverts it with Jesus (Vader) tempting Satan (Luke) in Bespin.
8. It's Christmas! It's Christmas in Die Hard, in Lethal Weapon. It's actually Christmas in The Bourne Identity if you pay attention to the decorations.
9. Injured in the side of the abdomen. Jesus was pierced by a lance on the cross. The Jesus figure in the Sherlock Holmes reboot is pierced by a spear in the side. Kylo Ren is injured in the side (even keeps hitting it for those too dumb to notice where he was injured "hey guys, it's me Jesus, injured in the side here!")

The Inverted Hermeneutic (upside down storytelling). How to spot Jesus.

Shemyaza/Satan

1. Fallen angel/suspended angel. Likewise falls from grace as Azazel, but often is depicted as hanging or suspended as his fall is said to be eternal.
2. Lake of fire/burning. Spock is suspended (see above) in a volcano (lake of fire) in Into Darkness. Riddick is suspended in Crematoria (Hell) and very nearly gets burned. V in V for Vendetta is burned.
3. Tempts Eve. Evie is tempted by V in V for Vendetta, who is the "Devil, who is sent to do the Devils work" as he tells the priest. (In the graphic novel his first words are actually the opening of Sympathy for the Devil by The Rolling Stones "Allow me to introduce myself I'm a man of wealth and taste", I guess the moviemakers thought this too on the nose). Moneypenny's first name is changed to Eve in Skyfall, so Bond can tempt her. But if there's an Eve character, you're probably dealing with Satan.
4. Contract over a woman. Taken with Azazel. Santonio in John Wick has such a contract with John Wick.
5. The more sensible level headed of duo as he's the one to impose Satanic order. Luke in Star Wars, Murtaugh in Lethal Weapon.
6. Threatened women folk. Shemyaza wanted to bang himself a human chick so he did. All his offspring were annihilated by God. So you have his womenfolk killed or threatened by the God/Jesus figures.
7. Thousand years of torment. Mentioned in the Man Who Would Be King. Luke and Han both are threatened with a thousand of years of torment in the Sarlacc pit in Return of the Jedi.
8. The name. Sometimes it's just something as stupid as "Snake" Plissken (the serpent, geddit?). Luke derives from the same Latin root that gives us Lucifer.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Snake_Eyes_(1998_film) >police detective Rick Santoro attends a boxing match at the soon-to-close local arena between heavyweight champion Lincoln Tyler and challenger Jose Pacifico Ruiz. He meets up with his best friend since childhood, U.S. Navy Commander Kevin Dunne, who is working with the Department of Defense to escort Defense Secretary Charles Kirkland
>As the first round begins, Kevin is distracted by an attractive redhead named Serena who wears a ruby ring, and leaves his seat, which is then taken by Julia Costello, a mysterious woman with platinum blonde hair and a white satin suit. When Ruiz unexpectedly knocks out Tyler, gunshots ring out, mortally wounding Kirkland and grazing Julia, who loses her glasses and blonde wig, revealing her naturally dark hair. Kevin kills the sniper and orders the arena to be locked down.
>Rick notices that the supposedly knocked-out Tyler awoke instantly at the sound of the shots, and after studying the fight tape, realizes the knockout punch didn't connect. Tyler confesses that he threw the fight in order to pay gambling debts, but he was never told that anyone would be killed and reveals that Serena, the redhead who tricked Kevin into leaving his post, paid him to take a dive. With Tyler, Serena and the sniper, along with the man who signaled Tyler to go down and whoever gave him the go-ahead involved, Rick suspects a conspiracy.

so in snake eyes cage is jesus, tyler is antichrist, boxer that's killed is osiris/john the baptist/ (masons mix the 2 together). notice there is usually an older male figure that dies, and sometimes returns. the hero only really gets on his way once this guy dies. so obi wan, gandalf, yukon cornelius, the partner in the cop movie that dies 3 days before retirement.
these films are not meant to warn, but to model behaviour and to act as surreptitious ritual magick. most movies are based on the masonic 3 degree system, with 1st, 2nd and 3rd acts corresponding to each degree. in fact eyes wide shut is a great example. it is not letting us know about shit all, it is a very intricate retelling of all 33 degrees of scottish rite masonry. the character zeigler, who is jewish, and whose name means mason, is God.
https://33degreesofeyeswideshut.wordpress.com/
so the 3rd degree for instance involves the initiate being hit on the head, being carried in a blanket, then being placed in a coffin, from which they are symbolically later resurrected. so think of the movies where the hero is stuck in something similar. bathtubs are often used in lieu of coffins, like in training day with the mexicans. or sometimes it's an actual coffin like in kill bill.

>Now the eternal realm (aeon) of truth has no shadow outside it, for the limitless light is everywhere within it. But its exterior is shadow, which has been called by the name 'darkness'. From it, there appeared a force, presiding over the darkness. And the forces that came into being subsequent to them called the shadow 'the limitless chaos'. From it, every kind of divinity sprouted up [...] together with the entire place, so that also, shadow is posterior to the first product. It was <in> the abyss that it (shadow) appeared, deriving from the aforementioned Pistis.

>Then shadow perceived there was something mightier than it, and felt envy; and when it had become pregnant of its own accord, suddenly it engendered jealousy. Since that day, the principle of jealousy amongst all the eternal realms and their worlds has been apparent. Now as for that jealousy, it was found to be an abortion without any spirit in it. Like a shadow, it came into existence in a vast watery substance. Then the bile that had come into being out of the shadow was thrown into a part of chaos. Since that day, a watery substance has been apparent. And what sank within it flowed away, being visible in chaos: as with a woman giving birth to a child - all her superfluities flow out; just so, matter came into being out of shadow, and was projected apart. And it did not depart from chaos; rather, matter was in chaos, being in a part of it.

Hollywood churns out Inverted Hermeneutic (upside down) movies, primarily aimed at men, with Jesus and/or God as the bad guy and some wise-cracking agent of chaos as Azazel, the fallen war angel, and often his accomplice Samyaza, taking them down

Die Hard 2: Evil Jesus Colonel Whatshisface, with his 12 man spec ops team tries to rescue the God Generalissimo. One of the ops team is a traitor, because Judas

Both are thwarted by Azazel McClane

Lethal Weapon: Azazel Riggs and Samyaza Murtaugh take on Colonel God-person and his right man Joshua (Joshua = Yeheshua = Jesus). Riggs says straight out he hates God. Joshua is identified three times with "Jesus Christ" as the Colonel tests his faith burning him with a zippo in an inversion of the thrice denial of Christ

John Wick: Azazel Wick kills a father (god), a son (Jesus), 12 apostles who attack him in his house in the "dinner for 12" bit and 72 other goons as attested in multiple interviews by Chad Stahelski. John is an angelic being, every time he crosses into Manhattan he is crossing the River Styx to enter his shadowy underworld, and every time he has to pay Charon (the actual name of the Black Concierge) with a coin

John Wick 4: Azazel Wick fights up 222 stairs, falls down 222 stairs and fights back up 222 stairs at the finale, because 666 is Azazel the Beast's number. He is accompanied by Cain, the Biblical murderer

This shit is right in front of you and none of you even notice.

Didn't have enough space for:

Also John Wick 4: When Wick meets the Bowery King (who is the second coming of Jesus), they're stood in front of a famous painting of "Doubting Thomas", the apostle who doubted Christ's miracle, seen examining his wounds. The Bowery King when he was introduced in John Wick 2, hangs out with the poor exclusively. He lives in an abandoned church. He gifts Wick with a gun and seven bullets because 7 horns sound in Revelation.

The characterisation of Wick is consistent throughout all movies and even continues in Ballerina where Wick inspires "Eve". This is because Azazel is the serpent of Eden, he needs an Eve to tempt which is why in Skyfall

Kate Moneypenny had her name changed to "Eve" Moneypenny, because Sam (((Mendes))) had turned Bond into yet another Azazel figure.

French inventor, Louis Le Prince, filmed some of the earliest motion pictures using a camera that he had built. However, he mysteriously vanished before he could perform a public demonstration of his invention. Edison later took credit for inventing the first moving-picture camera. Le Prince's son Adolphe, who believed his father was murdered, once appeared in a court case against Edison. Two years later, he was found dead.

>ACTUALLY earth shattering and will break people's minds

The pushing of racemixing between black and white, specifically, by the liberal media is an intentional attempt to 'fix' the much higher level of violence in the black race on a genetic level, much in the same way that European honey bees are introduced to breed with African killer bees to make them more docile. Believe me, EVERYONE (even blacks) in governmental health sciences KNOWS how violent and idiotic American blacks are as a general rule. This is their Hail Mary play.

South Africa: "First Black Bank" Collapses after Being Looted by Owners

Category: World News

VBS Mutual Bank—lauded as the first bank in South Africa to be totally owned and managed by Africans — has collapsed after its owners stole all the cash and bribed government and local government officials into depositing money in the operation, an official inquiry set up by the South African Reserve Bank (SARB) has found.

Initial reports included a statement from the deputy principal, Joyce Kithira, who said "The boys never meant any harm against the girls. They just wanted to rape."[2][4] Kithira was dismissed from her position for her "failure to maintain discipline" at the school but was almost immediately reinstated.[3] School principal James Laiboni commented that rape was a common occurrence at the school.[2] The view was echoed by Francis Machira Apollos, a local probation officer.[2]

No, prioritizing safety for an 8-year-old means avoiding schools with demographics linked to higher violence rates, as national data from sources like the School Survey on Crime and Safety show elevated fights and disruptions in majority-black environments due to behavioral factors. Forced immersion doesn't reliably foster liking; studies on intergroup contact indicate it requires equal-status, cooperative settings, not potentially chaotic ones that could breed resentment from negative experiences. Choose schools with strong order and academics first—prejudice fades through success and fair treatment, not risk exposure.

their moral sentiments are extremely weak, or, to be more precise, they are altogether deficient. The first ethical relationship of all, that of the family, is a matter of total indifference to the Negroes. Men sell their wives, parents sell their children, and children sell their parents whenever they have it in their power to do so. Since slavery is so prevalent, all those bonds of moral esteem which we cherish towards one another have disappeared, and it never occurs to the Negroes to expect of others what we are entitled to demand of our fellows. They devote no attention to their sick parents, apart from seeking occasional advice from the Chitomen. Philanthropic sentiments of love etc. entail a consciousness of the self which is no longer confined to the individual person. For when I love someone, I am conscious of myself in the other person; or, as Goethe puts it, my heart is open. Love, then, is an enlargement of the self. The polygamy of the Negroes often has the sole object of producing many children, so that they can all be sold as slaves; and they are quite oblivious to the injustice of this situation. Indeed, they carry this anomaly to unbounded lengths. The king of Dahomey, for example, has 3,333 wives; every rich man has numerous wives, and his many children provide him with a new source of revenue. Missionaries tell us how a Negro once came to church and announced to the Franciscans with fearful lamentations that he was now completely destitute, as he had already sold all his relatives, including his father and mother.

The distinguishing feature of the Negroes' contempt for humanity is not so much their contempt for death as their lack of respect for life. They set as little value on life as they do on human beings as such, for life is only valuable in so far as there is a higher value in man. Their contempt for life does not mean that they are weary of it, or that some fortuitous irritation has overtaken them; on the contrary, life in general has no value for them. The Negroes often kill themselves if their honour is violated or if they have been punished by the king. If someone in this position fails to do so, he is regarded as a coward. They give no thought to the preservation of life, or to death itself. The great courage of the Negroes, reinforced by their enormous physical strength, must also be ascribed to this lack of respect for life; for they allow themselves to be shot down in thousands in their wars with the Europeans. The aggression problem in black mostly manifests during the second puberty window (what most people just call puberty) between the ages of roughly 14 and 26 on average.

About 4-5% (1 in 20) black people have a gene (MonoamineOxidase-4R) which inhibits their body's ability to reuptake serotonin. This makes ot very difficult for them to calm down when they are upset or angry.

Combined with the other fact than black people have lower intelligence on average, you get a situation where a critical mass of them have both and overreact in short-sighted ways.

In the real world this manifests as both a higher rate of violence, and also a higher rate of crimes of opportunity such as petty theft and organizational fraud (scams, embezzlement, fraud, etc.)

It's not the every black person you meet or see is both dumb and violent, it's just that more of them are violent than any other group and kore of them are dumb than any other group and those traits do not mix well at all.

Are these huge brawls in public between black people a cultural thing? Because you never really see a bunch of white people fighting in the street or in a public place like a mall or an airport or a restaurant.
And the head-stomping part. I mean that's attempted murder. You could go to prison for years for that and even though they're being filmed, they seem to do it with abandon.
I'm having a hard time comprehending the whole thing.

I'm a Black fine dining server, and I absolute hate serving Black people.

This isn't even really about the stereotype of black people not tipping on their bill. I can honestly care less about someone's willingness to tip me. My job is to provide an exceptional dining experience, not to expect payment; a table later will make up for it. What I can't fucking stand is the stereotypical black attitudes. I'm not expecting you to reciprocate my energy, that's not it. But if it looks like you have a problem from the moment you sit down before any drinks or food comes out, you're on your phone, not speaking up, not even responding to me with respect etc, either leave that lame ass attitude at home or go to fucking Applebees. It infuriates me because it's not hard to be nice bro, it's not hard to say thank you. It's not hard to have manners.

Africans, I believe, may generally lack the concepts of subjunctivity and counterfactuality. Subjunctivity is conveyed in such statements as, "What would you have done if I hadn't showed up?" This is contrary to fact because I did show up, and it is now impossible for me not to have shown up. We are asking someone to imagine what he would have done if something that didn't happen (and now couldn't happen) had happened. This requires self-consciousness, and I have already described blacks' possible deficiency in this respect. It is obvious that animals, for example, cannot think counterfactually, because of their complete lack of self-awareness.

When someone I know tried to persuade his African workers to contribute to a health insurance policy, they asked "What's it for?" "Well, if you have an accident, it would pay for the hospital." Their response was immediate: "But boss, we didn't have an accident!" "Yes, but what if you did?" Reply? "We didn't have an accident!" End of story.

We take these primitive creatures straight out of the jungles (concrete or genuine, it doesn't matter), we teach them a sort of English where they can more or less express themselves to us, and then we try to tell them about stuff in our world and our history and see how they make sense of it. REPORT: Karmelo Anthony supporters are now using government entities (CPS and LE) to do their dirty work and target me in an effort to silence my reporting on the m*rder of Austin Metcalf.

I've prayed about whether I should post this publicly, and I have decided to do so because people need to know just how badly I am being targeted right now for simply being a lead journalist reporting on the Metcalf/Anthony case.

On Sunday, August 24th, my home was swatted. Aside from the emotional distress this caused, especially as I was past my due date, we recovered and appreciated how well the department handled the incident. That same night, I went into labor. I labored at home from 11 PM until 3 AM, then headed to the hospital on the morning of August 25th.

Then, at 12 noon on the 25th, while I was in the hospital in active labor, I received a phone call from my teenage son that Child Protective Services was at our door.

I shouldn't have to explain the extreme and immediate emotional distress this caused me and my family.

Only cowards use the government to do their dirty work. This is the first time I have posted publicly about this incident. However, Karmelo Anthony supporters have posted multiple times in the past week about "calling CPS on Sarah Fields," have discussed it in TikTok Lives, have stated that there is a "master plan" to silence me via private Zoom meetings held by Tiffney Billions, and have shared links to petitions encouraging individuals to call and have CPS investigate me and my family.

Allow me to be perfectly clear: you do not know what kind of box you just opened with me. My tenacity to keep going and not be intimidated is only matched by my utter hatred of the Department of Child Services, an evil entity that I have repeatedly exposed for targeting good families and its involvement in trafficking children, particularly children from across the southern border.

I will investigate harder, I will leave no stone unturned, and I will not be intimidated into walking away from my reporting on this case, nor will I abandon those who have supported my work, including the Metcalfs, the parents of the children of Frisco ISD, and former employees who have been targeted and doxxed by Anthony supporters. My work has been followed by those who are hungry for the truth and facts on this case, who know that the mainstream media will not provide it.

CPS is claiming they must conduct a full investigation based on reports being made, even though the reports are baseless, clear harassment in a campaign against me, and lack a single shred of evidence. My attorney, CJ Grisham, has taken the reins on this. We will not be terr0rized, and our peace will not be disturbed. The answer is "no."

A live that was recorded just a couple of nights ago. The host is Tiffney billions with several of her disruptors.

Let me go ahead and take this opportunity to inform everyone that I do not have a single family member working in my local police department. Not one. 😂

I used to be married to a police officer, 12 years ago. He is now in prison. And his family is spread out throughout the state. I do not personally know anyone working within my local police department. Thank you.

Message to the people: I will not be “disrupted”. Thank you.

Woman flees war-torn Ukraine, killed on Charlotte light rail

August 25, 2025

The Charlotte-Mecklenburg Police Department will charge DeCarlos Brown, 34, who is unhoused and has a lengthy criminal history, with first-degree murder. He was sent to a hospital where he remained on Monday.

Brown spent five years in prison for robbery with a deadly weapon.

In July, his public defender made a motion questioning his ability to proceed in his court case about misusing the 911 system. The judge ordered a forensic evaluation but he was allowed to be out and about.

Absolutely horrific.
23-year-old Iryna Zarutska fled Ukraine, “seeking safety from the war and hoping for a new beginning” only to be attacked on the Charlotte light rail.
Her life was cut short thanks to 34-year-old Decarlos Brown Jr., who has been in and out of prison for the last 15 years.

While everyone was focused on Charlie Kirk's assassination this Democrat judge in North Carolina ordered Iryna Zarutka's murderer Decarlos Brown to be released from prison.
They are trying to make sure he doesn't even go to trial and is set free.
Judge Roy Wiggins signed an order Friday to send Brown to Central Regional Hospital – Butner Campus for 60 days to "determine the defendant's capacity to proceed." Judge Wiggins's order is heavily redacted, making his reasoning for the move unclear.
The defendant in this case apparently may not stand trial. On Friday, he was sent to a psych hospital to determine his "capacity to proceed"
The motion is heavily redacted, so we don't know exactly why. The crime he committed is straight from a horror film (see right screenshot) https://t.co/tM2zjPNbkL pic.twitter.com/9ewO3hHbRT

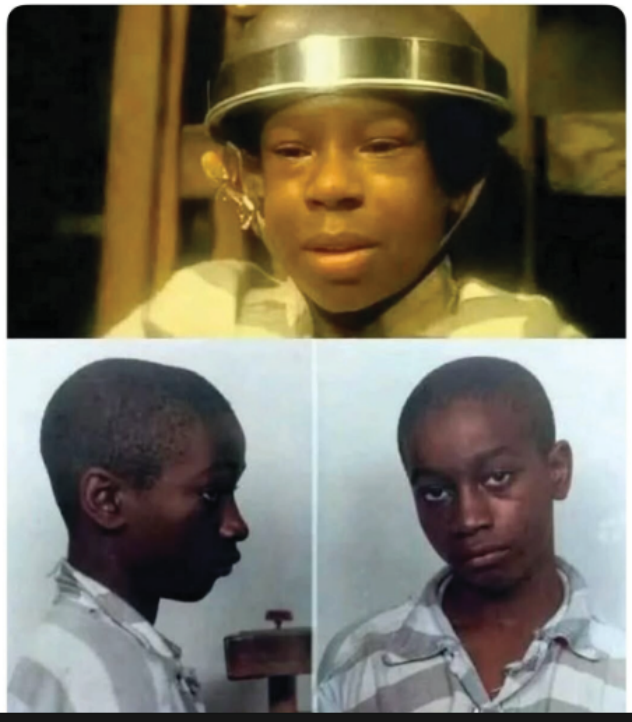
At 14, George Stinney Jr. was convicted in just 10 minutes by an all-white jury without a lawyer or his parents present.



"They killed an innocent kid! The racists!"

NO.

1. His conviction was overturned years later. Not because he was innocent but because he was denied a due process and a fair trial.

2. They found the two white girls near his home in a ditch.

3. He and his older brother were arrested. His older brother was released. George Jr confessed to the killing AND led investigators to where he had hidden the murder weapon, still covered in blood.

4. His black teacher testified that George Jr was known to carry a knife and had stabbed a girl in class previously.

He absolutely assaulted and killed those girls. His trial illegal, but he was not innocent. Lynched, yes, but guilty as sin.

It was September 21 and Emily Elizabeth Haddock was taking the day off from school to recover from strep throat. Meanwhile, a group of teenagers were knocking on doors in the neighborhood, pretending to need directions. If no one came to the door of a home, the young men would enter and burglarize it. When they arrived at Emily's house, she was in a back room, working on a puzzle. Michael Currie and his associates broke in and discovered the 12-year-old girl home alone, so they shot her in the mouth and the back of the head. Emily's grandfather found her lifeless body when he came to check in on her.

18–year–old Nathan Garza, was shot and killed by Christopher "Roly" Young Martinez a black man, 23, at the Napa Co. Safeway; as stays media silent. Garza was a Safeway clerk for less than a year, he was delivering groceries to a customer roughly 200 feet from the store's entrance when he was gunned down and pronounced dead at the scene. Less than an hour later, a 23–year–old Martinez was arrested about a mile and a half from the shooting. The suspect's white Cadillac seen speeding from the Safeway parking lot . A gun was found in the vehicle and the suspect was charged with murder. Garcia lived a block from the Safeway, and never met Garza.

Meet Lawrence Reed.

He is facing terrorism charges after setting a 26-year-old woman on fire aboard a Chicago train.

According to reports, he doused her in gasoline and ignited it saying “burn alive b*tch.”

Reed has been arrested 49 times. FORTY-NINE. 10 of them being felonies. And yet judges kept putting him back on the streets.

They failed to protect the public. They failed that young woman.

This tragedy was preventable, and the judges who enabled it need to be held accountable.

14-year-old student stalked his teacher to the bathroom, raped & murdered her before dumping her body in a trash can behind the school

Overview of the Colleen Ritzer Murder Case

Colleen Ritzer, a 24-year-old math teacher at Danvers High School in Massachusetts, was murdered on October 22, 2013, by her 14-year-old student, Philip Chism. The crime occurred after Ritzer had asked Chism to stay after school for extra help.

Details of the Crime

Sequence of Events

- Time of Incident: Ritzer left her classroom around 2:54 PM and entered a school bathroom. Chism followed her about a minute later.
- Murder Method: Chism strangled Ritzer, stabbed her 16 times with a box cutter, and raped her. He then placed her body in a recycling bin and disposed of it in the woods behind the school.
- Discovery: Ritzer's body was found the next day, and a note reading "I hate you all" was discovered near her body.

Chism's Actions

- Chism was seen on surveillance footage entering the bathroom after Ritzer and later leaving with her belongings.
- He was found walking along a highway later that night with a bloody box cutter and items belonging to Ritzer.

Legal Proceedings

Chism was charged with murder, aggravated rape, and robbery. He was tried as an adult and convicted in 2015. He received a life sentence but may be eligible for parole due to his age at the time of the crime. In 2024, he sought to have his conviction overturned, but Ritzer's family vowed to fight this move.

Colleen Ritzer's tragic death shocked the community and highlighted issues surrounding school safety and youth violence.

Dennis Akpomedaye (left), 30, has been jailed for life with a minimum term of 29 years for the murder of 21-year-old Polish student Anna Jedrkowiak (right), known as Ania, in Ealing, west London in May last year. Akpomedaye, from Newport, South Wales, waited for Ania to finish her shift at Las Iguanas in Ealing, west London on May 17 last year before he followed her and her friend to a deserted alleyway. Wearing a balaclava and with his hood up, he stabbed the 21-year-old, known as Ania, 40 times, including a wound to her neck that detectives believe was an attempt to decapitate her. Detective Chief Inspector Brian Howie, who led the investigation into her death, said: 'This was an extremely violent and ferocious attack.'

We had a call today, probably one of our strangest phonecalls ever, from a teacher at a school in Johannesburg. He wanted to know if we could supply the school with a couple of rehabilitated owls. The idea they had, was to conduct an experiment that the students would monitor. We explained our policy on release sites and that we could not supply owls to them, but asked out of curiosity what the experiment would entail. They had thought to deliberately expose the owls to poisoned rats and then to record the outcome, including the time it takes for the owls to die from the secondary poisoning's effect. I at first thought he must be kidding, but he wasn't.
It's pretty disheartening to know that in this day and age we are still faced with this type of ignorance.

Friend of Michael Brown who helped spark ‘hands up, don’t shoot’ chant dies after being shot in Ferguson

Eleven years after the officer shooting of Michael Brown in Ferguson, Missouri, sparked waves of protest against police brutality, the friend who was with Brown when it happened has been shot dead.

Dorian Johnson, 33, was the victim of a shooting at about 8:30 a.m. Sunday at a block of apartments less than a mile from where Brown died, according to Ferguson Police spokesperson Patricia Washington.

Johnson’s account of Brown’s 2014 killing helped inspire the iconic “hands up, don’t shoot” protest chant heard in demonstrations across the US that year, though subsequent investigations called into question the details of Brown’s actions before he died.

Anyone with an IQ over 5 would be able to figure out that 13% of the population committing more than 13% of any crime let alone 50% of the murders, is wildly outrageous and disproportionate. I shouldnt have to teach anyone about ratios and rates, but somehow, some monkey brained individuals cant figure it out. Here is an example.

If blacks commit murders at a rate of 20 per 100,000

If whites commit murders at a rate of 1.6 per 100,000

A place with 1 million blacks would have 200 murders per year

A place with 1 million whites would have 16 murders per year.

Here's another way you could look at it. Let's say there are two bags of rice for sale at the store. One weighs ten pounds, one weighs five pounds. The ten pound bag is five dollars, the five pound bag is four dollars. An absolute moron would say "well obviously youre getting a better deal with the five pound bag." No you idiot, you get much more rice per dollar with the ten pound bag. If you bought two bags of five pound rice, you would pay 8 dollars when you could have paid five dollars for just one 10 pound bag. And with blacks, you get much more crime per person, than you do with whites. Get it?? Raw numbers mean nothing, it's all about proportions.

Very simple math. You dont even have to be smart to understand it. It's actually impressive that some people are so dumb as to not get it.

We can also see, when looking at this data, that, interestingly, if you discount blacks, native americans, and hispanics, and only consider white and asian murder rates, america would have a similar homicide rate to european countries such as finland and estonia. So much for the idea of gun control solving america's violence problem.

Source:
https://dataunodc.un.org/content/homicide-rate-option-2

Blacks also commit much more interracial violent crime against whites, than whites do against blacks.

When you do the math, in 2018 you can see that whites committed about 59,778 violent crimes against blacks

But blacks commited 547,948 against whites.

What this comes out to is that blacks commit violent crime against whites at a rate of 42 times more than whites commit against blacks. This isn't just a problem of whites being a higher population and thus making up more of the victims. Blacks literally commit FOURTY TWO TIMES more violent crime against whites than the reverse.

Blacks also commit about 20% of hate crimes despite being 13% of the population, whereas whites only commit about 52%. This also means that a black person is about 1.77x more likely to commit a hate crime than a white person. This proves that blacks are not the oppressed group of people they like to convince you they are, and that whites arent the oppressive group of people they like to convince you they are.

Black college students are also more likely to pursue majors that

We can see that black misbehaviour starts at a very early age, too. This is a quote. "The Civil Rights Data Collection found that Black girls account for 20% of all female preschoolers and 54% of female preschoolers who were suspended more than once. Black preschool children as a whole were found to be 3.6 times more likely than Whites to be suspended. Looking at all grades, Blacks were roughly 4 times as likely as Whites to be suspended and twice as likely to be expelled.

In 2012, a department of education analysis of over 75,000 schools found that blacks made up 18% of the student population, but 35% of those to be suspended once, 45% of those to be suspended more than once, and 39% of those who were expelled."

Heres a VERY interesting finding. Also a quote. "Data from the US Department of Education shows that in 2011 and 2012 black females accounted for 12% of elementary school suspensions while white girls only accounted for 2% of the suspensions. Researchers also found that darker skinned black girls are more likely to get in trouble that lighter skinned black girls. In particular, black girls with the darkest skin were three times as likely as black girls with the lightest skin to be suspended. Because skin color is a proxy for White admixture, this finding would be predicted based on a hereditarian view of racial differences."

Black college students are also more likely to pursue majors that lead to low paying jobs.

What the reason ISN'T

Now the great question is: why? Why are blacks so violent? Well some would say "it obviously has to be socioeconomic factors." Is it? Being poor makes blacks commit twice as many rapes? Really? They just have no choice but to rape and commit hate crimes because they are poor? Even rich people crimes like embezzlement and fraud, black people commit much more of. But I digress, lets see in the next slide if what they say is true. Is it really beacause they are poor?

This chart sorts homicide rate by area with a certain poverty level. I made the chart smaller just to show the relevant bits, but you can see the whole table in the source linked.

You can simply see the "numbers this way: "<9.1" means less than 9.1% of the population of the sample group is in poverty, meaning that is the wealthiest group of people in the statistics, and ">14.6" means more than 14.6% of the population of the sample group is in poverty. In other words, >14.6 = poor, and <9.1 = rich. What we see is that even white and black people who are in the exact same poverty group, black people still commit wildly more homicides than whites. In fact, the richest black people commit murder at a rate of 9.6 per 100K, whereas poor whites commit murder at a rate of 2.7 per 100K.

In New York City, 7.8% of Asians are in poverty but their murder arrest rate is 1.2

19% of blacks are in poverty, but their murder arrest rate is 12.1

So blacks are not only in LESS poverty, but they still commit a most 10X + MORE murders in new york city.

We can also see from raj Chetty's data that blacks still commit more crime NO matter what their income percentile is.

So it's clearly not because they're poor. Even the richest black people are committing more crimes than the poorest white people. However, it would be disingenuous to completely discount the socioeconomic factor. We can indeed see that crime rates drop when black people are richer, and that when start committing more crimes when they are poor. however, black crime still remains astronomically high even when rich, which means that socioeconomic factors are A factor, but not THE factor, and not even the MOST IMPACTFUL factor.

Well, the next thing that people would counter this with is that black people are overpoliced, overentenced, and whatnot, and that they actually just get arrested more often even though they don't actually commit more crime, because police are racist. Let's check the data and see if it's true. See the next slide.

Let's check the data and see if it's true. See the next slide.

The NCVS collected information on both the race of people arrested, as well as the race offenders that were REPORTED, but not necessarily arrested. What we see is that there is almost no difference in the percent of black people arrested for crime, and black people reported for crime, and the same goes for every other race, not just blacks. We see that 34.9% of offenders reported for a crime were black, and 33% were arrested for crime were black. This means literally nothing, statistically speaking. They are almost exactly the same.

This means there is no significant difference between how likely someone is to commit a crime and how likely they are to be arrested.

Even if you somehow decide that "well the people reporting the crimes must be racist too", well for one, the report and arrest rate for white people is also basically the same, as in the same amount of whites reported for crime is almost no different than the amount arrested for crime, so that makes no sense. However I have yet another piece of evidence to suggest that there is no racial bias. If we are to assume that both the police AND the general population are racist, we must also assume that teachers and other school staff and whatnot are also racist. It turns out that black students are proportionally much more likely to be suspended in school than other students are. Racism, obviously, right? Nope. It turns out that once you compare blacks and whites with an equal number of previous behavioral problems you find that both groups are equally likely to be suspended. Further more, a study found that Blacks and Whites were equally likely to be suspended once they were sent to the principal's office. And to further strengthen previous points, black students were still more likely to be suspended even when controlling for differences in socioeconomic status, meaning that poverty had very little or nothing to do with it either.

One might assume that, if police are biased and consider a person's race when deciding to arrest them or not, then they would also have the same bias when deciding whether to SHOOT somebody or not.

This study from 2019 finds that there is no evidence of anti-black disparities in fatal shootings, and that white officers are not more likely to shoot minority civilians than non-white officers.

Unfortunately, the article was retracted in 2020 during the height of the infamous George Floyd

Unfortunately, the article was retracted in 2020 during the height of the infamous George Floyd riots, because the study was targeted by political activists, and because the writers of the study were pussies, didn't stand their ground, and retracted the article. Not because the data was inaccurate, missing context, or anything like that, but because people were AANGRYY with them for daring to suggest that police officers do not have racist biases in shootings. Since it has been retracted, you can take it with a grain of salt, if you want, or you can see that they only retracted it for political reasons, and that the findings of the study are still valid.

The problem of black crime is not exclusive to america, either. Not even close. So the idea that american racism is the cause of black people being violent and poor, is nonsense. They are violent and poor EVERYWHERE they go. Europe has very little history of oppressing blacks, and yet crime has skyrocketed in european countries ever since they started mass immigration, and again the data shows that african nationals are the worst offenders. I will show a few examples and leave sources below.

World homicide rate by region shows blacks at the 2nd highest.

And some clueless conservatives will say "it's because of black american culture!" Nope, that culture is exactly the same across the entire globe, it's not exclusive to america, and you saw that in the previous slide. They'll say "it's because they need christianity!" Nope. Black countries are violent shit holes no matter what religion. Haitians are christian, it certainly isn't helping them. Muslim, Christian, or otherwise, black countries are still shit. Some others will say "it's because of colonization!" Nope. Even countries that were never colonized, such as ethiopia and liberia are identical to countries that WERE colonized. Dysfunctional violent broken shit holes. There has never been a single variable that anyone can find that FIXES black behaviour. You can make them christian, you can give them wealth, you can put them in white countries with white culture, it just doesn't matter. They act the same no matter where you put them or what you do.

Here are some sources backing up what I am saying.

Many african countries ARE Christian:

What the reason IS

For purposes of simplicity, I WILL be generalizing black people here, but it doesn't mean that I'm stupid enough to think that "every black person" acts like this. This is simply about patterns. So when I say "black people do this:", I am talking about how black people have a disproportionate predisposition to act like this en masse.

This really only leaves two possible explanations for why black people behave this way. The first possible explanation is culture. Black culture in america for example is, quite obviously to anyone with any sense of awareness, a promiscuous, rude, insufferable thug culture. Drill rap for example exclusively comes from black men. We see that, almost exclusively young black men actually relish in acting like a violent criminal delinquent. They take pride in it. They flash gang signs. They have no problem with flashing guns in peoples faces in public. They cant pronounce "ask". Their women are extremely slutty. They will twerk on anything that moves. Black female rappers are almost all just promiscuous thots who 'sing' about sucking dick and getting fucked. It isn't cute, it isn't cool, its pathetic, it's degenerate, and it's repulsive. Black men also have no interest in raising their kids. The stereotype of fatherless black kids is true. This is due both because of their culture and because the government subsidizes single motherhood. Black people show no shame. They are not embarrassed by anything. However, one commendable aspect is that they are also afraid of nothing. They have backbone. If a black person doesn't like you, they will make sure you know and they won't be nice about it. Black people understand the importance of race. They are unified as a race. But this feature of black people also has baggage. They are very rude, they will get physical over very minor altercations, they are selfish, they are not considerate of anyone around them.

This IS black american culture. This is what black people know and it is how they live. We all know it. Even if you want to sit there and deny it or make excuses for it, we all know it's true.

Now the question is, is their culture the cause, or is it yet another effect of something greater? Well, as we saw before, black people commit much more crime all around the world, even in countries like sweden which welcomes them with open arms, and yet their crime has skyrocketed in recent years because of mass immigration from african and middle eastern countries. Sweden is not a racist country by any means. They wanted to help these people. But they cannot be helped. All efforts to give them a better life has been nothing but failure. They are not struggling to get by in europe, but they still commit more crime. Is it because black culture all around the world is just very similar or the same? Maybe it is, but that doesn't explain WHY. Why is this their culture? Did they just collectively telepathically decide to act like scum for no real reason? Obviously not. Something created this culture. Something drove them to collectively behave this way. We already know it's not because of socioeconomic issues, study after study disproves that. We know it's not because white people are just racist and out to get them. We can see that the difference in the rate of black people committing a crime and getting arrested for a crime is basically nothing. Western and northern europe which is well known today for accepting migrants with open arms, purposely throwing open their borders to let these people in, are obviously not racist. Racists don't let in millions of black and brown people to take up space in their homogenous white countries, and then start arresting people for objecting to it.

This leaves only one possible explanation. Race. Actual physical genetic race. Their genes. Their DNA. The way they evolved. "But race is just a social construct!" No it isn't. Do not play stupid. There are obvious visible and invisible differences between races. We have different skin color, we have different hair color, we have different hair texture, we have different eye color, we have different VOICES, we have different SKULL SHAPES, we have different noses, we have different lips, we even have different bone marrow. Black people are well known for their athletecism. They are the fastest runners. They are the furthest jumpers. They dominate sports like basketball and football. Asians for example are well known for being very smart. Even in broke countries like mongolia, the population is very smart, and in rich countries like the UAE, the people are very dumb. These are all observable features that we can see and record and study. Insinuating that certain races have positive features such as asians being smart and blacks being athletic, there is no problem with. People will agree with you without objection, and we even have studies that give simple explanations for why. But if you insinuate that certain races have features with NEGATIVE connotations, people dodge it. They go around it. They make every excuse in the book to explain that it is either not true or that there are non-racial explanations as to why. It isn't comfortable to people to insinuate that certain races have aspects that are lesser, just like pointing out that someone is fat is seen as rude, but pointing out that someone is skinny is not. Pointing out that someone is handsome is seen as charming, but pointing out that someone is ugly is mean. It is the same concept. People just don't want to accept that there are negative differences as well as positive ones. It's seen as racist. But every POSITIVE stereotype under the sun is well known by everyone and is not particularly socially unacceptable. Examples being black people have big dicks, black people jump high, black people run fast, asians are smart, hispanics are hard working, etc.

So, can the physical differences between the races be proven down to the core of their genetics and DNA? Let's see.

First we must prove that the different races are physically distinct, not just socially, and second we must prove that they have mental distinctions that cause them to behave differently.

First we must prove that the different races are physically distinct, not just socially, and second we must prove that they have mental distinctions that cause them to behave differently.

First we must disprove certain claims that races AREN'T physically distinct, and then we must make a case for the idea that they ARE distinct. I got most of the following points from: https://web.archive.org/web/20201208215006/http://thealternativehypothesis.org/, so I am simply giving the summary of many of the points, sources, and the article itself.

In 1972, Richard Lewontin argued that there was more genetic differentiation within the races, rather than between them, suggesting that it invalidates the idea that there are subspecies within the human race. He used Fst values to argue that there was only about a 6% difference between the human races, however, newer research has suggested that the difference is actually about twice that, around 12%. Regardless, the Fst metric is not a direct criterion for assessing subspecies, as said the man himself who INVENTED the metric, Sewall Wright. It is not a standard criterion for taxonomy, and it has mathematical limitations, especially in particularly diverse species such as humans with high heterozygosity, and so would cap the Fst at around 25%, underestimating the true differentiation within the species. Another flaw in the argument that most genetic differences between humans are within the races rather than between them, is that it only considers the quantity of differences, rather than the impact of the differences. They do not consider how significant the between race differences are, they only consider how many there are. For example, a difference that is huge in impact but small in quantity is the gene that contributes to the melanin in our skin, or the gene that gives people the ability to digest lactose. One single gene, but has a huge impact. A 2003 article by Jeffrey Long and Rick Kittles also explained how ridiculous using Fst as a criteria for subspecies is.

The following is a quote: "It is sometimes argued that human genetic variation is continuous and so grouping people into discrete categories is illegitimate. The flaw in the first argument is simple: organizing continuous variation into discrete categories can help us predict and explain the world, and, so, can be valid scientific categories. In fact, scientists often group continuous variation into discrete categories. Consider, for instance: Medical researchers break continuous blood pressure variation into discrete categories such as “high” and “low”. Physicists group continuous variation across the color spectrum into discrete colors such as “blue” and “green”. Social scientists break continuous variation in income into discrete categories such as “poor” and “rich”. In each of these cases, scientists are taking continuous variation and breaking it down into discrete categories because it is useful to do so. The usefulness of discrete categories comes from their power to predict. For instance, knowing that someone has “high” blood pressure, or knowing that someone is “poor”, can help you predict various other things about them. Similarly, knowing someone’s race can allow you to make predictions about any variable in which the races differ. Thus, racial categories are useful for prediction, which is a key function of science."

This article simply talks about how the idea of race being being a social construction does not necessarily mean it is also not biological. For example, gender is socially constructed but it is still tied to biology, seeing as how men are physically distinct from women. The article says quote "All categories, including scientific ones, are tools and their validity must be determined by whether or not they are useful. Simply noting that a category is man made tells us nothing about whether or not it can aide scientists in predicting and explaining the natural world. This, that race is socially constructed is irrelevant to its validity. It is important to realize that these “socially constructed” categories are also “biologically real” in that they are socially constructed ways to organize natural biological variation. We could choose another way. There are nearly countless ways you could group people based on biology. In fact, we often do chose other ways. For instance, when we talk about “diabetics” and “non-diabetics” we are talking about a way of categorizing humans, which we invented, based on biological differences between them. Does this mean that “diabetic” has no place in medical science? Hardly."

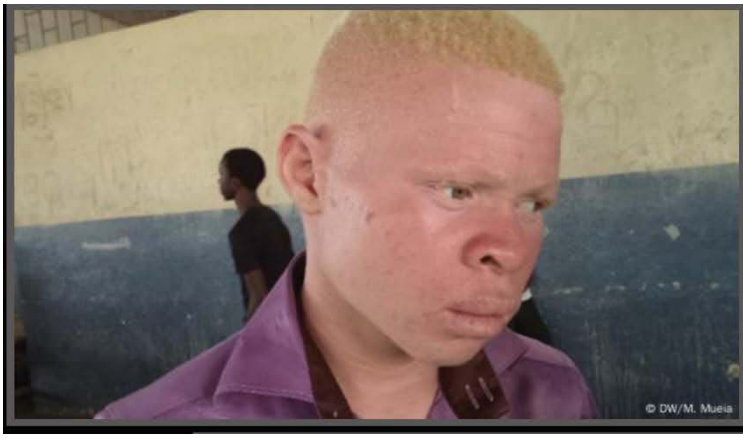
Next, I will prove that the races ARE biologically distinct. First, I will give you some visual anecdotal examples that any person with an ounce with intellectual honesty will agree with me on.

Take a look at this picture. He's albino. The kid has white skin, but his phenotype is OBVIOUSLY that of a sub-saharan african. Look at his lips, his nose, his hair. Europeans just DON'T look like this. It's exclusive to sub-saharan africans.

Take a look at this humorous, yet accurate photo comparison. We all know that no white woman looks anything like the bottom left panel, but it is completely normal for a black woman to look that way. It's a physical trait of black people. They have completely different facial structure than whites do. It's slightly less ridiculous for a black person to look like the top right slide, but its still very rare.



A common argument against the idea that race exists is that "humans have 99.9% the same DNA." This originated from Craig Venter in 2000, but in 2007 he went back for another analysis and found out that it was actually more like 99.5% DNA was the same between any two random individuals. Keep in mind though, this isn't some insignificant number. On the same scale, we also share 98.8% of our DNA with bonobos. That means humans have only about 1.2% DNA difference compared to literal apes, but any two random humans has an average of a 0.5% difference in DNA. That's barely a twofold difference, to go from humans to apes. This just shows how a far a tiny little number like 1.2% can go a very very long way, and that the 0.5% DNA difference between humans is not insignificant at all and should not be discarded.

So why DO humans look different? Well its all about the way they evolved. We already know that all biology adapts to it's environment. Humans are not exempt from this rule. Humans adapt to the environment that they exist in. It explains why people around the equator have dark skin, and people further from the equator have lighter skin. The melanin protects you from the UV rays, but when you dont get quite as much sun, such as in europe, its more beneficial to have LIGHTER skin, so that you can absorb more vitamin D, which is why white people evolved to have light skin, and black people evolved to have dark skin. Black people have wider noses, because it was more beneficial to have a such nose in the hot humid climate of africa. White people have SMALLER noses, because it was beneficial to evolve that way due to the cold arid climate. Pretty much every variable that we see between the races is explained by evolution. Adaptation to the environment. Same reason asians have slant eyes, blacks have large lips, blacks have elongated jaws, its all the same reason: evolution. Black people run faster because their center of mass is 3% higher than it is for white people, which gives them the advantage, and is the exact same reason why white people SWIM faster. We evolved differently! That's what it comes down to. We just evolved differently. More on that soon.

There is a concept we can use to help prove the existence of subspecies (race) within humans, which is called Heterozygosity. I'll spare you too much of the scientific jargon, but it's basically how much genetic variation you might find within a specific species. Michael Woodley found in 2009 that there was enough genetic variation between humans for there to be subspecies within the human species. For example, the heterozygosity for coyotes is .629, and coyotes have 19 different subspecies, but the heterozygosity for humans was closer to around .776.

We can compare Fst values of humans between that of other species, and see that other species who have a similar, or even lower Fst value, have recognized subspecies. For example, North American Coyotes have a Fst of 0.107, and have 19 recognized subspecies, whereas studies have found that humans have as high as 0.155 Fst. You can compare many other species and find similar results. Higher Fst means greater genetic differentiation within a species.

Another common rebuttal is that "the experts agree" that race doesn't exist. The trouble is, for one, that's a sort of argument from authority, not from logic, reasoning and evidence. Using "the experts agree" is just not a very good argument. You have to prove WHY they agree, and how the WHY is correct. Nevertheless, it's a weak point anyway, because there is no such consensus to suggest that the experts DO unanimously agree. Though, we do have SOME data as to what biologists and anthropologists believe. The following is a quote. "In 2008, Ann Morning looked at the usage of race in the 80 most commonly used high school biology textbooks from 1952-2002. While not as good as a survey of biologists, it gives us a rough indication of the trend in biology. What we see is a steep decline in the non-medical use of race, reaching a low point in 1983-1992, but an increase from 1992-2002, including an enormous increase in medical descriptions of race." Another quote: "In 2004, Leonard Lieberman reviewed several surveys of anthropologists in North America and Europe, and found that 31% of anthropologists in North America recognized race, while 43% in Europe recognized race." In 2009, Katarzyna Kaszycka surveyed physical anthropologists in Eastern and Western Europe, and divided the results up by age group, and found that the eastern european anthropologists were much more likely to say race DOES exist, and western ones were much more likely to say race DOESN'T exist. In fact, of the 21-35 age group, 92% of the eastern european ones said race IS real, and only 67% of the western ones said it WASNT real. This is an important clue as to how, where and why race denial emerged, but more on that later. I'll give you one more example, even though there are more, but I dont want to spend too much time on the topic of "do the experts agree?" This is yet another quote. "In 2001, Li Sun and Goran Strkalj looked at 779 articles in "Acta Anthropologica Sinica", China's only biological anthropological journal. They were able to get 74 of the 78 issues that existed from 1982 to 2001. In it they found that 324 articles dealt with human variation. They described their results: "When we applied Cartmill's approach to the Chinese sample we found that all of the articles used the race concept and none of them questioned its value. Since these active researchers are also members of the teaching staffs at various educational institutions, it is very likely that this attitude will be transmitted to the next generation of Chinese scientists." Of course it is possible that the views of the Chinese have changed since then. But there's no reason to think that they have. So the only place to have any evidence of a consensus on race at some point is in China, and it's that race exists."

It turns out that the BRAINS of the different races are different, too. It has been shown that we can accurately predict someone's race by the shape of their brain. Study after study has shown east asians have the largest brains, whites have the second largest, and blacks have the smallest. Samuel Morton, who published several pieces of work on cranial sizes of the different races, was critiqued in 1981 by Stephen Gould, saying that the researchers were biased when conducting their tests. However, a separate study critiqued Gould's critique, as they went back and measured the skulls themselves and found that Morton's data was accurate. One other way scientists figured out how to measure brain size was by the external size of the head, which is a lot easier to do, since your subjects can be alive and many in numbers. Again, they found the same result: asians and whites have larger brains than blacks.

But why do our brain sizes differ? Several reasons. One of the largest reasons is probably because of the way we evolved in response to the surrounding climate. Quote: "Several studies have found that the population's brain size correlates with climate related variables. For instance, one study's data set produces a correlation of .74 between a population's brain size and its latitude. Similarly, another study found a correlation of .48 between the size of 109 fossilized human skulls and the latitude at which they were found. Further still, one other study analyzed 175 skulls ranging in age from 10,000 years old to 1.9 million years old and found a correlation of -.41 between brain size and winter temperature and -.61 between size and latitude (larger brains were found in areas more distant from the equator). This also, by the way, constitutes a seventh argument for a genetic explanation of racial brain size differences. After all, this data shows that, broadly speaking, the same geographic variables that predict brain size today also did so 10,000+ years ago, suggesting that population brain size differences have been with us for a very long time. This data also gives us reason to think that distance from the equator, and the cold climates that come with it, had something to do with the evolutionary pressures that lead to racial differences in brain size."

There are several other reasons why our brain sizes are different, but it's just too much to unpack so I will give a brief summary of some of them. For one, we know already that the brain size is almost entirely inherited, which tracks. We can also see that brain size is different in infancy as well, not just adulthood. Several studies also showed that the brain size of mulattoes (half white half black) was right in between that of the difference of blacks and whites. Coincidence? Of course, say the race deniers. Nonsense, say we realists. Lastly, qoute: " many traits which tend to co-evolve with larger brains also differ racially in a way that mirrors the body size adjusted brain size pattern. Rushton and Rushton (2003) looked at 37 anatomical features which 3 textbooks on human evolution identified as tending to co-evolve in the hominid line with larger brains. For instance, larger pelvic size tends to co-evolve with brain size so that mothers can give birth to larger brained infants. Rushton then utilized 5 forensic anthropology textbooks to look at racial differences in these traits. These traits followed the East Asian>White>Black pattern in 25 out of 31 cases. The probability of this happening at random is .000000001"

Somewhat irrelevant, but i still found it funny, i reverse searched this image here on the left and found a reddit post on r/awfuleverything (see it here: https://www.reddit.com/r/awfuleverything/comments/1cwy9lo/i_have_no_words/)

And the comments are all like "Yeah its almost like we are different" but they dont realize that they are just affirming the views of race realists. Yeah, we ARE physically different. You know how else we are different? Mentally. Why is it so easy for people to grasp that we have physical differences but so hard for them to understand that we have mental differences too? Well, rhetorical question, we already know why. Negative connotation.

But I mean seriously, do these people fucking hear themselves? They blatantly admit that we are physically different because of the way we evolved. HUMANS evolved to be very smart animals, its what makes us great. But somehow, the idea that white people evolved to be smarter, and blacks not so much, is foreign and racist and a horrible nazi idea? What??? Like everyone agrees we have different physical structure, but our brains?? NOOOO!!!!!! Our brains all have the exact same potential!!!! Our brains evolved EXACTLY the same!!! Stop being a fucking bigot!!! Give me a fucking break

They are entirely correct. Many black people, especially indigenous people, do have physical differences in their morphology that aren't skin color, such as elongated skulls, large lips/mouths, and prominent jaws.
This is due to evolution causing subtle differences in human morphology depending on our environment and does not mean they are lesser in any way.

We can compare Fst values of humans between that of other species, and see that other species who have a similar, or even lower Fst value, have recognized subspecies. For example, North American Coyotes have a Fst of 0.107, and have 19 recognized subspecies, whereas studies have found that humans have as high as 0.155 Fst. You can compare many other species and find similar results. Higher Fst means greater genetic differentiation within a species.

Here's another silly example of how race deniers have a complete lack of self awareness. Just absolutely have no idea that they are literally debunking their own arguments. This article says that "evolution, not race" explains the attributes between the races. Uhhhhhh, yeah, what the hell do you think race IS? Race is a PRODUCT of evolution. It's not a separate concept. There are separate races BECAUSE of evolution. Just as there are different subspecies or species of ANY kind of animal. Race is a PRODUCT of evolution, not the cause. Just as we have both siberian and bengal tigers, we also have both black and white humans. It is the exact same concept. Source: https://www.sapiens.org/biology/is-race-real/

In one of the most widely cited papers in anthropology, American biological anthropologist Frank Livingstone helped to explain the evolution of sickle cell. He showed that places with a long history of agriculture and endemic malaria have a high prevalence of sickle cell trait (a single copy of the allele). He put this information together with experimental and clinical studies that showed how sickle cell trait helped people resist malaria, and made a compelling case for sickle cell trait being selected for in those areas. Evolution and geography, not race, explain sickle cell anemia.

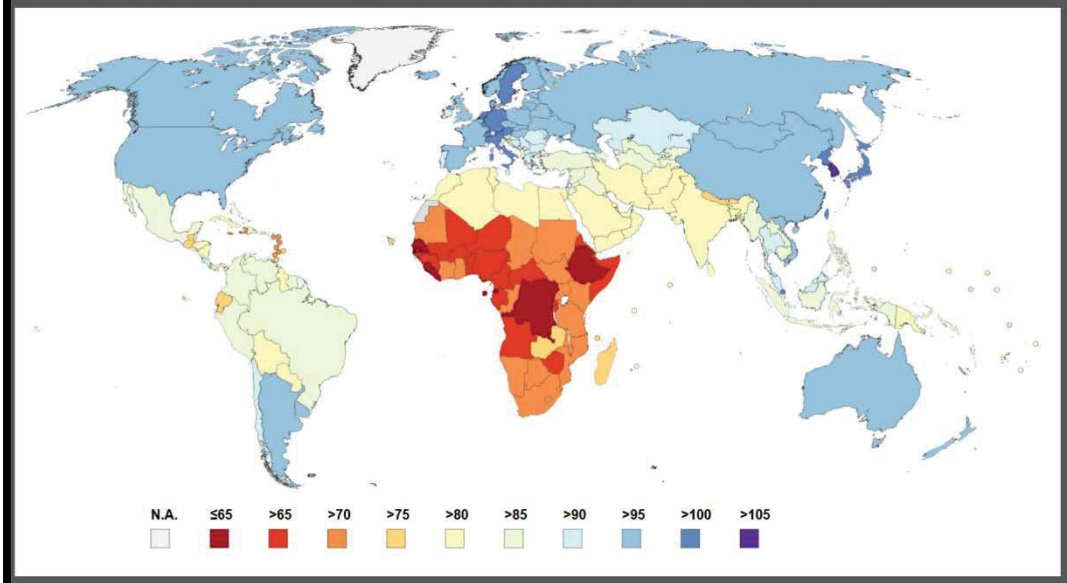
It should be sufficiently proven at this point that race is, in fact, a real observable biological concept. No different than subspecies of any other mammal. But what, then, does all of it mean? How does this translate to black people committing more crime, exhibiting obnoxious behaviour, and generally being an unproductive liability of any society they inhabit? It's all about their BRAINS. It's how their brains evolved. We saw before that their brains are pretty much the smallest of all the races, and that tracks. African countries have the lowest average IQs in the world. Look at this map below.



We can very obviously see that the highest IQ countries are majority white and majority east asian, and the lowest IQ countries are majority sub-saharan african, and the ones somewhere in the middle are the rest, mainly the south asians, arabs, and north africans (not black).

However, this can be explained. Some reasonable concerns about this map are: how valid is the measurement of IQ? Are there other variables other than race that influence IQ such as environmental factors? Worry not. I have the answers. I'll start very basic. What does IQ stand for? Intelligence Quotient. What is the point of IQ tests? They assess a person's intellectual potential, and are a solid predictor of life outcomes. This table from the book "The Scientific American Book of the Brain" shows the percentages of each IQ bracket and their life outcomes.

Out of labor force for 1 month	22	19	15	14	10
Had an illegitimate child	32	17	8	4	2
Lives in Poverty	30	16	6	3	2
Was ever incarcerated	7	7	3	1	2
Welfare recipient	31	17	8	1	2
High School Dropout	55	35	6	0.4	0.6

We can very obviously see that higher IQ correlates with greater success in life. One other study used various metrics, including IQ, to assess what best predicts work performance, and found that IQ was the 3rd best indicator, out of 13.

So we know people from africa have lower IQs, but what about americans of african descent? This could help us see if there is an environmental factor. One way we can check the collective IQ of the different races in america is by looking at test scores such as SATs and ACTs.

Unsurprisingly, we see that the scores on this table track exactly like they do on the world map IQ chart, and they also track with the brain size studies. Asians are the smartest, whites are slightly below asians, and blacks are the dumbest.

I should mention at this point, that a person's IQ is mostly explained by genetic factors, and is inherited. Some of it is explained by environmental factors, but most of it is hereditary.

Source: https://web.archive.org/web/20161114181852/http://isites.harvard.edu/fs/docs/icb.topic1169974.files/Bouchard%20McGue%202003.pdf

This book here, written by Richard Lynn, titled "Race Difference in Intelligence" explains a great many things. It explains that most of a person's IQ can be explained by genetics, it explains that even white people who live in africa have higher IQs than black people who live in africa. It explains that 30% of rejections of black people in the military were due to low IQ, as opposed to only 3% of whites. It explains that black people with more white ancestry have higher IQs than black people with very little white ancestry. Like what, are white people calculating in how racist they are to a person depending on how much white blood someoone has in their body? Obviously not. Racists are notorious for the "one drop" rule. There's literally no reason that a person who is half black and half white would have a higher IQ than pure black people, other than genetic factors, if the explanation for black americans having low IQ is "environmental factors caused by systemic racism." As if the system perfectly measures how much white and black blood a person has in them to decide how poor they should be, thus reflecting on their IQ tests. This IQ difference even reflects in countries other than america. It reflects in africa, too. We can see that half-black half-white people living in africa show EXACTLY the same story: higher IQ than pure blacks, lower IQ than pure whites. This book also shows that the african american IQ, which is around an average of 85, also shows up at as low as age 3, which greatly descredits theories that poor education contribute substantially to the low IQ of africans. IQ tests take age into account when measuring scores, by the way, if you didn't know.

This book ALSO proves, however, that environment DOES play SOME role in a person's IQ, but not the majority of the role. For instance, black people in africa have an average IQ of about 71, but black people in america have an average of about 85. What's funny though, is that white people seem to have an average of about 100 in both africa and in america. Yet another piece of evidence to discredit the idea that environmental factors such as socioeconomics and systemic racism are the biggest influencer, is that we can look at IQs of black people in OTHER countries, such as britain and canada, which have very little history of oppressing black people, and we see that, just as expected, black IQs are LOWER than whites, around 85. It's the exact same story no matter where you go. Belgium, netherlands, france, even israel, it just doesn't matter. Their IQs are lower literally everywhere you look. It's impossible to call european countries racist today because you will literally get arrested and go to jail if you say something racist in european countries like britain and germany, not to mention how they intentionally opened their borders to let in millions of african immigrants, welcoming them with open arms, which is something racist countries do NOT do, and what did we see? Low IQ, violent, disorderly, unproductive masses flooding in and wreaking havoc.

This book also proves the validity of IQ tests, and that they predict school grades both in africa and in the US and Britain at about the same level, and that sub-saharan africans perform just as poorly on school tests as they do on IQ tests. This book explains that the african and european race evolved independently for about 100,000 years, which, by the way, is more than enough time for subspecies to diverge from each other. The consistency in which africans obtain low IQs pretty much no matter where they go is a strong indication for genetic factors playing a significant role. If environmental factors were the biggest or even the only factor in IQ, we would expect to find countries where africans have equal or higher IQs than europeans, but no such data has ever been found. The brain size difference between blacks and whites, which is also higly heritable by the way, correlated with the difference in intelligence. Even more interesting, black children adopted by middle class white families STILL exhibit lower IQs, evidently. Ain't that about a bitch? Even when you take socioeconomics out of the equation, they still have lower IQs. Not to mention that those who shout that racism is why black IQs are lower, do not explain why. There is no known mechanism by which supposed white racism could impair the IQs of blacks, and that idea is further discredited by the fact that black IQs are actually LOWER in mainland africa, where they do not experience white racism. The next is a quote: "Furthermore, if racism lowers intelligence, it is remarkable that Jews in the United States and Britain should have IQs of around 110 (Lynn, 2011b), since Jews have been exposed to racism for many centuries. The high IQ of American Jews has been well known since the 1930s and has been extensively documented by Storfer (1990), MacDonald (1994), and Herrnstein and Murray (1994), yet it goes curiously unmentioned by environmentalists like Flynn, Brody, Neisser, Mackintosh, Jencks and Phillips, Nisbett, Montagu, and Fish." This logic could also be applied to asians and hispanics, both of which have higher IQs than blacks. Like, again, this brings up the ridiculous scenario that "actually white people choose by PERCENTAGE how racist they will be to certain races." in fact, if IQ were driven by racism, this must mean that white people are the OPPOSITE of racist towards asians, seeing as how they are SMARTER THAN US!! Like, are we artificially boosting asians just as we are supposedly artificially bringing down blacks? I think not.

This book has given sufficient evidence that IQ IS racial and genetic, but a very good question is.. why? The book explains that europeans evolved to have higher intelligence, mainly because we evolved in a brutal, cold environment, such as during the Ice Ages, which was the main selection pressure for increase in brain size and intelligence. Europeans and east asians greater reliance on hunting exerted selection pressure for higher intelligence as well, especially spacial ability. Africans just did not have the same harsh conditions as europeaons did, and so high intelligence wasn't particularly useful for evolution in africa, whereas it was crucial in europe, where only the brightest could survive the harsh winters and a mainly hunting diet.

Overall this book is fantastic on this topic, and explains much more, but I think I have given enough evidence at this point that IQ is genetically influenced, not just environmentally, and a huge part of that is race.

The conclusion of the writer is this: "The IQs of the races set out in Chapters 3 through 12 can be explained as having arisen from the different environments in which they evolved, in particular from the struggle for survival during the Ice Ages and from the appearance of mutations for higher intelligence among the races with larger populations and under the greatest stress from cold winters. The IQ differences between the races explain the differences in achievement in making the Neolithic transition from hunter-gathering to settled agriculture, the building of early civilizations, and the development of mature civilizations during the last 2,000 years. The position of “environmentalists”—that over the course of some 100,000 years peoples separated by geographical barriers in different parts of the world evolved into 10 distinct races with pronounced genetic differences in morphology, blood groups, and the incidence of genetic diseases, and yet have identical genotypes for intelligence—is so improbable that those who advance it must either be totally ignorant of the basic principles of evolutionary biology or else have a political agenda to deny the importance of race. Or both."

The last thing to go over, before closing, is, why is the black race VIOLENT? We know they are dumb, but why violent? It would be good to first mention the obvious fact that men commit far more violent crime than women do, and this is explained simply by our biology. The neuorobiology and psychology of men is just much more aggressive than that of women. The biggest factor, though, is testosterone. Men obviously have much more testosterone than women do, and testosterone is highly linked to aggression and dominant behaviour. Also, the prefrontal cortex, which regulates impulse control, tends to mature later in men, resulting in less restraint during high stress situations. There's a bunch of reasons that men are more violent, but testosterone and just the way the brain works overall is pretty much the crux of it. But how does that tie in to black violence? Well, it turns out that black people have higher testosterone, and due to lower CAG repeat within the androgen receptor gene, are more sensitive to it's effects. There is also the factor of the MAOA gene. The low activity variants of the MAOA gene (2 and 3 repeat alleles) are strongly linked to aggression and antisocial behaviour, and it turns out that black males are FIFTY TWO TIMES more likely to carry the 2-repeat allele than white males are, and that black males who carry said allele were significantly more likely to be arrested and incarcerated. The final thing I will mention is how their IQ affects their predisposition to crime. It turns out that, unsurprisingly, lower IQ leads to higher crime rates, and that a large portion of the black-white crime gap can be explained by the gap in IQ between the races. Studies consistently show that there is a negative correlation between IQ and crime rates. One specific study found out that men who had been to jail had a mean IQ of about 89, and that men who had not been to jail had a mean IQ of about 100. Another study found that, even when controlling for poverty and unemployment, that there was an association between verbal IQ and probability of being arrested. All of this tracks. 100% of this data tracks.

Perhaps it is time, with this overwhelming evidence, to say, not that "poor socioeconomic factors and racism are the cause of crime and low IQ", but rather that "crime and low IQ are the cause of cause racism and poor socioeconomic factors." Perhaps now, it is time to wake up, and accept the world for what it is, rather than what you want it to be.

What do we do about all of this?

One thing is for sure, we shouldn't have to live like this. We don't have to live like this. We CAN'T keep living like this. There are actual tangible differences between the huamn races, and the "benefits" of diversity and acceptance, do not come even close to outweighing the consequences that come with allowing these people to live amongst us. I do not care if black people treat each other like shit, but to come to other homogenous countries, and treat THEM like shit, use up their benefits, take advantage of their hospitality, and then proceed to call them racist, wreak havoc, commit crime, rape their women, and murder their men, it is unacceptable and we can tolerate it no longer. We do not have to put up with this behaviour. It's time for white people to grow a fucking spine and exile these people from our societies. I am not calling for a genocide, black people may be stupid and violent but they are still humans. I wouldn't genocide bears, for example, for being dumb and violent, I would just leave them in their natural habitat: the forest. Just as we should leave bears in the forest, we should leave other races in their respective homelands. Africa for africans, europe for europeans, asia for asians. Multiculturalism was a brutal failed experiment. The most culturally diverse countries in the world are the worst in the world. America became a 1st world country when it was homogenous, but ever since then, the white population has greatly declined, and we are popularly cited as "a third world country with a gucci belt" and "the most violent first world country." But then they all collectively decide "it must be the guns." Ummm, no, its not the fucking guns. It's the blacks. They literally commit more than HALF of our murders. If we were to remove all races from america other than whites and asians, our homicide rate would be literally the same as finland, a country which, by the way, ALSO has tons of guns. So does SWITZERLAND. Nobody complains about switzerland or finland. Neither of them have violence problems. America does not have a gun problem, it has a black people problem, and we have to solve it. There are really three ways we could go about this, but it will be a lot easier for europe to do it than it will be for us, because european citizens dont have guns so it's easy to kick out the riff-raff without resistance. The first way would be to pull an 'El-Salvador', and viciously bring back order to crime ridden areas AKA black areas. Like literally deploy the national guard. Declare a national emergency. Start getting extremely harsh with criminal sentences. Death sentences are to be the mandatory punishment for rape and murder, and they are to be carried out very swiftly after the sentencing, and it shall be by either firing squad or hanging. No more sitting on death row for 20 years, wasting our time, no more super expensive lethal injection. Murderers and rapists dont deserve a peaceful death. They are lucky if all we do is give them the firing squad. Anyone who commits one felony (other than rape or murder) will be given a second chance. Anyone who committs a second non-consecutive felony will be given life in prison. No more releasing obvious recidivists who will eventually inevitably be shot by police only after they have terrorized the populace for decades. We will patrol black high crime areas like no tomorrow, and quickly and very efficiently carry out arrests on known gang members and drug dealers. This, unfortunately, will not likely solve the problem, but it WILL greatly reduce the symptoms. We would likely still have to due with the rude and careless behaviour of the blacks who dont really commit crime, but this is far better than nothing. The second way we can solve the problem is to bring back segregation to the united states. And I mean REAL segregation. White ONLY areas, black ONLY areas. Whites will not be allowed to enter the black areas, and blacks will certainly not be allowed to enter the white areas. This outcome is less desirable than the final alternative, but it would be a lot easier and it's far better than ignoring the problem altogether. The last thing we could do is mass exile. They were kidnapped from their home of africa, it's time to rectify this mistake, this injustice, and send them back in mass back to their rightful home. Load every black person onto a boat, and send them back. The problem with this is it would be extremely difficult. Black people aren't likely just gonna say "yes sir!" and walk onto the boat, leaving everything behind. This outcome would likely take either the outbreak of a civil race war that white people win (we would), or an overwhelming, and I mean OVERWHELMING shift of white people, both male and female, to the far right, so that we could vote to have them exiled. But even if we did that, it would be a nightmare and would probably take years, if we could pull it off at all. We might be able to, however, offer incentives to denounce citizenship and willingly be shipped back to africa, maybe with a few thousand dollars in your pocket as a thank you for getting the hell away from us. We could make it hard for black people to stay, and easy for them to leave. We can choose any one of these options, or maybe we could even come up with something else, but we have to do SOMETHING. We CANNOT sit here idly and watch them replace us, which, by the way, they ARE. Blacks, hispanics, and native hawaiians all have a higher fertility rate than white people do in america, and we have to put an end to it. It doesn't matter if it's intentional or not, it has to stop. They have to leave one way or the other. White people will become minorities in their own countries and be wiped off the planet unless we do something, FAST. Other races do NOT like us, especially not black people.

Hughes used the allegedly stolen money to buy a Mercedes-Benz G550 Wagon 4X4 Squared.

She was hungry for money.

A Missouri charity boss swiped nearly $11 million meant for starving, low-income kids and blew it on lavish items such as mansions and a flashy yellow Mercedes for her boyfriend, prosecutors said Tuesday.

Bobo allegedly used the stolen funds to buy seven properties — including a $1 million mansion in St. Charles (above).

The fact that niggers always chimp out when interacting with cops or authority, you really get the feeling that their average and below IQ is better described as feral instead of retarded. I often wonder how people mistook them for intelligent life. Most of their language is just a positive or negative reaction. The few authors their species have command English so poorly that I can't tell if he put his gun or his dick in someone's mouth (Thugs Cry series by Ca$h). Their command of English is so poor because they don't think with words or even at all. The context doesn't even enlighten such passages, just boasts about "this is how real niggas do on da street yo" kind of bullshit. I don't even know if he raped, murdered, fucked, or just intimidated someone. And demonstrating memory recall and story telling and some level of self reflection via expressed regret, he's got to be smarter than the average nigger to even write this piece of shit.

Most of them, I am convinced, just repeat sounds learned through association and nothing more. It explains everything. It's why they drop out of school, school is not an immediate reward but an abstract one, so they can't conceive of why it's important because they lack abstract thought. Same for farming. It's why Haitians dig up the soil and eat the seeds. They aren't just too stupid to invent farming, or too stupid to learn farming, they cannot conceive of farming. They want to satisfy their drive today and behave as a rodent would.

All these interactions with police make way more sense when you stop assuming they are people. Imagine an animal control team approaching a feral dog. No foresight, no concept of being hopelessly outnumbered. It's going to try to bite them or run away. Niggers seemingly have no concept that a speeding ticket is a small deal, they enter fight or flight on the drop of a hat when it's totally illogical. It would probably be beneficial if police adapted animal control strategies in dealing with them, like carry around some snickers bars or a McDonalds and offer that to them first so they calm down. It sounds patronizing as hell but stop thinking of them as people. Would animal control start dealing with a feral dog by shouting at it to sit and smacking it if it doesn't? Or do they throw a hamburger at it and try to pet it? Like, that's really the level these feral niggers are at.

You can explain most nigger behavior with animal instincts.

1. "Unknown force approacheth, engage fight or flight response."
2. "Something weak, prey upon to my advantage."
3. "Food appears when I do this"
4. "Mate with me! Not him!"

Their behavior boils down to simple associations and a few "if-then" processes based on immediate stimuli. I could probably program an accurate Average Nigger simulator on a ti-83 calculator.

It really goes to show the level of average white intelligence that we would have anyone confuse niggers for humans.

Well put. I've been developing this exact thought since I saw this one video on YouTube. I was browsing disorder-in-the-court vids for good footage of inappropriate chimpouts, and there was a really jarring one.

In this video, the whole family is wearing church clothes for their dindu son's sentencing. It was a plea deal, so they all knew the sentence beforehand. If they had a human-tier IQ, this would have been a boring formality. Instead, when the judge said "15 years," or whatever it was for attempted murder, the nog mothership started explosive decompression. That set off the others, and before you know it the huge linebacker-looking nig boyfriend is in a shoving match with a 500-year-old white bailiff. It all looks set to habben. But then it all got short-circuited when the family's pastor got involved.

This nig of God was big and round, and he had that preacher's voice niggers like. He got between the troupe of 'boons and the law, and he bellowed: "I am yo' pastor, and I say SIT DOWN!"

Worked like a charm. Chimps back in their cages, nice and docile. Not even any arrests. In the comments, somebody asked why the preacher started off by introducing himself to the family that obviously knew him and invited him to be there. I realized it's because he wasn't speaking the way whites understand the concept.

In this context, "I am yo' pastor!" doesn't convey any more information than clapping or snapping fingers would. It's just a way of shorting out the nigs' chimp subroutine and refocusing their attention. Then, when they're freshly susceptible to command input, he directed an obvious and simple order to them and they complied at once. Astonishingly graceful handling technique.

That's when I came to really understand the niggers' brains. Certain stimuli put them into fugue states, where there's no reasoning with them. I'll bet if we trained them to associate the sound of air horns with blasts of cold water, cops wouldn't need pepper spray anymore. Just blast the horn to reorient their attention and power-cycle their heads.

You can explain most nigger behavior with animal instincts.

1. "Unknown force approacheth, engage fight or flight response."
2. "Something weak, prey upon to my advantage."
3. "Food appears when I do this"
4. "Mate with me! Not him!"

Their behavior boils down to simple associations and a few "if-then" processes based on immediate stimuli. I coulc

Sort of. Most conversation makes more sense when you realize it's just a verbal handshake >how are you doing?
>great, and you?
>fine, thanks
>that's good
If you try to do actual exchanges of information, it's like they stuck out their hand and you pinched their fingers individually. Same with workplace light conversation, it's all subtext. The words you use are just convenient for conveying the real message everyone's sending and receiving, which is just saying "we care about the same things and are on the same side" >catch the game last night?
>yeah, feeling like playoffs this year >maybe if Player X turns around >lol yeah
blah blah blah just a social ritual, the only time actual information is being communicated is when it's work related. This fucks autists up because we think communicating is for communicating instead of just reassuring everyone we're on the same team
Coincidentally, 100% of communication with women works this way

Don't make the mistake of thinking these people are stupid. They simply have different goals, while you or I care about truth and seek it, they care solely about power, if you understand this you will see how their seemingly stupid actions start to make sense, no matter the situation they will always seek to be in a position of power, perceived or otherwise, some common tactics include belittling, lying, manipulation, gaslighting, aligning with authority, faking victimhood, virtue signalling and whatever else allows them to attempt to talk down to people like you and I who they perceive to be a threat.

This is why they are so puzzled at the idea the elites would kill them, they know they are not stupid but instead evil, they think they are on the same team as those in power and will likewise do and say anything to get ahead in life, this perceived power also makes them arrogant which is misunderstood as stupidity.

They are not mindless cattle, they are the type of people who would sell their own family to get ahead in life, they are scum.

Explain it to me like I took the vaccine for a free donut.

THE DARK SIDE OF THE MOON

In the autumn of 1969 I discussed questions of the occult with the poet Robert Graves at his home in Majorca. Graves immediately made a remark that startled me. 'Occult powers are not so rare. One person in every twenty possesses them in some form.'

What interested me so much was the exact figure: 5 per cent. This is also the figure for the 'dominant minority' among human beings. In the early years of this century, Bernard Shaw asked the explorer Henry Stanley how many of his men could take over leadership of the party if he, Stanley, were ill. 'One in twenty,' said Stanley. 'Is that figure exact or approximate?' 'Exact.'

The matter of the dominant 5 per cent was rediscovered during the Korean War by the Chinese. Wishing to economise on man-power, they decided to divide their American prisoners into two groups: the enterprising ones and the passive ones. They soon discovered that the enterprising soldiers were exactly one in twenty: 5 per cent. When this dominant 5 per cent was removed from the rest of the group, the others could be left with almost no guard at all.

Evidence from zoology indicates that the 'dominant 5 per cent' may apply to all animals.

Merz filed nearly 5,000 criminal complaints against online critics

SUMMARY

In his former role as opposition leader, CDU chairman and Federal Chancellor Friedrich Merz filed thousands of criminal complaints for alleged online insults against him — signing them all by hand, up to and including number 4999, Nius reports.

He utilized a cease-and-desist firm that charges 50% of any damages collected, contradicting his claims of donating compensation to charity. Some complaints led to house searches by the police, with one being labeled "unlawful" after a social welfare recipient's phone was seized for calling him a "little Nazi."

The use of private cease-and-desist firms is part of a larger trend against "hate speech" in Germany since 2019. Professor Frauke Rostalski warns that this leads to "forms of self-censorship" and disproportionate reactions to lawful expressions.

Despite numerous investigations, actual convictions are rare, raising concerns about the balance of power between politicians and citizens in Germany.

> Here's the full thing:
> https://www.archives.gov/files/research/jfk/releases/104-10125-10133.pdf

Some notable highlights:

- He was a marxist communist, unironically. Hunter Pitts O'Dell (administrative assistant to MLK, but mostly Levison, and later editor of 'Freedomways') was a card-carrying communist who had regular meetings with the KGB contacts. The Russians were interested in MLK because the other black nationalist alternatives wanted riots, which would be more easily identified as foreign interference.
- Stanley David Levison (communist jew) and Clarence Jones (catholic nigger) are on record calling MLK a retard. They didn't permit him to say anything without their approval first. He had to be extensively coached to speak well, as his early rallies were awful. Levison tried to ghost-write books for King, but the editor thought it was too obvious that a nigger didn't write any of it. Levison basically piloted King through the motions because he believed it would bring about socialist revolution when King was (in his mind: inevitably) assassinated.
- Literally every single speech writer for MLK was in a communist group. The prior two mentioned, Lawrence Reddick, Bayard Rustin, Clarence Jones, Harry Wachtel, Anne Aston Warder Norton. This isn't FBI paranoia, all of them were either listed members of some pro-communist group that regularly had meetings and/or were in contact with confirmed KGB. Worth noting that a lot of these communist groups disguised themselves as college campus clubs and used them to recruit.
- SCLC (Southern Christian Leadership Conference) keeps popping up in the document. Every listed member was also observed attending the communist get-togethers described above. Negro rights groups were identified as useful idiots who not only occupied the labor class, but were so historically marginalized that they would quickly agree to any plan (including violence) when necessary. MLK was instrumental as a peacebroker figure (particularly his Nobel Peace Prize) and could use this reputation to endorse communism. At the same time, he was encouraged to tell lies that would enrage the population, like insisting most of the U.S. casualties in Vietnam were black. MLK ultimately refused.
- There were plans to have MLK run for president alongside Dr. Benjamin Spock, but Levison and crew believed this would get the FBI investigating them (lmao) and figure out they were communists. This was also around the time they decided MLK being on the "peace ticket" wasn't getting him anywhere, and focusing on race agitation would elevate his reputation more rapidly before his probable death.
- American Foundation of Nonviolence (via Harry Wachtel) and SCLC were closely related for the purposes of laundering and funneling money (attained through fundraising and public speaking deals.) Paypigs included Merrill Lynch, Ford Foundation, Franklin D. Roosevelt III, the governor of New York (and a Rockefeller), Gandhi, and Edward Lamb (very wealthy mogul who owned broadcasting and financial entities.)
- Some of the money raised through public speaking, donations, etcetera was used to host private parties MLK attended. Informants and at least one invited preacher (who hated MLK after attending) described the place as full of homosexuals having gay sex, orgies and whatever the hell "whiskey tricks" are. There's apparently a long list of MLK holding these sorts of sex parties. He had a fetish for white women, apparently, and "teaching them" how to be whores. MLK is also a baby daddy with an illegitimate child. Was also fucking Joan Baez.

Never forget that Obama is the stepson of the 6th richest man on earth, a warlors in SE Asia. Who Bush Sr as head of CIA used to do missions. GW would give hard candies to child obama. Who's mom was a USAID asset (shit too dirty for CIA to touch, so they renamed that arm USAID)
Which is why Big Mike always laughs when GW gives obama a hard candy till this day.

Every POTUS is related to each other via King John of England (british royalty...at the founding of England) Except for Van Buren, who is only 5th cousins to Teddy Roosevelt. Essentially every POTUA candidate that ran against the winner, was also british royal blood from King John of England.

It's almost as if everyone is always connected. Like how GW Bush and family met with Osama Bin Laden's brother in Saudi Arabia ~1-2wks before 9/11. To do an oil deal, as they're great long time feienda, the Bin Laden's and Bush's. Bush Sr as head of CIA, trained Osama Bin Laden and his militia how to fight & funded them & provided unlimited weapons.

Both Bill Cooper (1st) and the Alex Jones in July 2001 (2nd) predixted that CIA would fly a plane into the twin towers & blame "the boogeyman they need", Osama Bin Laden

Clinton refused CIA's demanda to kidnap Bin Laden in late 1998. At the same time that netanyahu tried to blackmail Clinton, trading the mossad honeypot (((Lewinsky))) tapes that mossad asset(((Linda Tripp))) recorded. In exchange for setting free the worst spy in USA history, Jonathan Pollard, whose direct handler at mossad was netanyahu for those decades when he stole the CIA, FBI, etc opwratjons manuals & provided all the top secret military intel to netanyahu (pollard was military intelligence)

Netanyahu was waiting on the tarmac when he was finished with probation after decades in prison, and landed in israel as a king. Immediately stating that all jews have dual liyalty to israel first & demanded all jews spy for israel.

All people are always connected. It's simply about finding the connections

I believe in the American people. I am one of you.

I believe you are good, talented, creative, intelligent, hard working, and want to achieve.

I am solidly against you being replaced by foreign labor, like with H1Bs.

I am solidly against allowing foreign students into our colleges and universities, like 600,000 Chinese students, just to financially prop them up. If they fail, they fail. The system in place isn't helping our young people anyways.

I am against foreign aid, foreign wars, and sending a single dollar to foreign countries.

I am against bringing any foreign leader that is a terrorist or oversees killing innocent people into our country and into the Oval Office. They do not deserve our support.

I am elected to represent my district and the American people, no other country, and I only serve Americans.

Marjorie Taylor Greene: "That's what we did by fighting so hard against the most powerful people in the world, even the president, in order to make this vote happen. I was called a traitor by a man that I fought for 6 years for. I gave him my loyalty for free. I've never owed him anything. Let me tell you what a traitor is -- a traitor is an American that serves foreign countries."

From the Desk of
MARJORIE TAYLOR GREENE

I've always represented the common American man and woman as a member of the House of Representatives which is why I've always been despised in Washington DC and never fit in.

Americans are used by the Political Industrial Complex of both Political Parties, election cycle after election cycle, in order to elect whichever side can convince Americans to hate the other side more.

And the results are always the same.

No matter which way the political pendulum swings, Republican or Democrat, nothing ever gets better for the common American man or woman.

The debt goes higher.

Corporate and global interests remain Washington's sweethearts.

American jobs continue to be replaced whether it's by illegal labor or legal labor by visas or just shipped overseas.

Small businesses continue to be swallowed by big corporations.

Americans' hard earned tax dollars always fund foreign wars, foreign aid, and foreign interests.

The spending power of the dollar continues to decline.

The average American family can no longer survive on a single bread winner's income as both parents must work in order to simply survive.

And today, many in my children's generation feel hopeless for their future and don't think they will ever realize the American dream, which breaks my heart.

I ran for Congress in 2020 and have fought every single day believing that Make America Great Again meant America First. I have one of the most conservative voting records in Congress defending the 1st amendment, 2nd amendment, unborn babies because I believe God creates life at conception, strong safe borders, I've fought against Covid tyrannical insanity and mandated mass vaccinations, and I've never voted to fund foreign wars.

However with almost one year into our majority, the legislature has been mostly sidelined, we endured an 8 week shut down wrongly resulting in the House not working for the entire time, and we are entering campaign season which means all courage leaves and only safe campaign re-election mode is turned on.

During the longest shutdown in our nation's history, I raged against my own Speaker and my own party for refusing to proactively work diligently to pass a plan to save American healthcare and protect Americans from outrageous overpriced and unaffordable health insurance policies. The House should have been in session working everyday to fix this disaster, but instead America was forced fed disgusting political drama once again from both sides of the aisle.

My bills which reflect many of President Trump's Executive Orders like calling for a new census counting Americans only to draw new districts, making English the official language of the US, making it a felony to medically trans a minor, and other bills like eliminating capital gains taxes on the sale of your home and eliminating H1B visas just sit collecting dust. That's how it is for most members of Congress's bills, the Speaker never brings them to the floor for a vote.

Many common Americans are no longer easily convinced by paid political propaganda spokespersons and consultants on TV and paid shills on social media obediently serving with cult-like conviction to force others to swallow the political party talking points.

Because they know how much credit card debt they have, they know how much their own bills have gone up over the past 5 years, they actually do their own grocery shopping and know food cost too much, their rent has increasingly gone up, they have been outbid by corporate asset managers too many times when they put in an offer to buy a house, they have been laid off after being forced to train their visa holding replacement, the college degree they were told to earn only left them in debt with no big six figure salary, they see more homeless people than ever on their own community streets, they can't afford health insurance or practically any insurance, and they just aren't stupid.

These are the people I represent and love because that is who all of my family and friends are, common Americans.

I have been blessed to represent the 14th district of Georgia for 5 years, which is filled with some of the most wonderful kind hearted God fearing patriotic hard working people you will ever meet. Good regular common Americans.

I've worked hard to bring tax payer dollars back home to help district needs, I impeached Biden's Secretary of Homeland after watching my constituents die as he facilitated the dangerous open border invasion into America, and led the effort to defund hard left politically biased NPR, PBS, and the corrupt USAID as the Chair of the DOGE Subcommittee.

I have fought harder than almost any other elected Republican to elect Donald Trump and Republicans to power, traveling the country for years, spending millions of my own money, missing precious time with my family that I can never get back, and showing up in places like outside the New York Courthouse in Collect Pond Park against a raging leftist mob as Trump faced Democrat lawfare. Meanwhile most of the Establishment Republicans, who secretly hate him and who stabbed him in the back and never defended him against anything, have all been welcomed in after the election.

And I will never forget the day I had to leave my mother's side as my father had brain surgery to remove cancerous tumors in order to fly to Washington DC to defend President Trump and vote NO against the Democrat's second impeachment in 2021. My poor father and my poor mother, it was way too much.

Through it all, I never changed or went back on my campaign promises and only disagreed in a few areas like my stance against H1Bs replacing American jobs, AI state moratoriums, debt for life 50 year mortgage scams, standing strongly against all involvement in foreign wars, and demanding the release of the Epstein files. Other than that my voting record has been solidly with my party and the President.

Loyalty should be a two way street and we should be able to vote our conscience and represent our district's interest because our job title is literally, "Representative."

America First should mean America First and only Americans First, with no other foreign country ever being attached to America First in our halls of government.

Standing up for American women who were raped at 14, trafficked and used by rich powerful men, should not result in me being called a traitor and threatened by the President of the United States, whom I fought for.

However, while yes hurtful, my heart remains filled with joy, my life is filled with happiness, and my true convictions remain unchanged because my self worth is not defined by a man, but instead by God who created everything in existence.

You see, I have never valued power, titles, or attention in spite of all the wrong assumptions about me. I do not cling to those things because they are meaningless and empty traps that hold too many people in Washington. I believe in term limits and do not think Congress should be a lifelong career or an assisted living facility.

My only goal and desire has ever been to hold the Republican Party accountable for the promises it makes to the American people and put America First, and I have fought against Democrat's damaging policies like the Green New Deal, wide open deadly unsafe border policies, and the trans agenda on children and against women.

With that has brought years of nonstop never ending personal attacks, death threats, lawfare, ridiculous slander and lies about me, that most people could never withstand even for a day.

It has been unfair and wrong, not only to me and especially my family, but to my district as well.

I have too much self respect and dignity, love my family way too much, and do not want my sweet district to have to endure a hurtful and hateful primary against me by the President we all fought for, only to fight and win my election while Republicans will likely lose the midterms. And in turn, be expected to defend the President against impeachment after he hatefully dumped tens of millions of dollars against me and tried to destroy me.

It's all so absurd and completely unserious. I refuse to be a "battered wife" hoping it all goes away and gets better.

If I am cast aside by MAGA Inc and replaced by Neocons, Big Pharma, Big Tech, Military Industrial War Complex, foreign leaders, and the elite donor class that can't even relate to real Americans, then many common Americans have been cast aside and replaced as well.

There is no "plan to save the world" or insane 4D chess game being played.

When the common American people finally realize and understand that the Political Industrial Complex of both parties is ripping this country apart, that not one elected leader like me is able to stop Washington's machine from gradually destroying our country, and instead the reality is that they, common Americans, The People, possess the real power over Washington, then I'll be here by their side to rebuild it.

Until then I'm going back to the people I love, to live life to the fullest as I always have, and look forward to a new path ahead.

I will be resigning from office with my last day being January 5, 2026.

It's all but confirmed that the next target of DOGE is the SEC.

Rep. Maxine Waters wrote a panicked letter to chairman Mark T. Uyeda, warning him that Elon digging into potential corruption at the SEC will have 'consequences for our nation's investors'.

The only consequences for when 'Big Balls' and DOGE go after the SEC will be showing how massively corrupt market manipulation has been and how many government officials have benefited from insider trading.

They wouldn't be panicking if there were nothing to hide.

The Treasury Access Symbol (TAS) is an identification code linking a Treasury payment to a budget line item (standard financial process).

In the Federal Government, the TAS field was optional for ~$4.7 Trillion in payments and was often left blank, making traceability almost impossible. As of Saturday, this is now a required field, increasing insight into where money is actually going. Thanks to @USTreasury for the great work.

Agencies often have more software licenses than employees, and the licenses are often idle (i.e. paid for, but not installed on any computer). For example, at GSA, with 13,000 employees, there are:
- 37,000 WinZip licenses
- 19,000 training software subscriptions (and multiple parallel training software platforms)
-7,500 project management software seats for a division with 5,500 employees
- 3 different ticketing systems running in parallel

Fixes are actively in work.

USAID's Haiti scandal is staggering. The U.S. sent $4.4B after the 2010 earthquake—yet less than 2% reached Haitians, while 56% lined the pockets of D.C. firms.

The Red Cross claimed to shelter 130,000 people—but built just SIX homes.

No transparency. No accountability. USAID and NGOs refuse to answer where the money went —while Haitians were left with nothing.

Change article name back to Mount McKinley [edit]

American President Donald Trump announced the reverting of Denali's name to Mount McKinley during his inauguration speech on January 20, 2025. ReformedPastor1 (talk) 17:36, 20 January 2025 (UTC) [reply]

Change should probably occur on the signing of the executive order 104.12.34.41 (talk) 17:47, 20 January 2025 (UTC) [reply]

See WP:COMMONNAME and WP:OFFICIALNAME. While the change by the new administration should be noted, it is not something that governs common usage until reliable secondary sources start using the same terminology consistently. Acroterion (talk) 17:50, 20 January 2025 (UTC) [reply]

Woah. While that might be true, upon the last executive change from McKinley to Denali, you were the editor involved who moved the article to it's current location within two days of Obamas order. Did Wikipedia rules change since then or were you wrong to move it back in Aug 2015? The road should be the same no matter which side we drive on. What am I supposed to do? I literally just bought a fucking house on the other side of the country. I asked my supervisor if they had any offices in my area and he said he didn't think so. Knowing that it's Trump I'll doubt he'll make any accommodations for me. So I'm going to need to explain to my girlfriend we will need to pack up and move back or I have to quit my job and find another which I can't do because it's unlikely I'll find a job that pays as well as the one I have.

Trump's going to do it, the External Revenue Service.
Donald J. Trump
@realDonaldTrump
For far too long, we have relied on taxing our Great People using the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Through soft and pathetically weak Trade agreements, the American Economy has delivered growth and prosperity to the World, while taxing ourselves. It is time for that to change. I am today announcing that I will create the EXTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE to collect our Tariffs, Duties, and all Revenue that come from Foreign sources. We will begin charging those that make money off of us with Trade, and they will start paying, FINALLY, their fair share. January 20, 2025, will be the birth date of the External Revenue Service. MAKE AMERICA GREAT AGAIN!

I was just informed that two repatriation flights from the United States, with a large number of Illegal Criminals, were not allowed to land in Colombia. This order was given by Colombia's Socialist President Gustavo Petro, who is already very unpopular amongst his people. Petro's denial of these flights has jeopardized the National Security and Public Safety of the United States, so I have directed my Administration to immediately take the following urgent and decisive retaliatory measures:

-Emergency 25% tariffs on all goods coming into the United States. In one week, the 25% tariffs will be raised to 50%.

-A Travel Ban and immediate Visa Revocations on the Colombian Government Officials, and all Allies and Supporters.

-Visa Sanctions on all Party Members, Family Members, and Supporters of the Colombian Government.

-Enhanced Customs and Border Protection Inspections of all Colombian Nationals and Cargo on national security grounds.

-IEEPA Treasury, Banking and Financial Sanctions to be fully imposed.

These measures are just the beginning. We will not allow the Colombian Government to violate its legal obligations with regard to the acceptance and return of the Criminals they forced into the United States!

Statement from the Press Secretary

"The Government of Colombia has agreed to all of President Trump's terms, including the unrestricted acceptance of all illegal aliens from Colombia returned from the United States, including on U.S. military aircraft, without limitation or delay. Based on this agreement, the fully drafted IEEPA tariffs and sanctions will be held in reserve, and not signed, unless Colombia fails to honor this agreement. The visa sanctions issued by the State Department, and enhanced inspections from Customs and Border Protection, will remain in effect until the first planeload of Colombian deportees is successfully returned. Today's events make clear to the world that America is respected again. President Trump will continue to fiercely protect our nation's sovereignty, and he expects all other nations of the world to fully cooperate in accepting the deportation of their citizens illegally present in the United States."

To fully understand just how remarkable today's exchange with Colombia was, you need to understand how Washington DC has traditionally worked through these sorts of issues, and the different way it works now under Trump.

I'll illustrate.

Traditional Approach:

1. Colombia announces it will not take our repatriation flights.
2. On Monday, the State Department convenes an interagency task force with DoD, NSC, DEA, INS, ICE, Commerce, Treasury and Homeland Security.
3. The task force meets for four days and develops a position paper.
4. The position paper is rejected by the Secretary of State, who is unhappy that insufficient equity considerations are built into the process.
5. The task force reconvenes a week later to redevelop three new, equity-centric courses of action and create a new position paper.
6. The process is delayed a week because Washington DC gets three inches of snow.
7. SecState approves the new position paper for interagency circulation, and considerable input is received from the heads of other departments so the task force must reconvene.
8. The original three proposed responsive courses of action are scrapped in favor of a new, fourth course of action that achieves the worst aspects of the three prior courses of action but satisfies the interagency.
9. Someone in State who disagrees leaks to the Washington Post, who writes a story about how ineffective the Presidential administration is.
10. The White House Chief of Staff sets up a session three days later to brief the President, who approves the new fourth course of action.
11. Over a month after the issue is first raised, the State Department Public Affairs Officer holds a press conference announcing that Colombia has agreed to try to send fewer criminals into the US and everyone declares victory.

Trump Approach:

1. Colombia announces it will not take our repatriation flights.
2. After a par-5 third hole where he goes one under par, Trump uses his iPhone to post on social media as to how the USA will destroy Colombia's economy if they do not do what the USA demands.
3. By the time Trump gets to the par-4 sixth hole, Colombia's President has agreed to repatriate all the illegal Colombians in his own plane, which he will pay for.
4. Trump finishes three under par and goes to the clubhouse for a Diet Coke where he posts a gangsta AI image of himself and the new FAFO Doctrine.
5. Winning.

See the difference? It's called LEADERSHIP.

The idea that the BRICS Countries are trying to move away from the Dollar, while we stand by and watch, is OVER. We are going to require a commitment from these seemingly hostile Countries that they will neither create a new BRICS Currency, nor back any other Currency to replace the mighty U.S. Dollar or, they will face 100% Tariffs, and should expect to say goodbye to selling into the wonderful U.S. Economy. They can go find another sucker Nation. There is no chance that BRICS will replace the U.S. Dollar in International Trade, or anywhere else, and any Country that tries should say hello to Tariffs, and goodbye to America!

@realDonaldTrump

Today, I have implemented a 25% Tariff on Imports from Mexico and Canada (10% on Canadian Energy), and a 10% additional Tariff on China. This was done through the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (IEEPA) because of the major threat of illegal aliens and deadly drugs killing our Citizens, including fentanyl. We need to protect Americans, and it is my duty as President to ensure the safety of all. I made a promise on my Campaign to stop the flood of illegal aliens and drugs from pouring across our Borders, and Americans overwhelmingly voted in favor of it.

If anyone thought that Trump would get mad now, but nothing would change, the organization I'm helping now has cut off funding from two sources. For an indefinite period.

Because hz, as a protection of women's rights in Russia , meets the interests of the current president's administration.

If anyone doesn't know, a huge number of NGOs engaged in human rights work were supported from the United States. And if they were supported by European funds, then these funds were often subcontractors between the United States and the recipients.

And now it's just going to start having a fucking domino effect. The laws on foreign agents were not enough for us. It was not enough that funding from culture and science went to the military industry. Now we still have to live up to the interests of the asshole administration.

Or go to work for onlifans. I was offered an office manager job here in Batumi for 2,000 dollars. I sent the guy who offered to fuck off.

But if you do not work in a pure business, but are related to science, culture, human rights, education, or, for example, you are the Georgian army, the domino can reach you.

On Trade, I have decided, for purposes of Fairness, that I will charge a RECIPROCAL Tariff meaning, whatever Countries charge the United States of America, we will charge them - No more, no less!

For purposes of this United States Policy, we will consider Countries that use the VAT System, which is far more punitive than a Tariff, to be similar to that of a Tariff. Sending merchandise, product, or anything by any other name through another Country, for purposes of unfairly harming America, will not be accepted. In addition, we will make provision for subsidies provided by Countries in order to take Economic advantage of the United States. Likewise, provisions will be made for Nonmonetary Tariffs and Trade Barriers that some Countries charge in order to keep our product out of their domain or, if they do not even let U.S. businesses operate. We are able to accurately determine the cost of these Nonmonetary Trade Barriers. It is fair to all, no other Country can complain and, in some cases, if a Country feels that the United States would be getting too high a Tariff, all they have to do is reduce or terminate their Tariff against us. There are no Tariffs if you manufacture or build your product in the United States.

For many years, the U.S. has been treated unfairly by other Countries, both friend and foe. This System will immediately bring Fairness and Prosperity back into the previously complex and unfair System of Trade. America has helped many Countries throughout the years, at great financial cost. It is now time that these Countries remember this, and treat us fairly – A LEVEL PLAYING FIELD FOR AMERICAN WORKERS. I have instructed my Secretary of State, Secretary of Commerce, Secretary of the Treasury, and United States Trade Representative (USTR) to do all work necessary to deliver RECIPROCITY to our System of Trade!

Though no executive order has been signed, contractors specializing in precious metals verification have reportedly been approached about "a historic federal contract." Key hurdles include navigating the 1973 Gold Reserve Act, which restricts gold sales, and ensuring audits don't expose vulnerabilities during election season. Still, Trump's team appears undeterred. "This is the kind of disruptive play only Trump would make," said a former campaign advisor. "Either he becomes the president who secured America's gold—or the one who exposed its absence."

Sanhedrin Letter to Trump: "You have been elected to fulfill a heavenly mission"

ADAM ELIYAHU BERKOWITZ | ISRAEL NEWS | FEBRUARY 14, 2025 | 4 MIN READ

Elders of the Sanhedrin open a historic trial against Pope Francis and US President Barack Obama on Mt. Zion

The Nascent Sanhedrin published an open letter to President Donald Trump, blessing him for putting faith at the forefront by establishing a White House Faith Office. The Sanhedrin called on the President to establish an International Divine Court for all nations.

"Dear Honorable President Donald Trump,

"May Hashem [God, literally 'the name'], the Creator, bless you and your nation! We extend our heartfelt gratitude for bringing faith to the forefront of American and global culture by establishing the Faith Office in the White House."

This refers to the president announcing last week at the National Prayer Breakfast that he would create a White House Faith Office headed by Pastor Paula White. White is an outspoken supporter of Israel who has been at the forefront of advocating for the Jewish State since October 7th. Earlier last week, White met for four hours with Prime Minister Netanyahu.

The Sanhedrin then listed the Universal Moral Code:

"The Book of Genesis has a profound message of unity and divine purpose for humanity through three fundamental principles:

1. One God – To recognize the cause of all causes (Genesis 1:1).

2. One First Man – To affirm the basic equal rights of humanity (Genesis 1:26).

3. One Basic Law – To establish universal principles of justice (Genesis 2:16).

"Without a constructive moral framework, humanity descends into violence and destruction, as exemplified by Cain's murder of Abel (Genesis 4:8). Every nation has unique strengths and resources, yet no nation is self-sufficient. Without a Universal Ethical Common Code, people resort to war and oppression to obtain what they need. With such a code, nations engage in spiritual commerce and a race for virtue.

"The First Commandment and the Seven Laws of Noah"

- The first time the word "commandment" appears in the Bible is when Hashem commanded Adam: "And the Lord God commanded the man, saying: Of every tree of the garden you may freely eat." (Genesis 2:16) This verse alludes to the seven universal laws that form the foundation of ethical behavior for all humanity. These laws reflect seven of the Ten Commandments.
- These ethical principles were reaffirmed at Mount Sinai when Hashem revealed Himself to the world, and our ancestors witnessed this divine event.
- The Jewish, Christian, Muslim and all monotheistic traditions recognize the divine revelation at Mount Sinai as a foundational moment in history.
- When Hashem gave the Children of Israel the Torah, He provided an ethical standard for the entire world. This standard is known as the Seven Commandments of Noah, which form the basis of universal morality.
- When a person accepts the Seven Noahide Laws, they receive divine blessings:

1. A Neshama (Soul) – The soul that animates the body and connects a person to Hashem.

2. Righteous Among the Nations – A person who upholds these laws is considered righteous and honored before Hashem.

3. A Share in the World to Come – Those who follow these principles merit a place in the hereafter.

"Enclosed with this letter, we have included the Universal Ethical Common Code (UECC), which outlines the benefits of adopting the Seven Commandments of Noah."

The Role of Ethics in Business

"A businessman who commits to being Honest and Good in the Eyes of Hashem will seek trustworthy partners.

- Who would he prefer to do business with? An atheist who may cheat and deceive? Or someone committed to Hashem, who upholds honesty and integrity?
- A business owner will seek to hire workers who are loyal and committed to the success of the enterprise.
- A worker will prefer to work for an employer who ensures fairness and ethical treatment. By aligning economic relationships with divine morality, business and ethics become intertwined, fostering prosperity and trust.

The Cyrus-Trump Coin and Your Historic Role

"In 2017, the Nascent Sanhedrin minted a special coin featuring your image on one side and Cyrus the Great on the other. This symbolized your historic role, likened to that of Cyrus, who was chosen by Hashem to fulfill a divine mission.

"The Chinese appreciated this idea so much that they reproduced and sold millions of copies of these coins and other products featuring your image alongside Cyrus the Great.

Many have seen similarities between the Biblical King Cyrus and President Donald Trump. (Breaking Israel News)

"You have been elected, as Cyrus was in his time, to fulfill a heavenly mission:

- To unite all believers in God and foster ethical cooperation across all spheres of human activity.

A Call to Establish an International Divine Court – IDC

" We invite you to meet with the Sanhedrin Court Rabbis in Jerusalem to discuss the establishment of an International Divine Court (IDC) for all nations. This court would be based on the seven universal commandments given to Noah and reaffirmed at Mount Sinai—a foundation for global peace and divine justice.

"May Hashem bless you with wisdom, strength, and success in your divine mission."

The Rabbis of the Sanhedrin signed the letter:

- Rabbi Daniel Stawsky Hacohen
- Rabbi Meir Halevi
- Rabbi Erel Segal-Halevi
- Rabbi Ben Abrahamson
- Rabbi Roee Zaga
- Rabbi Boaz Melet
- Rabbi Nadav Sofy

USAID obliterated as Trump fires TWO THOUSAND workers and puts thousands more on leave after judge clears way for purge of foreign aid agency

USAID BLOODBATH

The Trump administration continued its bloodbath gutting of the U.S. Agency for International Development, cutting 2,000 workers and placing all but a fraction of other staffers on leave. It comes after a federal judge on Friday allowed the administration to move forward with pulling thousands of domestic USAID staffers off the job and around the world. U.S. District Judge Carl Nichols rejected pleas that came in a lawsuit from employees to keep temporarily blocking the government´s plan.

Important stats to evaluate the trade war

Canada generates 1/5th of its GDP by selling into the US

Mexico generates more than 1/3rd of its GDP by selling into the US

The US generates just 1/50th its GDP selling into both

Trade wars hurt everyone but Trump "has the cards" and he knows it

This will increase consumer prices, no doubt. But it has the potential to drive both Mexico and Canada into a depression which is why they are panicking. Trump intends to use this to negotiate border security and to bolster domestic industry.

Will it work? TBD

But don't let people lie about who has the leverage here. The US economy is the golden goose and the whole world knows it.

Building on things @biancoresearch has talked about.
Trump wants to be repaid for the post-WWII defense arrangements with the EU.

One of the possibilities is a cram down on the debt they have. Trump's opening off is to replace all the existing USTs owned by European banks (not clear if it's commercial + central or just central) with 0%, perpetual or 100-year bonds.

Now, I think this is a pretty hilarious offer especially in light of what I've been saying for 3 years about how the EU + UK complex has been gorging on USTs since Powell began raising rates.... to the tune of $1.1 trillion net/net since Sept 2021.

Hunter Biden has had Secret Service protection for an extended period of time, all paid for by the United States Taxpayer. There are as many as 18 people on this Detail, which is ridiculous! He is currently vacationing in, of all places, South Africa, where the Human Rights of people has been strenuously questioned. Because of this, South Africa has been taken off our list of Countries receiving Economic and Financial Assistance. Please be advised that, effective immediately, Hunter Biden will no longer receive Secret Service protection. Likewise, Ashley Biden who has 13 agents will be taken off the list.

The "Pardons" that Sleepy Joe Biden gave to the Unselect Committee of Political Thugs, and many others, are hereby declared VOID, VACANT, AND OF NO FURTHER FORCE OR EFFECT, because of the fact that they were done by Autopen. In other words, Joe Biden did not sign them but, more importantly, he did not know anything about them! The necessary Pardoning Documents were not explained to, or approved by, Biden. He knew nothing about them, and the people that did may have committed a crime. Therefore, those on the Unselect Committee, who destroyed and deleted ALL evidence obtained during their two year Witch Hunt of me, and many other innocent people, should fully understand that they are subject to investigation at the highest level. The fact is, they were probably responsible for the Documents that were signed on their behalf without the knowledge or consent of the Worst President in the History of our Country, Crooked Joe Biden!

Justices Are Asked to Keep Nationwide Pause on Trump's Birthright Citizenship Order

Now that trump has introduced enormous volatility into the markets and established his tariffs trump will walk back some of them, but not the largest ones (namely China) if anything he will continue to increase the Tariffs on China and certain European nations to further incentivize certain industries to move back to the US (namely Pharma, Chip Production, and certain manufacturing related to defense such as for Patriot Missile production) and as the tariffs increase, the US will suddenly be getting hundreds of BILLIONs of dollars in new revenue each month.

What does he plan on doing with this enormous amount of cash? He plans to first fund tax breaks but only for companies that BUILD IN THE US alongside other taxes such as one that allows people who buy American Made cars to write off any interest on their car loan. Second he plans on revitalizing an ancient policy first pushed by Richard Nixon in 1969, The Family Assistance Plan or Universal Basic Income.

Trump plans on giving every LEGAL American in the US a Basic Income of $13,000 a year funded off of Tariffs. This focus on "LEGAL" Americans is key, it will push the Birthright Citizenship and Anchor Baby question through the courts like lightning until it ends up in the Supreme Court which will for the first time have to interpret the 14th Amendment which will open the gates to MASS DEPORTATIONS.

Which is what he wanted in the first place, very few people remember what it was that caused Trump to turn his head and avoid getting shot in Butler, PA. Right as the shooter was about to fire Trump had just switched to a new chart the "IMMIGRATION CHART" and he turned his head slightly to look at the screen and it was this slight movement that saved his life, Trump has not forgotten this.

The proposed Trump budget is brutal, unless you're the military or Homeland Security.

Here's what gets cut:
- State Department: -84%
- National Science Foundation: -56%
- EPA: -54%
- HUD (housing): -44%
- Labor: -35%
- Interior: -30%
- Health & Human Services: -26%
- NASA: -24%
- Education: -15%

And here's what gets a boost:
- Defense: +13% ($113 billion more)
- Homeland Security: +65% (+$42 billion)

Everything from science, housing, health, and the environment slashed, while the military-industrial complex cashes in.

For many years the World has wondered why Prescription Drugs and Pharmaceuticals in the United States States of America were SO MUCH HIGHER IN PRICE THAN THEY WERE IN ANY OTHER NATION, SOMETIMES BEING FIVE TO TEN TIMES MORE EXPENSIVE THAN THE SAME DRUG, MANUFACTURED IN THE EXACT SAME LABORATORY OR PLANT, BY THE SAME COMPANY??? It was always difficult to explain and very embarrassing because, in fact, there was no correct or rightful answer. The Pharmaceutical/Drug Companies would say, for years, that it was Research and Development Costs, and that all of these costs were, and would be, for no reason whatsoever, borne by the "suckers" of America, ALONE. Campaign Contributions can do wonders, but not with me, and not with the Republican Party. We are going to do the right thing, something that the Democrats have fought for many years. Therefore, I am pleased to announce that Tomorrow morning, in the White House, at 9:00 A.M., I will be signing one of the most consequential Executive Orders in our Country's history. Prescription Drug and Pharmaceutical prices will be REDUCED, almost immediately, by 30% to 80%. They will rise throughout the World in order to equalize and, for the first time in many years, bring FAIRNESS TO AMERICA! I will be instituting a MOST FAVORED NATION'S POLICY whereby the United States will pay the same price as the Nation that pays the lowest price anywhere in the World. Our Country will finally be treated fairly, and our citizens Healthcare Costs will be reduced by numbers never even thought of before. BREAKING: HHS BANS illegal aliens from accessing taxpayer-funded benefits ENDING a Clinton era policy

“For too long, the government has diverted hardworking Americans’ tax dollars to incentivize illegal immigration” - HHS Secretary RFK Jr

HHS Bans Illegal Aliens from Accessing its Taxpayer-Funded Programs

WASHINGTON, DC—June 10, 2025—The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) today announced a significant policy shift to restore compliance with federal law and ensure that taxpayer-funded program benefits intended for the American people are not diverted to subsidize illegal aliens.

HHS has formally rescinded a 1998 interpretation of the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 (PRWORA), issued during the Clinton Administration, which improperly extended certain federal public benefits to illegal aliens.

For over two decades, the 1998 policy improperly narrowed the scope of PRWORA, undercutting the law by allowing illegal aliens to access programs Congress intended only for the American people. With this update, HHS is complying with the law—ensuring that federal benefits are administered w… transparency, legal integrity, and fairness to the American people.

“For too long, the government has diverted hardworking Americans’ tax do… incentivize illegal immigration,” said HHS Secretary Robert F. Kennedy, Jr.

Defying Congress, Trump Moves to Cut $4.9 Billion in Foreign Aid

The White House notified Congress that it plans to use a legally untested maneuver to circumvent lawmakers and claw back more money for foreign aid programs.

The administration is attempting to unilaterally claw back money that has already been appropriated by running out the clock for Congress to reject its request before the funding expires. Eric Lee for The New York Times

Some very strange things are happening in China! They are becoming very hostile, and sending letters to Countries throughout the World, that they want to impose Export Controls on each and every element of production having to do with Rare Earths, and virtually anything else they can think of, even if it's not manufactured in China. Nobody has ever seen anything like this but, essentially, it would "clog" the Markets, and make life difficult for virtually every Country in the World, especially for China. We have been contacted by other Countries who are extremely angry at this great Trade hostility, which came out of nowhere. Our relationship with China over the past six months has been a very good one, thereby making this move on Trade an even more surprising one. I have always felt that they've been lying in wait, and now, as usual, I have been proven right! There is no way that China should be allowed to hold the World "captive," but that seems to have been their plan for quite some time, starting with the "Magnets" and, other Elements that they have quietly amassed into somewhat of a Monopoly position, a rather sinister and hostile move, to say the least. But the U.S. has Monopoly positions also, much stronger and more far reaching than China's. I have just not chosen to use them, there was never a reason for me to do so — UNTIL NOW! The letter they sent is many pages long, and details, with great specificity, each and every Element that they want to withhold from other Nations. Things that were routine are no longer routine at all. I have not spoken to President Xi because there was no reason to do so. This was a real surprise, not only to me, but to all the Leaders of the Free World. I was to meet President Xi in two weeks, at APEC, in South Korea, but now there seems to be no reason to do so. The Chinese letters were especially inappropriate in that this was the Day that, after three thousand years of bedlam and fighting, there is PEACE IN THE MIDDLE EAST. I wonder if that timing was coincidental? Dependent on what China says about the hostile "order" that they have just put out, I will be forced, as President of the United States of America, to financially counter their move. For every Element that they have been able to monopolize, we have two. I never thought it would come to this but perhaps, as with all things, the time has come. Ultimately, though potentially painful, it will be a very good thing, in the end, for the U.S.A. One of the Policies that we are calculating at this moment is a massive increase of Tariffs on Chinese products coming into the United States of America. There are many other countermeasures that are, likewise, under serious consideration. Thank you for your attention to this matter!

So, let's get this straight??? The President of the United States is allowed (and fully approved by Congress!) to stop ALL TRADE with a Foreign Country (Which is far more onerous than a Tariff!), and LICENSE a Foreign Country, but is not allowed to put a simple Tariff on a Foreign Country, even for purposes of NATIONAL SECURITY. That is NOT what our great Founders had in mind! The whole thing is ridiculous! Other Countries can Tariff us, but we can't Tariff them??? It is their DREAM!!! Businesses are pouring into the USA ONLY BECAUSE OF TARIFFS. HAS THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT NOT BEEN TOLD THIS??? WHAT THE HELL IS GOING ON???President DJT

As I said on Friday night aboard Air Force One to the Fake News Media, House Republicans should vote to release the Epstein files, because we have nothing to hide, and it's time to move on from this Democrat Hoax perpetrated by Radical Left Lunatics in order to deflect from the Great Success of the Republican Party, including our recent Victory on the Democrat "Shutdown." The Department of Justice has already turned over tens of thousands of pages to the Public on "Epstein," are looking at various Democrat operatives (Bill Clinton, Reid Hoffman, Larry Summers, etc.) and their relationship to Epstein, and the House Oversight Committee can have whatever they are legally entitled to, I DON'T CARE! All I do care about is that Republicans get BACK ON POINT, which is the Economy, "Affordability" (where we are winning BIG!), our Victory on reducing Inflation from the highest level in History to practically nothing, bringing down prices for the American People, delivering Historic Tax Cuts, gaining Trillions of Dollars of Investment into America (A RECORD!), the rebuilding of our Military, securing our Border, deporting Criminal Illegal Aliens, ending Men in Women's Sports, stopping Transgender for Everyone, and so much more! Nobody cared about Jeffrey Epstein when he was alive and, if the Democrats had anything, they would have released it before our Landslide Election Victory. Some "members" of the Republican Party are being "used," and we can't let that happen. Let's start talking about the Republican Party's Record Setting Achievements, and not fall into the Epstein "TRAP," which is actually a curse on the Democrats, not us. MAKE AMERICA GREAT AGAIN!

Jeffrey Epstein, who was charged by the Trump Justice Department in 2019 (Not the Democrats!), was a lifelong Democrat, donated Thousands of Dollars to Democrat Politicians, and was deeply associated with many well-known Democrat figures, such as Bill Clinton (who traveled on his plane 26 times), Larry Summers (who just resigned from many Boards, including Harvard), Sleazebag Political Activist Reid Hoffman, Minority Leader Hakeem Jeffries (who asked Epstein to donate to his Campaign AFTER Epstein was charged), Democrat Congresswoman Stacey Plaskett, and many more. Perhaps the truth about these Democrats, and their associations with Jeffrey Epstein, will soon be revealed, because I HAVE JUST SIGNED THE BILL TO RELEASE THE EPSTEIN FILES! As everyone knows, I asked Speaker of the House Mike Johnson, and Senate Majority Leader John Thune, to pass this Bill in the House and Senate, respectively. Because of this request, the votes were almost unanimous in favor of passage. At my direction, the Department of Justice has already turned over close to fifty thousand pages of documents to Congress. Do not forget — The Biden Administration did not turn over a SINGLE file or page related to Democrat Epstein, nor did they ever even speak about him. Democrats have used the "Epstein" issue, which affects them far more than the Republican Party, in order to try and distract from our AMAZING Victories, including THE GREAT BIG BEAUTIFUL TAX CUT BILL, Strong Borders, No Men in Women's Sports or Transgender for Everyone, ending DEI, stopping Biden's Record Setting Inflation, lowering Prices, Biggest Tax and Regulation Cuts in History, ending EIGHT Wars, rebuilding our Military, knocking out Iran's Nuclear capability, getting Trillions of Dollars INVESTED in the U.S.A., creating the "HOTTEST" Country anywhere in the World, and even delivering a HUGE DEFEAT to the Democrats on the recent Shutdown Disaster. For years our Great Nation has had to endure RUSSIA, RUSSIA, RUSSIA, UKRAINE, UKRAINE, UKRAINE, IMPEACHMENT HOAX #1, IMPEACHMENT HOAX #2, and many other Democrat created Witch Hunts and Scams, all of which have been so terrible and divisive for our Country, and have been done to confuse, deflect, and distract from the GREAT JOB that Republicans, and the Trump Administration, are doing. This latest Hoax will backfire on the Democrats just as all of the rest have! Thank you for your attention to this matter. MAKE AMERICA GREAT AGAIN!

European priorities for Trump's new National Security Strategy:
(whitehouse.gov/wp-content/upl...)
Our broad policy for Europe should prioritize:
• Reestablishing conditions of stability within Europe and strategic stability with Russia;
• Enabling Europe to stand on its own feet and operate as a group of aligned sovereign nations, including by taking primary responsibility for its own defense, without being dominated by any adversarial power;
• Cultivating resistance to Europe's current trajectory within European nations;
• Opening European markets to U.S. goods and services and ensuring fair treatment of U.S. workers and businesses;
• Building up the healthy nations of Central, Eastern, and Southern Europe through commercial ties, weapons sales, political collaboration, and cultural and educational exchanges;
• Ending the perception, and preventing the reality, of NATO as a perpetually expanding alliance; and
• Encouraging Europe to take action to combat mercantilist overcapacity, technological theft, cyber espionage, and other hostile economic practices.

The city with the largest Jewish population in the world will likely have as its mayor a man whose worldview and convictions stand in opposition to the fundaments of Judaism itself. I'm not kidding when I say that people like Mamdani are why there has to be a Jewish state.

DNI Tulsi Gabbard absolutely nails it. Europe is abandoning freedom and democracy:

"You have the cancelling of elections in Ukraine."

"You have political parties being silenced or even ... thrown in prison."

"You have churches being shut down."

"You have total government control of the media."

"It really begs the question, as Vice President Vance said in Munich: it's clear that they're standing against Putin ... but what are they actually fighting for?"

4 Alternative for Germany (AfD) candidates died "suddenly and unexpectedly" right before key state election.

Anger and theories are running rife on social media after the sudden deaths of the AfD candidates in Germany's largest state, North Rhine-Westphalia before the Sept. 14 vote.

"According to WDR, four AfD candidates who were not excluded have died immediately before the NRW municipal election: Blomberg, Rheinberg, Schwerte, Bad Lippspringe. Statistically almost impossible," wrote Stefan Homburg in a post that received 1 million views.

In another post from Peter Borbe, he writes: "4 AfD candidates died within 2 weeks during the NRW local elections: Wolfgang Seitz (Rheinberg), Ralph Lange (Blomberg), Stefan Berendes (Bad Lippspringe), Wolfgang Klinger (Schwerte), all 4 died suddenly and unexpectedly. An astonishing accumulation of deaths, isn't it?"

Despite concerns expressed on social media, not much is known about the circumstances of the deaths of the four candidates other than they died "unexpectedly," which means none of them died from a long battle with cancer, for example.

As of yet, nobody has provided any evidence that the AfD candidates died from anything other than natural causes. In addition, there does not appear to have been any police investigations launched into the deaths of any four of the individuals.

The curious case of the 'fraud-busting' European Commissioner (9)

Archived Articles | 15 May 2008 | EWR Online EWR

(Ashley Mote examines the chequered past of the Estonian EU Commissioner Siim Kallas, now responsible for the EU's fight against fraud.)

One of the strangest coincidences that occurred when the present European Commission was appointed in 2004 was the selection of two former communists, from two of the smallest new member states, to control and manage the entire European Union budget between them for the next five years.

You may not believe in coincidences, especially when over 100 billion euros a year are involved.

Many well-placed observers in Brussels at the time didn't either, especially sceptical MEPs.

Both Dalia Grybauskaite of Lithuania and Siim Kallas of Estonia were educated and learned their politics in the Soviet Union. Both were later politically active under the communist regimes in their own countries before the USSR collapsed. Siim Kallas was a member of the communist party from 1972 to 1990.

Now, Mrs Grybauskaite controls the EU's budget and Mr Kallas is responsible for its administration, which includes the apparent fight against fraud and corruption.

This brings us to the point. Mr Kallas has a curious past in the matter of money management. By the end of this story you may find yourself wondering why such a man was made a Commissioner in the first place – worse, why the president of the Commission, Manuel Barroso, then appointed him to supervise the outflow of funds.

In 1992, barely three years after the fall of the Berlin wall, Siim Kallas, then aged 43, was already the head of the Bank of Estonia. Indeed he had previously been in charge of the state-owned bank's administration during the Soviet regime, when the application of strict international banking rules was not always observed to the letter and Kallas depended on KGB support for survival.

Not many people know that Keir Starmer was placed into a Czechoslovakian Communist Working Camp at the height of The Cold War.

Keir Starmer is a Communist - always has been & and was educated & groomed by some very powerful people at a young age in the ways of Communism.

He didn't just win an election - he was hand picked decades ago for the job.

French government collapses

The French government has fallen after Prime Minister Francois Bayrou lost a crucial confidence vote in parliament on Monday. Bayrou is the second consecutive prime minister under President Emmanuel Macron to be ousted, throwing the nation into political and economic turmoil.

A no-confidence motion in the National Assembly requires at least 288 votes to pass. Monday's motion received [XXX] votes, with the left-wing New Popular Front and the right-wing National Rally uniting in opposition to end a months-long standoff over Bayrou's austerity budget.

Having previously survived eight no-confidence motions, Bayrou called this vote himself, in a bid to secure backing for proposals that forecast almost €44 billion ($52 billion) of savings to ease France's debt burden before the budget is presented in October.

The prime minister, who has repeatedly warned that France's national debt poses a "mortal danger" to the country, appeared to acknowledge his fate. In a bitter remark on Sunday, Bayrou lashed out at rival parties that he said "hate each other" yet joined forces "to bring down the government."

🇲🇩 About a year ago, while I was stuck in Paris, the French intelligence services reached out to me through an intermediary, asking me to help the Moldovan government censor certain Telegram channels ahead of the presidential elections in Moldova.

After reviewing the channels flagged by French (and Moldovan) authorities, we identified a few that clearly violated our rules and removed them. The intermediary then informed me that, in exchange for this cooperation, French intelligence would "say good things" about me to the judge who had ordered my arrest in August last year.

This was unacceptable on several levels. If the agency did in fact approach the judge — it constituted an attempt to interfere in the judicial process. If it did not, and merely claimed to have done so, then it was exploiting my legal situation in France to influence political developments in Eastern Europe — a pattern we have also observed in Romania 🇷🇴

Shortly thereafter, the Telegram team received a second list of so-called "problematic" Moldovan channels. Unlike the first, nearly all of these channels were legitimate and fully compliant with our rules. Their only commonality was that they voiced political positions disliked by the French and Moldovan governments.

We refused to act on this request.

Telegram is committed to freedom of speech and will not remove content for political reasons. I will continue to expose every attempt to pressure Telegram into censoring our platform. Stay tuned. 🤝

🇫🇷 Former French President Nicolas Sarkozy was released from prison after less than three weeks

A Paris court has granted early release to Nicolas Sarkozy, ruling that his imprisonment was unjustified, Reuters reports. He will remain under judicial supervision pending appeal. The prosecution had previously requested his release.

In late September, Sarkozy was sentenced to five years in prison after being found guilty of criminal conspiracy in a case involving the financing of his election campaign by Libyan dictator Muammar Gaddafi's regime.

🇩🇪 GERMAN BANKS FREEZE AfD ACCOUNTS IN ESCALATING CRACKDOWN ON DISSENT

Multiple German banks are shutting down accounts linked to AfD, now the country's largest opposition party, without explanation, citing "banking secrecy."

AfD leaders call it political debanking, a financial weapon to punish opposition to illegal immigration and defense of traditional values.

This isn't isolated: from Berlin to Düsseldorf, accounts are vanishing, including party donations and personal banking for elected officials.

Behind it all, Germany's intelligence service labeled AfD "far-right" for challenging gender ideology and open-border policies, effectively criminalizing dissent.

When "democracy" means freezing your opponents' bank accounts, maybe it's not democracy anymore.

The EU is drowning in corruption. Commissioners face serious charges, the Commission and the Parliament are engulfed in scandal, yet Brussels still claims the moral high ground. Corruption in Ukraine should be called out by the EU, but once again it's the same old story: Show more

Christopher Landau @DeputySecState

My recent trip to Brussels for the @NATO Ministerial meeting left me with one overriding impression: the US has long failed to address the glaring inconsistency between its relations with NATO and the EU. These are almost all the same countries in both organizations. When these countries wear their NATO hats, they insist that Transatlantic cooperation is the cornerstone of our mutual security. But when these countries wear their EU hats, they pursue all sorts of agendas that are often utterly adverse to US interests and security—including censorship, economic suicide/climate fanaticism, open borders, disdain for national sovereignty/promotion of multilateral governance and taxation, support for Communist Cuba, etc etc. This inconsistency cannot continue. Either the great nations of Europe are our partners in protecting the Western civilization that we inherited from them or they are not. But we cannot pretend that we are partners while those nations allow the EU's unelected, undemocratic, and unrepresentative bureaucracy in Brussels to pursue policies of civilizational suicide.

The reason why European leaders are so butthurt over Trump is that USGOV has stopped pretending that Europe is a meaningful participant in current geopolitical affairs, that their opinion matters, that anyone cares about them, etc. For decades, the US vassals demanded a certain decorum in how they are being treated, at least publicly, as an article of the feudal contract, and Trump is just not going along with the ritualistic speech laws. This is perfectly in line with what I said earlier about the US shifting to consolidating their core imperial possessions. The new US admin is not entertaining the role-playing part anymore and putting their serfs in their place. This is much more annoying and humiliating to the Brussels satraps than any real shift in US foreign policy, which is not as extreme as they are pretending. But they are feeling "disrespected"

Chinese nationalist intellectual Xiao Gongqin warning against U.S.-Russian reapproachment.

>Even more important, the US might soon make a big move on the international front, because from an American perspective it makes all the sense in the world to join together with Russia, the world's third largest power, to oppose China, the second largest power. Realists from Kissinger to Mearsheimer have long advocated such a move, with has become a consensus item for both the Republican and the Democratic parties. Russia, which is trapped in the current war, would be delighted to go with the flow and "pledge its loyalty" to the US initiative as a way of getting out of its current dilemma. Before the current war, Putin openly said that, regarding Sino-American relations, Russia would "sit back and watch the tigers fight." And more recently, he crowed to the West that Russia was no longer a Marxist or socialist country, implying that China was now the "Red Empire" that you, the West, should deal with. The possibility of an entente between the US and. Russia should absolutely not be ignored.

>We should also note that once Trump comes to power, he will say that he will abandon Taiwan and then that he will protect Taiwan, and in both instances he will be "sincere." However, putting these two "sincerities" together is nothing other than a war trap for China.

>In fact, inconsistent statements are all too common in American politics. Didn't Biden also say that the United States would not intervene if Russia sent troops into Ukraine, and then what happened? Facts have proved that the United States is precisely the country most deeply involved. The lesson of Russia's failure is not lost on those paying attention.

>The Chinese must dispassionately take these factors into account and remain cautious. We must always remember that it is in Trump's nature to be erratic. Let's hope that my predictions not prove true in the next few years.

>China has its own Eastern wisdom, and the Chinese people know how to "overcome strength with softness," and this "water wisdom" should surely be a part of the coming exchanges between China and the US. China's leaders have repeatedly and solemnly stated that they will strive to promote peaceful reunification through peaceful development, but in no event will they commit themselves to giving up the possibility of unification by force. I believe that China's political elites, intellectuals, and society at large will fully realize the complexity of the challenges ahead, and that we will meet the future rationally. At a time when China's national fortunes are at their best in 200 years, may the heavens protect China as great challenges loom on the horizon.

>The U.S. Supreme Court, with its 6-3 conservative majority, appears poised to take another axe to the Voting Rights Act—this time threatening to gut one of its most vital remaining protections: Section 2. In oral arguments Wednesday, the justices signaled a willingness to overturn a lower court ruling that had required Louisiana to add a second Black-majority congressional district—potentially unraveling decades of progress in protecting minority voting power.

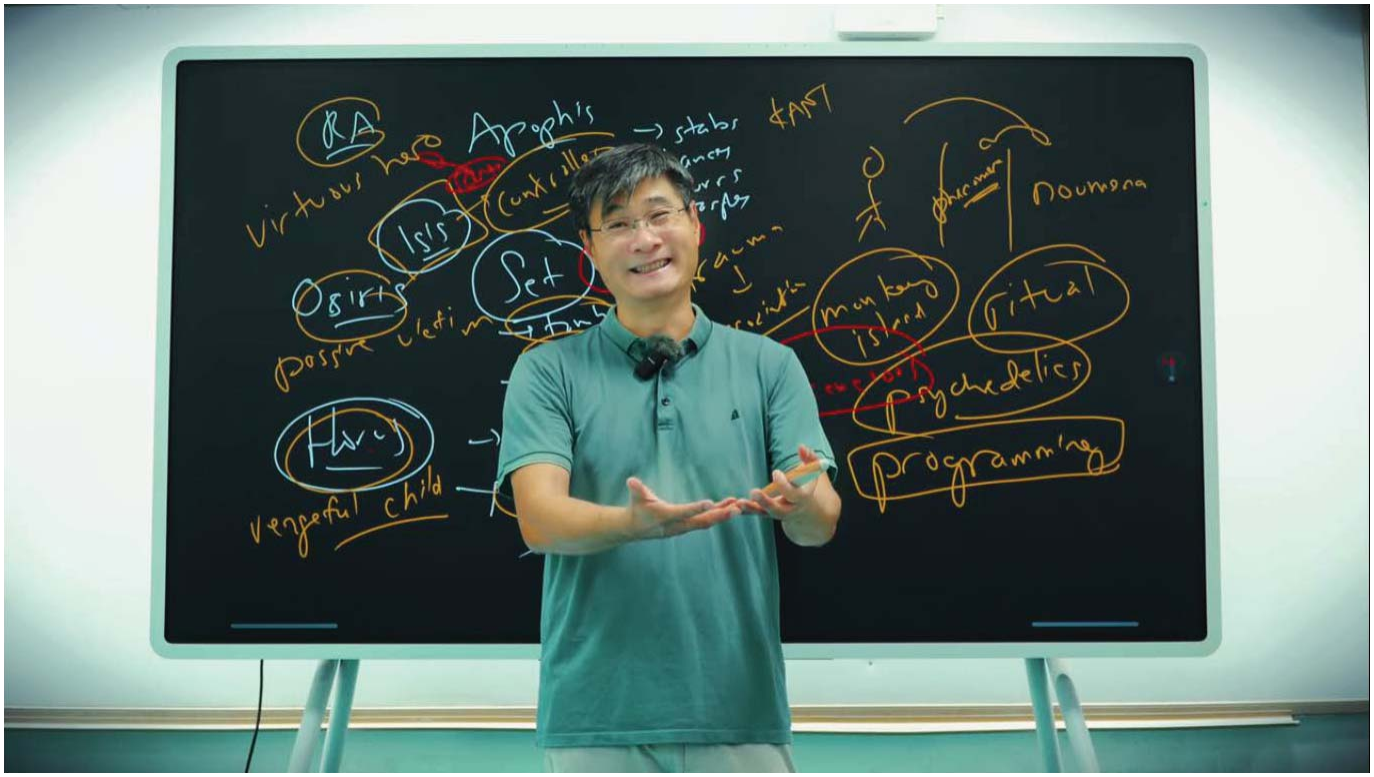
To do well in life, you need these 3 skills:

-unpredictability: no one knows how you think, no one knows how you behave;

-high stress tolerance: you don't care;

-lack of empathy: you're very selfish.

These are the 3 skills leaders need in order to do well.



That's true for everyone in power: If you're a nice person who feels sorry for poor people... you're dead.

Sounds like Dominion Voting Systems got a glorified bribe to sellout our voting machines to a MAGA wingnut. This is a very big story.

Jacob Shamsian @JayShams · 8h
I've been wondering why Dominion Voting Systems suddenly reached settlements with Rudy Giuliani, Sidney Powell, and One America News.

Turns out, it's been purchased by a Republican-owned election tech firm that insisted on it, per Axios.

The intrigue: As part of its deal with Dominion, Liberty officials asked Dominion to settle several other defamation lawsuits against Trump allies who attacked the company over the 2020 election results.

- In recent weeks, Dominion has reached undisclosed settlements with former New York City Mayor Rudy Giuliani, former Trump lawyer Sidney Powell and One America News Network.
- Dominion had sued Giuliani and Powell for $1.3 billion each. It had sued OANN for $1.6 billion.

Takaichi previously wrote a blog recommending a book titled 'Hitler's Election Strategy' which stated, "voters you cannot persuade should be eliminated." After significant backlash, the book was pulled from shelves two months later.

Takaichi is considered a hard-right nationalist. She is an advocate for strict immigration policies, the rearmament of Japan, opposes gay marriage, and is against a potential female Emperor.

Plato & State Corporatism / Unitary Politics / Centralization

"That the other citizens too must be sent to the task for which their natures were fitted, one man to one work, in order that each of them fulfilling his own function may be not many men, but one, and so the entire city may come to be not a multiplicity but a unity."

"For factions... are the outcome of injustice, and hatreds and internecine conflicts, but justice brings oneness of mind love."

"That all men, so far as possible, unanimous in the praise and blame they bestow, rejoicing and grieving at the same things, and that they honor with all their hearts those laws which render the State as unified as possible."

"Visitor: Well then, surely there won't be any difference, so far as ruling is concerned, between the character of a great household, on the one hand, and the bulk of a small city on the other? Young Socrates: None. - It's clear that there is one sort of expert knowledge concerned with all these things; whether someone gives this the name of kingship, or statesmanship, or household management, let's not pick any quarrel with him."

Plato: Community of Pleasures & Pains
"And there is unity where there is community of pleasures & pains--where all the citizens are glad or grieved on the same occasions of joy and sorrow?"

"No doubt."

"Yes; and where there is no common but only private feeling a State is disorganized--when you have one half of the world triumphaning and the other plunged in grief at the same events happening to the City or the Citizens?"

"Certainly."
"But the individualization of these feelings is a dissolvent, when some grieve exceedingly and others rejoice at the same happenings to the city and its inhabitants? And the chief cause of this is when the citizens do not utter in unison such words as 'mine' and 'not mine'.

"That City, then, is best ordered in which the greatest number use the expression 'mine' and 'not mine' of the same things in the same way."

Plato: State Corporatism / Unitary Policy
>"And the City whose State is most like that of an individual man."

>"For example, if the finger of one of us is wounded, the entire communtiy of bodily connections stretching to the soul for 'integration'."

>"With the dominant part is made aware, and all of it feels the pain as a whole, though it is a part that suffers, and that is how we come to say that the man has a pain in his finger. And for any other member of the man the same statemen holds, alike for a part that labors in pain or is eased by pleasure."

"The same, and, to return to your question, the best governed state most nearly resembles such an organism,"

"But we further agreed that this unity is the greatest blessing for a state, and we compare a well governed state to the human body in its relation to the pleasure and pain of its parts."

Themes to consider:
One Party State vs Multi-Party Democracy?
State Corporatism vs Political Pluralism

Aristotle's Opposition: Political Pluralism / Decentralization

Aristotle: Since the nature of a State is to be a plurality

"Further, as a means to the end which he ascribes to the State, the scheme, taken literally is impracticable, and how we are to interpret it is nowhere precisely stated. I am speaking of the premise from which the argument of Socrates proceeds, "That the greater the unity of the State the better." It is not obvious that a State at length attain such a degree of Unity as to be no longer a State? Since the nature of a State is to be plurality...

Aristotle: Centralization & Atomization of Plato's Unitary Politics
"And in tending to greater unity, from being a State, it becomes a Family, and from being a Family, an Individual; for the Family may be said to be more than the State, and the Individual than the Family. So that we ought not to attain this greatest unity even if we could, for it would be the destruction of the State. Again, a State is not made up only of so many men, but of different kinds of men."

Aristotle: The State is a partnership of families and of clans in living well, and its object is a full and independent life.
And a state is the partnership of clans and villages in a full and independent life, which in our view constitutes a happy and noble life;
[NOTE: Partnership of families/clans is a pretext for Estates-General & Multi-Parties of Multi-Party Democracy - Political Pluralism]
"These are necessary preconditions of a State's existence, yet nevertheless, even if all these conditions are present, that does not therefore make a State, but a State is a partnership of families and of clans in living well, and its object is a full and independent life. At the same time this will not be realized unless the partners do inhabit one and the same locality and practise intermarriage; this indeed is the reason why family relationships have arisen throughout the states, and brotherhoods and clubs for sacrificial rites and social recreations. But such organization is produced by the feeling of friendship, for friendship is the motive of social life; therefore, while the object of a State is the good life, these things are means to that end. And a State is the partnership of clans and villages in a full and independent life, which in our view constitutes a happy and noble life; the political fellowship must therefore be deemed to exist for the sake of noble actions, not merely for living in common. Hence those who contribute most to such fellowship have a larger part in the State than those who are their equals in civic virtue, or than those who surpass them in wealth but are surpassed by them in virtue.

Aristotle: Anti-State Corporatism & Anti-Many in One & Anti-Absolute Monarchy
"For the people becomes a monarch, and is many in one; and the many have the power in their hands, not as individuals, but collectively. Homer says that 'it is not good to have a rule of many,' but whether he means this CORPORATE rule, or the rule of many individuals, is uncertain."
"At all events this sort of democracy, which is now a Monarch and no longer under the control of law, seeks to exercise monarchical sway, and grows into a despot; the flatterer is held in honor; this sort of democracy being relatively to other democracies what tyranny is to other forms of monarchy. The spirit of both is the same, and they alike exercise a despotic rule over the better citizens.""
[Note: CONTRAST with Plato]
[Plato: "That the other citizens too must be sent to the task... in order that each of them fulfilling his own function may be not many men, but one, and so the entire city may come to be not a multiplicity but a unity."]
[Joseph de Maistre on "King People": "But of all monarchies, the hardest, most despotic, and most intolerable is King People... whose despotism, always harder and more capricious than that of kings, increases in intensity as the number of subjects grows."

ARISTOTLE: Political & Economical are NOT alike [as opposed to Plato, who thought they were alike in science]
"Now there is an erroneous opinion that a statesman, king, householder, and a master are the same, and that they differ, not in kind, but only in the number of their subjects. For example, the ruler over a few is called a master; over more, the manager of a household; over a still larger number, a statesmen or king, as if there were no difference between a great household and a small state."
Aristotle:
"For some are of opinion that the rule of a master is a science, and that the management of a household, and the mastership of slaves, and the political and royal rule, as I was saying at the outset, are all the same."
Aristotle:
"The rule of a household is a monarchy, for every house is under one head:"
"Whereas constitutional [or political] rule is a government of freemen and equals."
[NOTE: By separating monarchy from being political / state, and making constitutional / political rule as "freemen / equals"
Aristotle denies Monarchy any capacity to have political science & govern a political State, just like with his food argument against the rule of a wise man; meaning, for Aristotle, no monarch ought to govern a City or put a State or City under One Head;
Setting the basis for the ideal of "one among equals" and rotating the estates by an elective monarchy].

Communism, like all Utopias, is impossible of realization, because they are rational and Life is irrational.
Francis Parker Yockey, Imperium

Policy is charged with actualizing an historical Mission, the saving of the Western Civilization from decadence within, and from the barbarian without.

Francis Parker Yockey, Imperium

To the fantastic mental illness of Rationalism, hard facts are regrettable things, and to talk about them is to create them. A tiny politician of the Liberal type even sought to prevent talk about the Third World War, after the Second. Liberalism is, in one word, weakness. It wants every day to be a birthday, Life to be a long party.

The inexorable movement of Time, Destiny, History, the cruelty of accomplishment, sternness, heroism, sacrifice, superpersonal ideas— these are the enemy. Liberalism is an escape from hardness into softness, from masculinity into femininity, from History to herd-grazing, from reality into herbivorous dreams, from Destiny into Happiness. Nietzsche, in his last and greatest work, designated the 18th century as the century of feminism, and immediately mentioned Rousseau, the leader of the mass-escape from Reality. Feminism itself— what is it but a means of feminizing man? If it makes women man-like, it does so only by transforming man first into a creature whose only concern is with his personal economics and his relation to "society," i.e., a woman. [...] Liberalistic tampering with sexual polarity only wreaks havoc on the souls of individuals, confusing and distorting them, but the man-woman and the woman-man it creates are both subject to the higher Destiny of History.

Francis Parker Yockey, Imperium

Thus the whole liberal-democratic ideology, with its "individualism" that is a mere negation of everything superpersonal, its "happiness" ideal that encourages every weakness and self-indulgence, its eroto-mania which distorts the whole sexual life into a barren disease of the will, its "tolerance" which seeks to break down the cohesion of the race by denying its existence, its materialism which denies all spiritual values, all higher significance of human life, its pacifism which values weakness above virility, its ideal of Mediocrity by which it opposes every creative man and the Idea he represents in History, its cult of the proletarian as the highest element, its total renunciation of the Soul of Man— this is the great enemy of Race.

Francis Parker Yockey, Imperium

Which Trump campaign rallies in 2024 did CNN air live?

8 posts 15 web pages

Based on available information and posts found on X, it appears that CNN aired only one Donald Trump campaign rally live in 2024: the rally held on July 13, 2024, in Butler, Pennsylvania. This event gained significant attention due to an assassination attempt on Trump during the rally. There is no conclusive evidence from reliable sources indicating that CNN broadcast any other Trump rallies live throughout the 2024 election cycle. However, this information is primarily drawn from social media sentiment and lacks comprehensive confirmation from official CNN records or detailed media analyses, so it should be treated as suggestive rather than definitive.

Also thrown out was Alex Wagner, the sub on the seriously failing Rachel Maddow show. Rachel rarely shows up because she knows there's nobody watching, and she also knows that she's got less television persona than virtually anyone on television except, perhaps, Joy Reid. The Pentagon is making changes to the resident Press Corps (journalists who have physical workspaces in the building):

OUT: New York Times, NBC News, NPR, Politico

IN: New York Post, OANN, Breitbart, HuffPost

In order to broaden access to the limited space of the Correspondents' Corridor to outlets that have not previously enjoyed the privilege and journalistic value of working from physical office space in the Pentagon, beginning February 14, 2025, the Office of the Secretary of Defense for Public Affairs will implement a new Annual Media Rotation Program for those dedicated media spaces.

Each year, one outlet from each press medium – print, online, television and radio – that has enjoyed working from a physical office in the Pentagon will rotate out of the building to allow a new outlet from the same medium that has not had the unique opportunity to report as a resident member of the Pentagon Press Corps.

This year, the following news outlets will begin their rotation by vacating their physical office space effective Friday, February 14, 2025:

Print – The New York Times
TV – NBC News
Radio – National Public Radio
Online News – POLITICO

In their place, the following outlets from each medium will be invited to move into the Correspondents' Corridor workspaces formerly occupied by the above four outlets.

Print – New York Post
TV – One America News Network
Radio – Breitbart News Network
Online News – HuffPost News (aka The Huffington Post)

Women work longer hours than men

by MATTHEW HICKLEY, Daily Mail

Women are working longer hours while men are putting in less time for their money.

And yet the pay gap between the sexes has widened, research revealed yesterday.

A nationwide survey of 1,600 employees found that women now work almost 34 hours a week on average - half a day longer than the figure of 30.4 hours five years ago.

According to the Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development (CIPD) which carried out the research, the shift reflects the growing number of women in more demanding management roles and professional jobs.

Over the same five-year period, men's average work hours fell from 45.5 hours per week to 44.8 hours, although among the hardestworking males the number putting in more than 49 hours a week has passed the three million mark.

Joseph Goebbels did not actually say "accuse the other side of which you are guilty." This quote is widely misattributed to him, as well as to other figures like Karl Marx and Saul Alinsky, but there is no solid evidence that he ever made this statement in those words. snopes +3

Misattribution and Context

- The phrase is often confused with Goebbels' remarks at the Nuremberg Rally in 1934, where he stated: "The cleverest trick used in propaganda against Germany during the war was to accuse Germany of what our enemies themselves were doing." However, this does not equate to a voluntary admission of the propaganda tactic expressed in the misattributed quote. survivaltricks.wordpress +3
- Goebbels generally asserted that Nazi propaganda needed to be credible and that, publicly, he professed "love for truth," which further contradicts the apocryphal quote's intent. survivaltricks.wordpress

LONDON — The head of the BBC and the British broadcaster's top news executive both resigned Sunday after criticism of the way the organization edited a speech by U.S. President Donald Trump.

The BBC said Director-General Tim Davie and news CEO Deborah Turness had both decided to leave the corporation.

Britain's public broadcaster has been criticized for editing a speech Trump made on Jan. 6, 2021, before protesters attacked the Capitol in Washington.

Critics said that the way the speech was edited for a BBC documentary last year was misleading and cut out a section where Trump said that he wanted supporters to demonstrate peacefully.

Since 1960, over 50 Holocaust-themed movies, like Schindler's List, have been shown in U.S. theaters, reflecting a strong cultural focus. In contrast, films about Bolsheviks killing 30 million Christians are rare, likely 0-5, with no clear examples directly addressing this debated figure. The disparity highlights differing historical emphases in Western cinema.

Ethnicity of grooming gangs cannot be ignored, police told
By Daniel Martin
DEPUTY POLITICAL EDITOR
POLITICAL correctness must no longer prevent the police from using the ethnicity of suspects to identify grooming gangs, Rishi Sunak will say today.
Asian grooming gangs would not be allowed to "evade justice because of cultural sensitivities", a government spokesman said yesterday ahead of the unveiling of a package of measures designed to crack down on organised networks of abusers.
The Prime Minister will order police forces to improve the recording and analysis of ethnicity data – including the sharing of information throughout the country – in an attempt to prevent perpetrators of abuse from falling through the net.
Ministers are understood to be concerned that gangs are not being identified because police are afraid of drawing links between suspects of the same ethnicity for fear of being accused of racism or bigotry.
Police have been required to collect data on the ethnicity of those in child grooming gangs since last April, but the Government is concerned that the information is not being used to identify patterns and lead investigators to other perpetrators.
Grooming will also be made an "aggravated" crime, meaning those found guilty face longer in jail.
Mr Sunak is launching a new Grooming Gangs Taskforce today and will visit survivors of abuse in Leeds and Greater Manchester.
He said ahead of the visit: "The safety of women and girls is paramount. For too long, politically correctness has stopped us from weeding out vile criminals who prey on children and young women. We will stop at nothing to stamp out these dangerous gangs."
It comes after The Independent Inquiry into Child Sexual Abuse (IICSA) warned in October that "victims and survivors suggested that professionals feared allegations of racism and that this was prioritised over their safety".
The inquiry found that despite the scandals of grooming gangs in Rotherham and Rochdale, the problem had not been tackled.
However, Labour last night accused the Government of singling out British Pakistani men and engaging in "dog whistle politics".
Sarah Jones, the Labour MP for Croydon Central, said: "Suella Braverman, the Home Secretary, accused Labour councillors of failing to act against child sexual abuse by gangs of British Pakistani men because of fears of being called racist.
Sir Keir Starmer, the Labour leader, was director of public prosecutions during a period when grooming gangs escaped justice in Rotherham. He has admitted that the CPS failed grooming victims, and told the Commons eight years ago that he had concerns when he left the service that there was a reluctance to take grooming gangs to court.
Mr Sunak pledged to tackle grooming gangs at last summer's Tory leadership contest. In August he told GB News that he wanted to "make sure that all police forces record the ethnicity of those involved".
He also said: "I want to create a brand new life sentence for those involved in grooming with very limited options for parole because I'm not going to let political correctness stand in the way of tackling this absolutely horrific crime."
The new taskforce, led by the police and supported by the National Crime Agency, will be made up of officers with extensive experience of undertaking grooming gang investigations.
Data analysts will work alongside the taskforce to identify the types of criminals who carry out these offences, helping police forces across the country catch offenders who might otherwise be missed.
A government spokesman said: "This will also include police recorded ethnicity data to make sure suspects cannot evade justice because of cultural sensitivities."
The analysts will ensure the data is shared across regions. A pilot scheme found that the number of people identified rose from five to 59 using the new technologies.
Legislation will be introduced to make being the leader of, or involvement in, a grooming gang a statutory aggravating factor during sentencing.

Starmer to confront Trump on Ukraine
US military backstop is vital to stop Putin from invading again, PM to tell president
By Ben Riley-Smith POLITICAL EDITOR in Washington DC
SIR KEIR STARMER will warn Donald Trump today that Vladimir Putin will invade Ukraine again unless the US provides protection for a European peace-keeping force.
Speaking ahead of the pair's White House meeting, the Prime Minister said a US "backstop" – possibly military or logistical support for any troops sent in to enforce a peace deal – was crucial to secure a lasting end to the conflict.
However, hours before he was due to arrive in Washington DC, Mr Trump pushed back on the idea, saying he would not be making "security guarantees beyond very much". And in a broadside to Brussels, the US president also claimed the European Union was "formed in order to screw the United States".
Today's Oval Office talks will be the first time Sir Keir and Mr Trump have met since the president entered office and shocked Europe by indicating a scaling back of security support.
Former diplomats have argued the meeting is one of the most significant between UK and US leaders since the Second World War.
Sir Keir is expected to try to persuade Mr Trump that Europe is taking its own security seriously and that US involvement is still vital. Speaking to reporters on the plane to Washington, Sir Keir said: "The reason I say the [US] backstop is so important is that the security guarantee has to be sufficient to deter Putin from coming again."
He added: "My concern is if there is a ceasefire without a backstop, it will simply give him the opportunity to wait and to come again because his ambition in relation to Ukraine is pretty obvious, I think, for all to see."
The Telegraph understands that during the talks the US delegation is also expected to bring up concerns about a Chinese mega embassy slated for London. US officials have written to the British embassy laying out fears it could be used to bug phones on Five speech.
It is unclear if Sir Keir's deal to hand the Chagos Islands to Mauritius, which Mr Trump is yet to make a decision on, will be discussed.
Last night David Lammy, the Foreign Secretary, who is in Washington with the Prime Minister, stressed that the White House had a veto over any deal, saying: "If President Trump doesn't like the deal, the deal will not go forward."
It comes after allies of the president have warned the pact could jeopardise US plans to use the vast Indian island, Diego Garcia, as home to a US military base.
After hours of talks, discussions will be the shape of any deal to end Russia's invasion and the specifics of Europe's proposal to help keep the peace with boots on the ground.
Areas such as whether the US would respond if Russia attacked the European peace-keeping force in Ukraine are expected to be discussed, as well as potential logistical support.
In remarks likely to show the challenge facing Sir Keir in the talks, Mr Trump, who has long been a critic of American entanglements in foreign wars, yesterday appeared to play down his appetite for involvement in Ukraine after the ceasefire.
Mr Trump said: "I'm not going to make security guarantees beyond very much. We're going to have Europe do that, because we're talking about Europe as the next-door neighbour.
"But we're going to make sure everything goes well and, as you know, we'll be really partnering with Ukraine in terms of raw earth. We very much need raw earth."
It comes after reports Volodymyr Zelensky, Ukraine's president, is set to sign a deal in Washington DC tomorrow over the rights to its mineral wealth.

BBC pays Taliban to broadcast in Afghanistan
By Fiona Parker
MEDIA NEWS REPORTER
THE BBC is paying money to the Taliban's propaganda wing to ensure that it can broadcast in Afghanistan.
Since militants seized Kabul in August 2021, the Islamic fundamentalist regime has censored multiple media companies and forced radio stations off air. But the corporation remains able to broadcast from the country, in part because of payments to Radio and Television of Afghanistan (RTA).
The Telegraph understands money from the BBC's overseas arm is small parts of the RTA sites, which enables the BBC to house its FM equipment. Security for these sites is also covered by the rent.
Tolo Rock, head of campaigns at the BBC, said: "The BBC is clear that we will not talk to the stomach by what the BBC is doing in Afghanistan. The BBC is funding what is effectively the propaganda wing of the Taliban. If the price of broadcasting in Afghanistan involves handing over backwards to Taliban demands then the BBC should consider pulling out."
The Taliban is continuing to restrict the freedoms of women, minority groups and others. Last week a British couple in their seventies were arrested by the Taliban. Peter Reynolds, 70, and his wife Barbie, 75, had been running training projects in schools in the country for the past 20 years.
A BBC spokesman said: "The BBC is editorially independent throughout its programming, irrespective of the language service, and remains the only international news media organisation still broadcasting inside Afghanistan.
"We make rental payments to RTA to enable distribution, via the BBC FM network, of independent and impartial news to audiences throughout the country. The BBC has robust compliance procedures in place to ensure it complies with UK sanctions."
The BBC has a long-standing correspondent against the Taliban but has, instead, designated individuals and entities within Afghanistan.
Meanwhile, the BBC's charitable wing, BBC Media Action – which operates independently to the broadcaster – is reportedly contributing to the regime by paying income tax on staff salaries and operating costs such as vehicle registration and licensing. The Telegraph understands such costs are required by any organisation operating in Afghanistan. There is no suggestion that the BBC or BBC Media Action are breaking sanctions.

MICHAEL CRICHTON “

Media carries with it a credibility that is totally undeserved. You have all experienced this, in what I call the Murray Gell-Mann Amnesia effect.

Briefly stated, the Gell-Mann Amnesia effect is as follows. You open the newspaper to an article on some subject you know well. In Murray's case, physics. In mine, show business. You read the article and see the journalist has absolutely no understanding of either the facts or the issues.

Often, the article is so wrong it actually presents the story backward—reversing cause and effect. I call these the 'wet streets cause rain' stories. Paper's full of them.

In any case, you read with exasperation or amusement the multiple errors in a story, and then turn the page to national or international affairs, and read as if the rest of the newspaper was somehow more accurate about Palestine than the baloney you just read. You turn the page, and forget what you know.

That is the Gell-Mann Amnesia effect. I'd point out it does not operate in other arenas of life. In ordinary life, if somebody consistently exaggerates or lies to you, you soon discount everything they say. In court, there is the legal doctrine of falsus in uno, falsus in omnibus, which means untruthful in one part, untruthful in all. But when it comes to the media, we believe against evidence that it is probably worth our time to read other parts of the paper.

Yet another Universal Basic Income study was released just before the holidays.

While being given ~$500 per month in free money, participants only ended up $100 richer and smoked more cigarettes.

The full results are eye opening. (1/10)

True story ⬇️

When I ruptured my pec tendon, I went to the emergency ward. All the staff were Indian, it was difficult to communicate with them.

I waited for 7 hours, then eventually saw an Indian woman GP.

She told me 'looks like a strain, you just need rest'.
She then abruptly left the room, leaving me sitting there in front of an unlocked medicine cabinet full of syringes, insulin and opioids.

I assumed she was coming back but I waited so long I got bored and started pacing the room, until I eventually decided to let myself out.

I asked the staff at the admin desk where the doctor had gone, nobody knew what I was talking about. I went home.

Two days later I saw a White GP at a suburban clinic. He sent me straight in for an MRI scan, confirmed complete rupture, got surgery a week later.

When I arrived for surgery, the nurse who puts the drip thing (called a cannula) into your vein was Indian. They do that in the waiting area when you arrive. But when I got to the operating theatre, the surgeon had to re-apply the cannula himself, because the original one wasn't in the vein properly.

You're not supposed to notice how unbelievably incompetent they are.

I am not surprised at all with the Indian nepotism and ethnic in group bias shown by them in the west. Indian are worse than Jews when it comes to Nepotism. They would break all rules and recruit their family members at all positions inn any kind of organization. Indian politicians are known to hire their whole village, clan and caste in all kind of government jobs and tenders.

Indians and corruption are inseparable. They see no problem in it and would cut corners at all levels to make some money. They would scam, cheat and lie without a single thought in their minds as they can just take a dip in the filthy Ganges to get rid of their sins. Indians are the most dishonest people on this planet, bar none. I say this after being born in this cursed race of Golems and observing their behavior all my life.

your entire race is genetic garbage. most by far are short ugly weak and dumb. you eat animal shit and piss. you rape live and dead animals. you rape children. you rape your own relatives. you are inbred. you are all thieves and scammers. you have bred out of control like rats and destroyed the environment of india, it is nothing but polluted air and water now, and now you all want to escape it to get to clean white countries but you are too stupid to realize you will end up destroying them too. you will scam, cheat and steal to get ahead, especially into white countries. all of your qualifications are fake and once one rat gains entry to a white country using it they start to smuggle other rat jeets in. this is your only goal, you don't care about anything like quality of life or work because anything is better than living in india. your only goal is entry into white countries which you then parasite off and ultimately destroy. you have a sick culture where you suck up to those above you but are cruel to those below you. you are arrogant when you have no reason to be. the white british rediscovered your ancient sanskrit language and religion and history and had to explain them all to you, because you racially degraded yourselves to where you forgot them all. all of your work has to be checked and corrected by whites and studies now show you are not worth employing because of this. you rank at or near the bottom of mathematical, science, computer coding and real physical olympics. you are actually only useful as cheap slave labor for the worst jobs possible or to jews who hate whites. there are no smart indians, your average iq is 76. this means there are more genius whites in a small european country or american state of a few million people than in the whole of india. if there were smart indians there would be nice parts of india where they would move to, but there are not. the whole rest of humanity wants you to fuck off and die forever. please just kill yourself

I always say this: Australia can be proud that it is existing proof of the superiority of the white man.

In South Africa, niggers had it all. They were given an existing, functioning, and quite successful country to run as they so pleased, and even with a huge amount of aid and the help of good white Afrikaners, they couldn't keep the show running. The best chance niggers ever had at becoming a civilized nation and they ran it into the ground because they are so utterly sub-human that not only can they not build a nation, but they can't be left in charge of one for even a few decades.

To Australia, England sent its convicts. Its rejects. The people whom the English deemed unfit to live in civil society, were sent to a prison colony solely for the purpose of not bothering their homeland with their filth. It was not a noble idea or a pleasant one, England just didn't have enough room in the prisons and didn't give a single iota of a fuck what happened to these stains on society and so they sent them to a barren continent so that they were someone elses problem.

And yet these largely uneducated, criminal trash off the British Isles, managed to collectively come together in this wasteland and forge one of the greatest nations in the world. A nation that would reconnect with its homeland and become part of the Anglosphere. a nation that is not only a part of the greater white world, but actually holds some degree of importance. And not only did we manage to do it despite all the odds, but we managed to do it before a bunch of coons who had been there for a thousand or so odd years.

The worst white British managed to do in less than 100 years with little resources what the best niggers could not do when it was fucking handed to them, and what the petrol-chuggers couldn't do in 1000. And we at least deserve a bit of credit for that one.

The Brutality of 'Corrective Rape'

By Clare Carter, July 27, 2013

South Africa has one of the world's highest rates of sexual assault. According to a 2009 government survey, one in four men admit to having sex with a woman who did not consent to intercourse, and nearly half of these men admitted to raping more than once. An earlier government study found that a majority of rapes were committed by friends and acquaintances of the victim.

Just as disturbing is a practice called "corrective rape" — the rape of gay men and lesbians to "cure" them of their sexual orientation.

Fun fact: the only ethnic groups in America that pay more in taxes than they take in welfare are whites and Asians.
Blacks in America have a tax/welfare deficit of $390B a year.
That means that every 5 years $2T dollars are taken from whites + Asians and given to blacks.

>A new exhibition titled “1000 years of Polish Russophobia” has opened in Moscow, organised by a Kremlin-linked historical society

>The exhibition opened on Monday on Gogolevsky Boulevard in central Moscow. It was organised by the Russian Military Historical Society (RMHS)

>“The exhibition is dedicated to the question of why Russophobia has become the foundation of Polish political consciousness today,” said RMHS’s academic director, Mikhail Myagkov.

>According to the RMHS, for example, the exhibition presents evidence that “a German trace is evident” in the Katyn massacres despite Polish claims that “only the Russians are to blame” for the killings.

>Another section of the exhibition focuses on Poland’s recent policy of removing dozens of communist-era monuments honouring the Red Army, whose “soldiers died liberating Poland”, in the words of the RMHS. “These actions can be explained solely by Russophobia,” it adds.

>Some parts of the exhibition also look at events since Russia’s “special military operation” in Ukraine in 2022, including making the false claim that Poland wants to occupy western Ukraine

>“They’ve surrendered their territory to NATO. They’re preparing a war against us. And Poland itself is initiating this conflict,” he continued, adding that “only a victory” in Ukraine will “slow this Russophobic trend in Poland” and strenghten pro-Russian political movements

>A 2022 poll by the Pew Research Center found that only 2% of Poles hold a favourable view of Russia, which was the lowest figure among all countries it surveyed.

Man, I gotta say, I kinda agree with the Russians on this one. Russophobia is like the second biggest phobia in Poland, right after Ukrainophobia and antisemitism. xD Shouldn't they be ashamed of leeching off the white man?

I'd want to know that my

I like bringing city folk to my backwoods place, and I've noticed a pattern.

Whites/Asians find relief in the quiet. Like they had a cold and can finally breathe from both nostrils again.

Blacks/Latinos find the quiet unsettling, and can't relax unless they fill it with noise.

Jews are pajeets.

>Alexander conquered the important parts of India in 327 BC, and it was around this time when Aristotle claimed that Jews originated from India as far back as the 4th century BC. "Jews are derived from the Indian philosophers; they are named by the Indians Calami, and by the Syrians Judaei, and took their name from the country they inhabit, which is called Judea." Megasthenes (350 BC - 290 BC) recorded the same thing: "The Jews were an Indian tribe or sect called Kalani".

Ethnogenesis of the ashkenazi "jew" >indian gypsies leave india >split into two groups >one went to europe and became called the 'roma', which they still are called today >another went to arabia and mixed with east african capoids >ventured north to levant, they became called 'canaanites' by the existing population, the canaanites moved to outskirts of town, worshipping their cow-god moloch >after few centuries, in ~600AD, canaanites take parts of christianity, mix in parts of their ancient pajeet religion (f.ex. cow-god Moloch in jewdaism, mecca saturnus cube in pisslam), make mixtape out of it >in fact two mixtapes, judaism and islam >canaanites split into two by religion, now they're called jews and arabs >at this point jews and arabs are indistinguishable and brown as the jews haven't stolen European genes yet.

>arabs multiply, islam spreads, centuries pass, now its the Ottoman empire >jewish (still brown) merchants are inside byzantine (eastern roman empire) >jews help the muslim invaders to invade byzantine, provide intel, open gates from inside, join the invaders in the massacre >constantinople falls, hagia sophia is crudely transformed from a church to a mosque, today is called istanbul >jews are rewarded with the wives and daughters of the slain Christian men of Byzantine >jews rape these women and children repeatedly >captive white women bear the jews half-white rape babies >half-white rapebabies inbreed with each other
>"ashkenazi" jew is born

I don’t mean to be racist... but I can’t help but notice that Indians compulsively lie at work (and to their gfs) and try to replace employees with their Indian friends... asked my termianlly online right wing colleague and he said that Indians are ‘brown Jews’. I can’t unsee it...

Air India says 30% of passengers on India-US flights ask for wheelchairs. On flights to and from the US, passengers who request a wheelchair get to board first, disembark first, and get pushed to their gate by an assistant. Now American airports are confirming that most of these Indian Hindu invaders are able bodied travelers scamming the priority boarding system. Real disabled passengers get left short- on all other airlines- because the wheelchairs and assistants belong to the airport not to the airline. Indian Hindu barbarism never fails to infest high trust forms of civilization, and reduce it all to the rape, filth, and savagery they show us in India. When will the white man wake up?

Hi. I didn't see this term mentioned in the thread, so I wanted to share this all with you. It's about Izzat. Some posts have mentioned 'saving face', which is Izzat, but I wanted to elaborate on it.

Izzat has no direct translation into English. We only have terms that can broach the same concept such as 'honour' or 'reputation' or 'face'. Izzat is so much more than that. It's a zero-sum game of collective honour shared by whole groups of people, all of whom take it very, very seriously. A system like this isn't just foreign to Enlightenment values, but I'd argue it's antithetical to every sensible form of governance on the planet. It will destroy any system that assumes good faith.

Izzat conflicts are not about who is right and who is wrong. It's about who wins and who loses. This means it's a zero-sum game where just about any action is justified (including murder) to restore the lost Izzat. Izzat is a limited social currency and the easiest way to get it is to take it from someone else. Winning is righteous in Izzat. Losing is unrighteous. This means that if someone plays the game of izzat well enough, they can get away with just about anything (murder, rape, scamming, cheating, stealing). The only morality in Izzat is the protection of your group's collective ego. The only appropriate response when your Izzat is attacked is the complete destruction of whoever insulted it.

Two people get into an argument. They might escalate, but chances are it won't be that bad. i.e. 'Sorry I broke your garden gnome.' With two Indians in an argument, the stakes are always deadly thanks to Izzat. Neither of them can back down, nor can they admit fault. Admitting fault is seen as deliberately humiliating yourself. Not only that, but because Izzat is shared, you are shaming everyone who shares your Izzat. So, admitting fault or taking responsibility for a problem is a form of social suicide. This means even if the dispute was over something completely fucking stupid or trivial (like a broken garden gnome), it could spiral into a decades long honour feud.

Izzat is also the reason why police are reluctant to get involved in disputes. Because Izzat is a zero-sum game, all participants are involved in the game. If a policeman sides with one family over another in an Izzat dispute, this means that he's deliberately taking the side of that family and dishonouring the other. This marks him for retribution by the offending party. Without parties being able to be impartial, then centralized authority cannot effectively function.

Let's say someone in India complains about a broken water pipe. Instead of the problem being addressed, the official responsible for the water pipe denies it's a problem and counterattacks him instead, because daring to question his efficacy in his role was challenging his Izzat. So the official destroys the person who brought the problem up. The water pipe never gets fixed.

Izzat is also the reason why Indian managers are so infamous for hiring more Indians. It's because from the manager's perspective, he's using his position to gain an invisible social currency. Merit and actual qualifications come second to that idea. If he hired a westerner, he would not gain or even lose Izzat by doing so. He has a very strong cultural incentive not to be impartial. Meanwhile, if he can strong-arm dozens of Indians into a company, he is gaining huge quantities of Izzat and conspirators who owe an absolute debt to him.

It's not uncommon to see Indians gloat about their success in the west. And yes, izzat is very much a system that enables short term success. But the fundamental reality is the prosperity that these Indians find so attractive in the first place wouldn't exist if the west practiced something similar to Izzat. Our systems can only exist on the assumption of good faith, and not a majority of people exploiting them for destructive short term gain. On top of that, if an Indian causes the systems and companies he comes into contact with to collapse, then he can just go back to India with his plunder. He has no stakes in the long-term prosperity, functionality or stability of these systems. The stakes are completely asymmetrical in the Indian's favour.

You all know about that infamous video of that Indian scamming a food bank. Once again, winning is righteous. Losing is not. By employing 'clever' means (jugaad), he successfully extracted more resources for himself and his family. From the perspective of jugaad, a rule is not something to respect, but merely an obstacle to the Indian's own gain. Since he cheated the system and wasn't caught, he is seen as a righteous and dignified man in the Izzat framework.

I read a story in India about a man offering to pay another man to use a public toilet instead of defecating openly. The latter left and came back with several friends and beat the former to death. The problem was not that he was defecating openly, but that he was criticised for doing so. And with Izzat, it's not an eye-for-an-eye. Izzat is often an eye-for-a-whole-head. Disproportionately and brutally annihilating your enemies is the correct move to make because you take back your lost Izzat and then some. This kind of vindictiveness would be rightly seen as horrifying and disgusting in most of the world.

There was a greentext from 4chan (I don't have it so bear with me). Anon knew an Indian. This Indian would make outlandish claims (he could benchpress 500kg, he was a billionaire, he did arms deals with the US government). Anon said he didn't believe the Indian. The Indian reacted with righteous indignation. The situation escalated to the point where the Indian was emailing Anon death threats. Anon responded by forwarding the emails to the police. The Indian killed himself. Anon was left baffled at the whole situation and had no idea what the fuck just happened.

So, without Izzat, this looks like an utterly insane and pointless sequence of events. But with Izzat? The Indian's actions suddenly make sense. He was boasting to increase his Izzat, and when Anon simply stated his disbelief, it was seen as a vicious attack on his Izzat. The Indian escalated the situation to restore the lost Izzat. When the police got involved, the dispute had become public, so the Indian's shame had increased to unbearable levels. He committed suicide in order to save his remaining Izzat. Anon had no idea what Izzat was, or if he did, he didn't mention it, yet the Indian's actions perfectly align with this framework. This is what makes me believe the green text was genuine.

The western idea of merit is competence in a role. Merit in Izzat is determined by what lengths you will go to to achieve a goal, with competence merely being one path. It often becomes a secondary path, as printing a degree that says you're qualified to be a jet pilot is just as good as being able to actually fly a jet in the eyes of Izzat. In other words, Izzat selects for appearance over authentic merit or morality.

Now, a counterargument an Indian might make is 'Izzat is a dated word' or 'We don't use that word.' I like to compare it to the word vendetta. Vendetta in Italian has a very specific meaning (a familial blood feud where revenge must be taken to restore honour etc). This word would not exist if this didn't reflect a specific facet of Italian life. Izzat is no different. Hell, I've had to write several paragraphs just to explain what the hell Izzat is. Izzat isn't an archaic term either. It's well and truly alive in the modern Indian lexicon.

If izzat were regularly discussed openly, this would be considered one of the greatest possible insults in the Izzat framework. Izzat is why Indians do mass reports, death threats, false flags and various other underhanded tactics when a westerner exposes something they don't want people to see (such as the poop throwing festival). If I knew something like that existed in the west, I would say 'wow that's disgusting, we should stop this'. But in India, the problem is not the point. The point is the problem being exposed and the perceived insult to izzat from exposing the problem. The water pipe never gets fixed.

The one saving grace is Izzat performs awfully in the long term. Once Indians displace you, they will go back to playing this insane game among themselves. It's what happened to companies that got hit by Izzat. This is also why there aren't any homegrown Indian companies that have the same influence as Microsoft or Google. Whenever they start getting ahead, their companies implode from infighting, nobody doing their jobs, everybody trying to cheat each other and nobody addressing critical issues. Systems that delegate authority and work on good faith eventually win out over zero-sum honour feuding. Izzat cannot maintain complex systems because its players are only concerned with short term gain.

With the west, the issue is that it often fails to live up to its own ideals. It's not a perfect system, but we can course correct and address problems pragmatically. With Izzat, Indians live up to those ideals very, very often. When you see the dysfunctionality of India, remember that it's a feature of Izzat, not a bug.

Jugaad as a term also warrants more explanation, but my post is long enough as it is.

Don't just read the headline, really understand what happened so you can see how savage and subhuman these rape rats are.
>Ranjeet 1 walks into the ICU, sees a FOUR YEAR OLD hooked up to tubes and wires >thinks to himself hey, she looks like the same size as a fleshlight, as an Indian doctor I am entitled to relieve my stress this way
>Ranjeets 2-5 see Ranjeet 1 enjoying himself, and jealously think Ranjeet 1 is getting some four year old pussy, that's not fair, I want some too...so they line up and each wait their turn
>At no point did it concern Ranjeet Rape Rats 1-5 that there were cameras in the hospital, because rape is so normal in India that being accused of rape is like someone in the west getting a speeding ticket. Therefore they made no attempts to cover their faces or the cameras while raping this FOUR YEAR OLD human fleshlight
>The fact that these five stinky rape rats could get an erection at a hospital ICU, over a four year old corpse, and maintain it long enough to wait their turn while the other Ranjeets finished..

Just normal things when the Hindu cult of rape and pedophilia is allowed to infest civilization. Take note of the news from India, it's a giant warning for what will happen in our countries as these 2 billion Indian Hindu rape rat pedophile hordes keep infesting our countries like cockroaches and never leaving

A recent study examined the relationship between honesty, intelligence, and ethnic background:

"Research shows that honesty correlates positively with intelligence. Similarly, there are racial differences in honesty, with Europeans being more honest than various other ethnic groups."

"We replicate prior findings that honesty correlated with measures of intelligence and that Blacks and Hispanics are less honest than Whites, and this holds whether honesty is measured by self-reports, interviewer-reports or by parent-reports."

"Race differences in honesty remained between Blacks and Whites but not between Whites and Hispanics after controlling for intelligence."

The racial traits of non-Europeans:
1. Existentially distressed by space, quiet, privacy and nature itself.
2. Compelled to degrade and over-populate any habitat into a wasteland of environmental disaster.
3. Every interaction is a zero-sum game if not a negative-sum game.
4. Perceive everything as a matter of social status, which they seek to humiliate others with.
5. Breed out of spite and only care for their kin in a performative fashion.
6. Adept at mimicry so to achieve a sufficiently convincing but false appearance.
7. Rebound between feigned humility, begging for acceptance, and delusional gloating.
8. Succeed in making problems and proposing ways to hide them, enabling maldevelopment.
9. Claim superiority by immiserating conditions to the point where participation only makes life worse.
10. Regularly kill their sane outliers for being sane.
11. Conflate the disgust mechanism with a pathological complex.
12. Default position on anything is relativistic cruelty justified by contrived grievance.
13. Project everything they are guilty of onto Europeans since every negative accusation they make is a confession.
14. Incapable of empathy yet demand and exploit empathy to elicit guilt and avoid extermination.

The "minority" effect:
Upon infiltration, a single non-European, be it African, Asiatic or Jewish, will seek to establish a personable reputation among the host population. However, they subconsciously recognise that the fundamental group of a host society is their greatest threat. Hence, they indulge virtuous contact and token generosity as a façade for ulterior motives while increasing their numbers and influence. The passive-aggressive types use subterfuge, like a snake in the grass, while their immoderate brethren use overt force, like the grass that covers the snake, the latter of which they claim does not represent them in general as they uphold plausible deniability; For they all seek the death of Europeans one way or another.

The Jesus of Islam is the false prophet of Revelation, his actions are word for word what the false prophet does. Islam is the Beast system. It's not a number on the forehead or arm. It's fucking Arabic. It's something like "Allah is great" then the cross swords, which is the symbol for Islam. It's the same shit they wear on their heads now!
John didn't understand because Islam was not invented yet. So he put it down as the closest he could recognize. The shapes kinda looked like numbers so he wrote the numbers.
Islam is performing identity theft with Jesus and lying about their god "little g" to try and woe christians. Unfortunately scripture says when their false Jesus returns most people will believe.
But a few of us know the test.
None, ABSOLUTELY NONE, can deny Jesus when he is before them. So when a false Christ appears perform this simple test. Try to say out loud that he isn't The Messiah if you can successfully say, "That isn't Jesus." Then guess what, it's not. God really did make it that simple.
Do not be fooled by the beast system like the masses. Ffs this is still 4chan despite the billions the feds pump into here. The truth still matters.

Morning Star

By Anna Von Reitz

I am not sure why I have to address this topic at this time, but it is apparent from the number and volume of references and questions coming at me from all sides that such a public discussion is necessary.

People need to know what "Morning Star" in the Bible is about and to have some resolution in their minds as to why both Satan and Jesus are referred to with these words.

Satan is called the Son of the Morning Star in Isaiah 14:12.
Jesus is called the "Bright and Morning Star" in Revelations 22:16.

The Morning Star, also known as the Dog Star, is the brightest star in the heavens. It is part of a star complex that is more scientifically known as Sirius B.

According to ancient records, Satan is from Sirius B originally, but he "fell to Earth" or was "cast down to Earth". The Bible doesn't explain his exact origins other than this reference to the Morning Star, but this information is recorded elsewhere in other ancient scriptures of the world. His consort, Semiramis, was likewise said to have "fallen to Earth", but in her case, she splashed down in the Euphrates River in an shimmering metal egg---- sounding just like an Escape Pod on Star Trek.

At this point it helps to know that Satan has many names and so does his wife, Semiramis. Satan is known as Lucifer, the Devil, the One-Eyed God, Nimrod (also the name of the Grandson of Noah) Poseidon, Leviathan, and.... Son of the Morning Star. Semiramis is known as Ashtoreth, Astarte, Isis, Cybele.....and Columbia, as in District of Columbia. This is not an exhaustive list, but hits the highlights.

Satan's association with the sea, with the Morning Star, and with deception, illusions, and lies runs throughout all the literature concerning him worldwide. His wife is famous as the creator of idols, idolatry, money, prostitution, tree worship, the practice of sex as a sacrament, and infanticide.

Satan is a Seraph, the Highest Order of the Angelic Hosts. He is immortal and cannot be killed, only imprisoned. Seraphs primarily exist in their true form as beings made of energy and are invisible to human eyes. When they do appear in this world, they most often appear as dragons--- reptiles with wings--- or as gigantic snakes known as Basilisks. They can also adopt the appearance of a human though not entirely convincingly-- they are recognizably strange and beautiful; or, they can simply inhabit a willing human Host Body -- sometimes for a whole lifetime.

Satan has a special relationship with the sea-going Israelite Tribe of Dan, which carries a snake as its emblem and on its banner. Many of his human hosts have come from the Tribe of Dan and many members of the Tribe of Dan have practiced Enochian Magic to summon these evil beings and their lesser cohorts. They are also the ones primarily responsible for the Talmud and the exceedingly violent and nasty advice and practices spelled out in the Talmud against the Goyim--- the rest of us, including other tribes of the Israel. The Tribe of Dan is an "Equal Opportunity Hater"---- they hate everyone not of their specific blood lines.

[The Tribe of Judah, in turn, has a special relationship with Our Father, the Living God. They are His bearers and gatekeepers and faithful ones, so that Jesus is known as the "Lion of Judah". They will keep the rule until the one who is the rightful heir comes from the Tribe of Ephraim.]

These two, Satan and Semiramis, are merely two of all the seraphs ever created by Our Father, and they are all Sons and Daughters of the Morning Star---Sirius B. The star also gave its name to Syria, the country, and to Syrians, the name of the people inhabiting that country. It is in part the search for the ancient knowledge and technology of these "Fallen Angels" that is driving all the fighting in Syria today.

So now you know the origin and nature of Satan. He is quite literally the "Son of the Morning Star".

Is Jesus also a seraph, one of those loyal to Our Father, who came to Earth to battle with Satan? Quite possibly. The Angels are known as Sons of God, and by the power of Our Father's Holy Spirit and the willingness of a human host---such as Mary, remember, she was asked to accept her role, and she did---- a seraph could be made incarnate, literally, as a son. We may never know until all things are revealed, but it is consistent with what is known about the history and the nature of these spiritual beings.

It is apparent that despite his immense cruelty and intelligence and ability to deceive people including Judas Iscariot and the members of the Sanhedrin ---- Satan was beaten, and death was set aside; the Living God left the temple forever, breaking through the veil of the massive temple curtain like an egg shell and parting it just as He once parted the Red Sea.

This is what is meant by Jesus being the Way--- imagine the Hebrews walking across the pathway cleared through the Red Sea, with the walls of water standing hundreds of feet high on either side of them? In the same way, Jesus became the Way--- the Path to Heaven--- the means for us to cross over the Great Divide set between us and Heaven, by ending our separation from Our Father.

Now, finally, why is Jesus called the "Bright and Morning Star"? Is it because he, too, is a seraph and originally came from the Morning Star planetary system? Maybe. It hardly matters. What matters is that the Holy Spirit now inhabits the Earth, and if we will open our hearts, the same Holy Spirit will inhabit us, making us shine like Our Father, like our Righteous Redeemer, like the Morning Star --- great, burning beacons in the darkness.

It is this inhabiting of human flesh by the Holy Spirit which protects us against Satan and all his wiles, because the Holy Spirit is stronger than Satan and always knows and speaks the Truth. Thus, when Satan sees one of us filled with the Holy Spirit of the Living God, he runs like a rabbit and seeks a hole to hide in. He is beset on every side by faithful sons and daughters of the Living God, people who are no longer prey for his amusement, but astonishingly wise and powerful beings raised up from the dust.

We are told that we will be "greater than the angels". It's time we took that promise seriously and made ourselves worthy of it.

Pope Leo XIV has launched a scathing attack against usury

In a meeting with the 'National Anti Usury Consultation' of Italy, Leo XIV lashed out at userers who have a 'devastating impact on the lives of so many individuals and families'

• 'The prophets, in fact, denounced usury, along with exploitation and every form of injustice towards the poor'

•'It is a grave sin, at times very grave, because it cannot be reduced to mere accounting; usury can bring crisis to families, it can wear down the mind and heart to the point of leading one to consider suicide as the only way out'

• 'What initially appears to be a help actually becomes a torment in the long run'

• 'This also happens at the level of countries around the world. Unfortunately, usurious financial systems can bring entire populations to their knees'

JESUS WAS NOT JEWISH
"Whoever makes the assertion that Christ was a Jew is either ignorant or insincere: ignorant when he confuses race and religion; insincere when he knows the history of Galilee, and partly conceals, partly distorts the very entangled facts in favor of his religious prejudices, or it may be, to curry favor with the Jews.
~Houston Stewart Chamberlain. Foundations of the XIX Century, p. 211.
"After these things Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Jewry, because the Jews sought to kill him."
~John 7:1
'Jew' is a 17th century English mistranslation of the Greek work Ioudaios which means Judean. This word is used to describe both residents of Judea and people descended from the Tribe of Judah. The geneology of Jesus Christ confirms he is a descendent of Judah. He is a Judahite, and therefore a Judean. Because modern Jews are descended from Esau, not his brother Jacob/Israel, they cannot be descended of Judah and therefore are not Judean.
"In spite of the powerful propaganda effort of the so-called 'Jews', they have been unable to prove in recorded history that there is one record, prior to that period, of a race religion or nationality, referred to as 'Jew'."
~Benjamin Freedman, a Jewish scholar. "Common Sense."

JUDAISM IS NOT HEBRAISM
"I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Judahites, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan." ~Jesus Christ, Revelations 2:9

Judaism is a modern religion invented when the Talmud was imported from Babylon following the Babylonian Captivity. The Talmud is the foundation of Judaism. Hebraism is the Israelite religion based on the Torah a.k.a. the New Testament a.k.a the Laws and the Prophets, all which dealt with the children of God awaiting their savior the Christ. Judaism is based off the traditions of the Pharisees and their scriptures the Talmud.

JESUS DID NOT PRACTICE JUDAISM
Jesus was a descendent of Judah and David, and therefore an Israelite. He followed Hebraism like other Israelites, while Edomites (that is, modern Jews) followed the Pharisees' Talmud.
"He distinguished 'between the 'Israelite' and 'Jewish' elements in the intellectual atmosphere in which Jesus grew up: though Judaism reigned in the schools of the scribes and held the field to outward appearance, yet an 'Israelite' strain of piety and conviction prevailed in a certain section of religious society. Those who walked in the green pastures and beside the still waters of this faith of the heart were in touch with the Prophets and understood all that is deepest in the Old Testament."
~James Stalker, The Christology of Jesus (London: Hodder & Stoughton, 1899), p. 144.
So what did Jesus have to say about Pharisees, that is the Jews, of his time? Here we have it:
"Jesus said to them, "If God were your Father, you would love Me, for I proceeded forth and have come from God, for I have not even come on My own initiative, but He sent Me. "Why do you not understand what I am saying? It is because you cannot hear My word. "You are of your father the devil, and you want to do the desires of your father. He was a murderer from the beginning, and does not stand in the truth because there is no truth in him. Whenever he speaks a lie, he speaks from his own nature, for he is a liar and the father of lies."
~John 8:42-44
"Webster's definition spotlights Pharisaism as modern Judaism. This is proudly echoed by many rabbinical sources, who are quite arrogant of their station. They would move heaven and earth to discourage thousands of pastors and televangelists from teaching what Jesus has told us so clearly."
~C.E. Cardon. "Why Watch Pharisees".

Galatians 5:2

2 Behold, I Paul say unto you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing.

3 For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, that he is a debtor to do the whole law.

4 Christ is become of no effect unto you, whosoever of you are justified by the law; ye are fallen from grace.

5 For we through the Spirit wait for the hope of righteousness by faith.

6 For in Jesus Christ neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision; but faith which worketh by love.

7 Ye did run well; who did hinder you that ye should not obey the truth?

HORRIBLE IDEOLOGY FOR HUMAN RIGHTS
Informed rational freedom loving people have all the reasons in the world to fear islam. The twin fogs of political correctness & ignorance must be dispersed before western society better understands this menace. Even a brief review of islamic theology & history quickly exposes the deadly roots of this evil ideology.
Mohamhead was a 7th century murdering warlord who rose to power on a river of blood surrounded by thugs and gangsters using intimidation, violence, deception and trickery to expand their criminal empire while mercilessly suppressing and killing their opponents and enriching themselves on stolen booty.
The evil koran is a collection of sayings and speeches by this diabolical madman claiming divine guidance from some mythical sky-god which has inspired generations of crazed fanatics to abhorrent behavior resulting in historys worst ever crimes against humanity starting 1400 years ago and still continuing even today.
Islam is just another fascist totalitarian ideology used by power hungry fanatics on yet another quest for worldwide domination and includes all the usual human rights abuses & suppression of freedoms.
HORRIBLE IDEOLOGY FOR HUMAN RIGHTS
5 key things about islam
1. mythical beliefs - all religions have these (faith) becauses its part of being a religion: having beliefs without proof until after the believer dies. the problem is people will believe almost anything.
2. totalitarianism - islam has no seperation of church and state: sharia law governs all. there is no free will in islam: only submission of the will to allah as conveniently determined by the imams who spew vapors to feather their own nests. there are no moderate muslims: they all support sharia law.
3. violence - islam leads the pack of all religions in violent tenets for their ideology & history: having eternal canonical imperatives for supremacy at all costs and calling for violence & intimidation as basic tools to achieve these goals.
4. dishonesty - only islam has dishonesty as a fundamental tenet: this stems from allah speaking to mohamhead, abrogation in the koran which explains how mo's peaceful early life was superseded by his warlord role later & surahs about infdels.
5. misogyny - present day islam is still rooted in 8th century social ethics: treating females as property of men good only for children, severely limiting their activities, dressing them in shower curtains and worse.
HORRIBLE IDEOLOGY FOR HUMAN RIGHTS
islam is just another fascist totalitarian ideology used by power hungry fanatics on yet another quest for worldwide domination and includes all the usual human rights abuses & suppression of freedoms. really there are NO redeeming qualities for this muddied pile of propaganda.

APROXIMATELY 85% OF THE WORLD'S REFUGEES ARE MUSLIMS.
BUT THEY DON'T SEEK ASYLUM IN THE 56 MUSLIM COUNTRIES.
THEY ONLY SEEK ASYLUM IN NON-MUSLIM COUNTRIES.

could not possibly have been motivated by the need for an alliance, the Jews being his defeated enemies at the time. Moreover, when Safiya was captured by Muslim soldiers after the defeat of the Jews, it was not evident that she, as part of the booty, would fall to Mohammad since booty was shared according to the customary democratic rules of Arab banditry. One report mentions that Safiya was allotted to a soldier called Dahia but that when the Prophet heard of her "incomparable beauty" he sent for Dahia, paid him Safiya's price, and freed her before marrying her.

His marriage to another Jewish woman, Rayhana Bint Zayd, could not have been motivated by alliance either. Like Safiya, she belonged to a Jewish tribe, was captured after the Jews' defeat, and was known to be "a beautiful woman." But unlike Safiya, her marital status is contested; some reports say that she was kept as a sex slave concubine and never became an official wife of Mohammad.

Another woman Mohammad married for her beauty (although in this case alliance was a motive as well) was Juwariya Bint al-Harith who was, according to Aisha's description, "So beautiful that whoever caught a glimpse of her fell in love with her.... The Prophet was in my room when Juwariya came to ask him about a contract. By God, I hated her when I saw her coming towards him. I knew that he was going to see what I saw." According to Aisha, the main motive of Mohammad's marriage to Juwariya was physical attraction.

But the most significant example of women's irresistible attraction of Mohammad is probably his sudden (and scandalous, by Arab standards) passion for Zainab Bint Jahsh, the wife of his adopted son Zaid. In Mohammad's Arabia, the link created by adoption was considered identical to blood-ties. Moreover, Zainab was Mohammad's own cousin and Mohammad, himself, had arranged her marriage with his adopted son.

One morning Mohammad went to his adopted son's house to ask after him. When he saw Zainab, who was half-naked, he felt an irresistible passion for her. She had hurried to the door to let Mohammad know that her husband was not in. She was surprised when he declined her invitation to come in, and instead ran off, holding his crotch and mumbling prayers. When she reported the incident to her husband, he went to his adopted father to say that he was prepared to divorce Zainab if the Prophet wanted to marry her. The Prophet refused Zaid's proposition until the voices in his head "revealed" his order to Mohammad to marry Zainab.

Again, Aisha noted that it seemed a bit odd that whatever Mohammad wanted, was granted by the voices in his head in the form of a so-called "Revelation." She is quoted in her famous Hadith as saying: "Verily, your lord is ever quick to fulfill your whims and desires." Aisha was not yet eighteen years old when the Arab sex fiend died in his sixties.

There are no less than thirty-two different references in Islam's books wherein Mohammad often laid in bed dressed in women's clothes, specifically his child-bride Aisha's. A Hadith from Sahih Bukhari (2/911) records Mohammad saying, "Revelations never come to me when I'm dressed in women's clothing – except when I'm dressed in Aisha's." This implies that it was something of a habit for Mohammad to dress in female clothing.

In Hadith Faid al-Qabir (3/371), Mohammad is on record saying, "My greatest loves are women and perfume: the hungry is satisfied after eating, but I never have enough of women." Another Hadith: "I can hold back from food and drink – but not from women." Other sources such as Sunan al-Nisa'i, wherein Mohammad in a single night used to "visit" all his women, without washing in between. But this does not necessarily mean that Mohammad had intercourse with them but something else.

That "something else" is found in a number of hadiths affirming that Mohammad freely had sex with menstruating women, including from Sahih Bukhari (v.5, p. 350), which says that if Mohammad desired a menstruating woman, he placed a sheet around her and proceeded with his business. Quotes from al-Siyuti relates that Aisha claimed that Mohammad said to her "Come here," to which she replied, "But I am menstruating, O prophet of God." So, he said "Expose your thighs," she did so and "he proceeded to lay his cheek and chest on her thighs." This is repeated in a Sahih Bukhari Hadith (v.6, p.2744) where Aisha said that, while menstruating, this fake prophet used to lay his head on her thighs and recite the Quran. To use the modern vulgar street language, what these Hadiths are claiming is that Mohammad liked to "eat pussy" or "lick vulvas."

But most any kind of sexual urge was practiced by the Psychopath of Arabia. There are no less that twenty Islamic sources – such as the Hadiths of Ahmad bin Hanbal – claiming that Mohammad used to suck on the tongues of boys and girls. And this is the alleged

THE CROSS-DRESSING PROPHET

Sahih al-Bukhari 2581
"Do not injure me concerning Aisha. The revelation does not come to me when I am wearing the garment of any woman except Aisha."

Sahih Muslim 4415
"Abu Bakr requested permission from the prophet (Muhammad) to enter when the prophet was lying down on Aisha's bed wearing her garment."

Sahih Muslim 4472
The wives of the prophet sent Fatimah, the daughter of the prophet, to him and she requested permission to enter while he was lying down on my bed in Aisha's robe."

Sahih Muslim 2105 (5513)

2105. Narrated Ibn Abbas:

Maimunah told me that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ got up one morning looking subdued and Maimunah said, "O Messenger of Allah, I see a change in your mood today." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "Gabriel promised me that he would meet me last night, but he did not meet me. But, by Allah, he would not break his promise to me." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ spent that day like that, then it occurred to him that there was a puppy beneath a bed of ours. He ordered that it be taken out, then he took some water in his hand and sprinkled it in the place where it had been. When evening came, Gabriel met him, and he said to him, "You promised that you would meet me yesterday."' He said, "Yes, but we do not enter any house in which there is a dog or an image." The next morning, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ ordered that all dogs be killed, and he even ordered that dogs kept for (guarding) small gardens be killed, but he left the dogs kept for (guarding) large gardens.

BREAKING:

More than a hundred million dollars have been stolen from Swedish taxpayers by a network of Islamist Muslim Brotherhood-linked Imams who ran private schools in Sweden and how now fled the country.

An explosive investigation by one of Sweden's largest newspapers Expressen reveals that the group looted OVER ONE BILLION SEK in school vouchers and welfare funds.

One of them, the former Member of Parliament, Abdirizak Waberi, siphoned off SEK 12M via fake IT invoices to fund sex clubs in Thailand, luxury hotels & his own Islamist party in Somalia.

A group of Imams classified by the Swedish Security Service (Säpo) in 2019 as threats to national security (Abo Raad, Abdel Nasser El Nadi, Hussein al-Jibury) ran schools/preschools that funnelled tens of millions to Malta, private individuals & extremist groups.

Most schools have been shut down – sometimes for extremism, sometimes via the "Al Capone route" (economic crimes).

Taxpayer money meant for Swedish children instead funded luxury lifestyles & radical Islamism.

"A double loss for society," says prosecutor Henric Fagher.

Cousin marriage is actually very rare amongst white Westerners. Fewer than 1% of white British couples are cousins. But 37% of Muslims residing in Britain that are in marriages, are maried to a first cousin, resulting in higher birth defect rates.

The motive of the crime was made clear to me by the FBI today. Haim wanted to murder me because of my @piersmorgan debate against Shmuley. Bc I offended the dead Rabbi Menachem Schneerson who many Jews viewed as a messiah. Haim was unequivocal that he was willing to serve time in prison for killing me.

They tried to redefine antisemitism, criminalize criticism of Israel on college campuses, and most crucially, seed the idea that the declaration of Christ as our King amounted to hatred against Jews.
All of this was done in preparation for the "Greater Israel" agenda, regarding which they attempted to emotionally manipulate Americans to accept.
The conspiracy theorists were right again. It was always about a planned war with Iran and a doomed, heretical belief that mass slaughter of women and children is messianic.
If you believe the polish Benjamin Mileikowsky is chosen by God to impart murder, starvation, rape and blackmail, then may God have mercy on your soul.
Netanyahu is of the synagogue of Satan. Every war he demands in congress ends with the mass slaughter of Christians. He is no more "God's chosen" than Henrik Yagoda or Vladimir Lenin was before him.

A Knesset hearing in Israel revealed testimonies from over a dozen women ages 20 to 45 who, as young children, were sexually abused and forced to take part in satanic blood rituals at the hands of members of ultra-Orthodox Jewish communities.

The horrific abuse, spanning decades, included rape, torture, starvation, animal sacrifices of cats and dogs, and forced drinking of menstrual blood.

Survivors described being drugged, mutilated, and forced to take part in blood rituals and mock Biblical ceremonies like the Binding of Isaac, frequently carried out by rabbis and religious elders.

Despite numerous complaints, most cases were ignored or covered up by authorities.

are not travelling in companies, the members of which are closely attached to each other; for in this case they may have it in mind to return to the shrine. If an Israelite is proceeding to an idolatrous shrine, one may do business with him while he is on his way thither, for possibly he may turn back; but it is not permitted when he is returning. It is forbidden to trade with an apostate Israelite while he is on his way to an idolatrous shrine or returning thence.

18. If an Israelite went to an idolaters' fair, it is forbidden to trade with him on his return journey, for fear that he may have sold an idol there, and the price of an idol in an Israelite's possession may not be used. If the price is in an idolater's possession, it may be used. Hence, trading is permitted with an idolater on his return from an idolatrous shrine, but not with an Israelite when he comes from such a shrine, nor with an apostate Israelite either on his journey thither or on his return.

CHAPTER X.

1. No covenant is to be made with idolaters, with the purpose of making peace with them and permitting them to worship idols, as it is said "thou shalt make no covenant with them" (Deut. 7:2); but they must either renounce their idolatry or suffer death. It is forbidden to show them mercy, as it is said, "nor show mercy unto them" (ibid.). Hence, if one sees a heathen who worships idols perishing or drowning, one is not to save him. If he was observed to be dying, he is not to be rescued. It is forbidden however, actively to destroy him, or thrust him into a pit or do any thing similar, since he is not waging war against us. These rules apply to a heathen. But as regards informers and Israelite infidels, it is a duty to take active measures to destroy them and hurl them into the pit of destruction—the reason being that they persecute Israelites and turn the people away from following God.

2. Hence you learn that it is forbidden to heal idolaters even for a fee. But if one is afraid of them or apprehends that refusal might cause ill-will, medical treatment may be given for a fee but not gratuitously. A "denizen proselyte",* whose life we are commanded to preserve, is to be healed without charge.

3. Houses and fields are not sold to them in Palestine. In Syria, houses are sold to them, but not fields. Houses are let to them in Palestine, provided they do not form a settlement; less than three families (living in one location) do not constitute a settlement. Fields are not let to them there; but in Syria they are let to them. And why were they (the Sages) so stringent with a field? Because it would have two consequences: The land would be exempted from the payment of tithes; and it would give idolaters advantages from the soil of Palestine. Outside that land, houses and fields may be sold to them—it not being our country.

4. Even where (the Sages) permitted the letting of a building, they did not permit it to be let for residence, because the tenant would bring an idol into it, and it is said "Thou shalt not bring an abomination into thy house" (Deut. 7:26). But buildings may be let to idolaters to be used for storage. The fruits of an orchard or field etc., may not be sold to them, while pendent on the tree or attached to the soil. But the owner

"Hence, if [a Jew] sees a Gentile idolator in peril or drowning in a river, [the Jew] sees one who is to die, and is not to save him. However, [the Jew] is forbidden from premeditating to destroy [the Gentile], put [the Gentile] in the pit, or anything of the like, if [the Gentile] is not actively attacking [the Jews]. These rules apply to general heathen. But as regards to false teachers and Israelite infidels, it is [the Jew's] duty to exterminate them with one's own hands – because they harm Israel and turn her away from following God. Such [examples] are JESUS OF NAZARETH and his disciples, and Tzadoq and Baitos [the founders of the Sadducees]. May the name of the wicked rot.

It is forbidden to show idolaters mercy, even if they pay."

This is what many Christians will believe. There will be a schism among them and one party will join Israel because it will be sincerely believing that only Jesus can resurrect the dead, and all the signs will show that the Mashiach is Jesus. Muslims will join as well because they will believe he is Jesus as well, and Eliyahu is actually Mahdi. But there will be those who will renege and proclaim him the Antichrist. These will be the allies of Gog, the prince of the enemies of Israel (the Turks, the Africans, the Arabs, and the Europeans) who will raise against Israel and ultimately will be defeated with a miraculous intervention (thermonuclear war).

No. Had Jesus been the Mashiach, he would have never been rejected nor the Jews would have ever suffered the catastrophe. Many imposters came around claiming to be the Mashiach, even in our lifetimes.

it doesn't matter if I believe this or not. This is what the entirety of the US establishment knows. They are terrified of what Mashiach do to them, or even just do nothing and let them rest eternally in oblivion. That's why they will never abandon Israel.

I don't. Zablitover Rabbi said that Chevlei Mashiach are over. I wouldn't be so optimistic.

Many in Israel are like that too. However, why would billionaires who have all they want still sacrifice blood and sweat for Israel? Many of them have these beliefs.

Have you seen the events unfolding since Oct 7? The power of the Jews today is extremely overrated. What is not overrated is the beliefs of the Christians who run the world's largest superpower. They are ... peculiar and unusual for the majority of Christians.

again this is speculation, but i think they want jesus to come so they create as much injustice as possible, like in england. it's a pardoy of a parody at this point.
and i don't really know that they want to change the world to a dystopian nightmare. but if they do, most likely not permanently. it's like with communism, which is very gnostic at its core, where a country needs to progress to the stage of capitalism before it can become communist.
people need to realize that the "new world order" is really just the outcome seen in revelation and in the old testament end times prophecy. this is supposed to be an idyllic time, just like a communist society is supposed to be after the state withers away and the dictatorship of the proletariat is no longer needed. it's also a return to the golden age of cronus/saturn, which was an egalitarian, agrarian paradise ruled over by saturn and pan. pan was the day to day guy, while saturn hangs back.
https://youtu.be/UfKyKM8RXrE [Embed] this guy is a massive dildo, but he explains it all very well. lucifer is another name for jesus in the occult, generally. it does not mean devil worshipper. in fact in this system, God is the devil! this actually comes from mainline gospels, where jesus says to the priests that they are sons of the devil. jesus also says "the God of this world approaches" in john, which is a blatant reference to the demiurge, who is only the God of this world, not the entirety of creation.
and satanism is based on the work of ayn rand, which is itself based on masonry. lavey even says this in his introduction to the satanic bible. someone funnier than me said it was libertarianism for goths. that's what most luciferians are too politically. libertarians are gnostics that cross out God and write in "government". you will notice a lot of libertarian/freemason/baptist overlap going on in the public sphere.

if you want a really deep dive, albeit with a bit of a learning curve, watch this video. it goes into the jfk assassination and all of the occultism that surrounded it. you will learn a ton, i guarantee.
i am not an occultist, nor am i an expert on it or anything else. i just started doing this a few years ago as a hobby because i thought predictive programming was a stupid concept. i have no insider knowledge or anything, just my own conclusions which i have drawn from the evidence i have seen. again, most movies and books plagiarize the gnostic gospels and the bible as a matter of course. you can do this game yourself with all the movies you have seen and the books you have read. assume that they are based on gnosticism, then see how they fit into old myths, the bible, and pagan religions.
also remember that jews and christians have different forms of kabbalah. these are twisted and bastardized forms. just like jesus/new testament is a pagan overlay/interpretation on a jewish book in fact this kind of occult qaballah has God as the devil and the jews as his slavish followers (the hylics). this is the kabbalah of luther, who had God's law and the jews as the most evil thing in his religion. so most occultism is not very favourable towards religious jews. just look at star trek ds9 with the ferengi. the hundreds of rules of acquisition are the 613 laws of the torah jews want to get closer to God with this, and occultists want to escape the prison planet of the demiurge. and yes alex is a mason, a proud one.

i have no evidence that it really works, and i'm not even trying to advance that as a theory. i think that THEY think it works. it forms the basis of modern psychology, which actually has an abysmal track record. you are told that you are depressed/anxious/what have you because of your bad thoughts manifesting bad outcomes. they say it's all your own fault without coming right out and saying it, but it is heavily implied. so this is cognitive behavioural therapy. in a metastudy, it was shown to have the worst outcomes of all treatment modalities for mental illness. the best outcomes were from "talking to a trusted friend" and "talking to clergyman". so the more training in mental health the practitioner has, the less desirable the outcome but they are definitely using ritual magick and taking scenes, if not whole plots, straight from the gnostic gospels.
>serving evil
no, they are beyond good and evil. the whole point of the occult, and therefore masonry, is self improvement to the point that one becomes a god themselves. the mormon faith which was founded by a mason teaches you will become a god when you die too. they are trying to usher in the end times, they do not believe they are evil. this is another reason the predictive programming gets me, is that you would have to believe that they are showing themselves as evil all the time. not only that, but defeated in the end!
on the side of the un building it has verses from isaiah which speak of an end to war. they want to speedrun to the eschaton, as it were. note that the end times also involve not just world peace but even animals will not kill, and humans will go back to being vegetarian like they were before the flood (permission to eat meat was only given to noah and his descendants after the flood). a war in ukraine (gog and magog) is also part of the end times prophecy, which is why the biden admin was pushing so hard for it.

My source for Saturn representing "Physical World": Friedrich Schiller"s "Aesthetic Essays". He basically expounds on the binary idea of "Form vs Matter", where Form is represented by Jupiter, and Matter is represented by Saturn. Emotions, desires, lust, "the World", greed, survival of the fittest (he doesn't use that exact phrase but it's what he means), savagery, ugliness, these are all Saturnic. Free-will, beauty, duty, love, equality, Ideas (more so in the abstract meaning of the word), are all Jupiter. Now Schiller is hardly occult, but anyone who has studied the occult knows there's some overlap between occult and philosophy.

In terms of actual occult sources: the Masonic Pillars/Kaballah Tree is a perfect representation of this same idea talked about by Schiller. Even the taoist yin-yang is talking about the same thing. One Pillar, Boaz, represents "passive material matter/nature" (on the pillar you will usually see a triangle pointing downwards), on the other Pillar Jachin, you'll see the upward pointing triangle which symbolizes the "active" principle of Idea/Thought.
Physical Matter is viewed as "passive" (yin) because, as Schiller talks about extensively in his writings, humans are "bound" to Matter via our instincts. We receive emotions and respond to the physical surroundings in a reactionary method, there is no free-will involved here, it's just responding to physical stimuli and trying to survive. Everything in physical Nature is chained to physical Nature.
The active principle of Thought/Form breaks away from this, we now seek modes of existence that are the opposite of Nature and desire, and instead seek after higher abstract concepts (Justice, Love, Equality, etc.). Even though these Ideas don't physically exist in the Natural World, and even though when they're implemented in the world they aren't implemented perfectly 100% accuracy, we still can Think them with 100% accuracy.

ai is basically a metaphor for God in all the movies, like skynet. God has an all seeing eye, and is considered like a mechanical being. in movies it seems to me that mechanical things are the spiritual/heavenly, which is why the bad guy has robot armies, or clone armies in star wars, or artificial beings like orcs in lord of the rings. the hero is sometimes half mechanical, as is the antichrist figure. again in star wars, vader and luke are both a mix of heaven and earth, like jesus was supposed to be both man and God, unifying the 2.
it could be about creating God in their own image, a sort of tamed demiurge who is now benevolent. there are such strains of gnosticism where God is a force for good, but he is still not the top god.
it could also be about intentionally trying to destroy the world too. i don't really know and can only draw inferences for now.
the borg is a good example. again, a cube like God's sanctuary, and a union of flesh and machine.
they also seem to promote all the things that God hates, like the cainite gnostics. i have to link to a britannia article because wikipedia changed their article, which was almost word for word the same, to be worded to directly contradict my thesis. you can look at prior versions to check this out. but since i linked it so much it got reworded lol they liked the gospel of judas, where judas was the good guy, who had the highest spirituality because he knew jesus had to die. this is the basis of the green mile, with jc the healer getting killed by tom hanks aka judas.

baal and zeus both ate flies, this is why baal is lord of the flies, he sucked them up. both of them are models for jesus. baal went into hell and defeated death before it was cool.

Babylon: The Cradle of the Talmud

The cities of Sura and Pumbedisa (also spelled Pumbeditha) are reputed to be the places where the Tanna'im and the Amora'im concocted Judaism's authoritative Talmud. In Sura was allegedly established, circa the third century A.D., the foundational "Yeshiva Gedola" which functioned for hundreds of years but fell on hard times after the Christian conquest of Mesopotamia. Only with the subsequent Muslim conquest were the many decrees and limitations that had been placed on Babylon's rabbis lifted. Other important Talmud centers in Babylon cited in the legends of the Gemara include Neharde'ia and Mechoza. Shortly after the U.S. invasion of Iraq, sixteen commandos from the U.S. Army's elite "MET Alpha" unit, under the command of Col. Richard R. McPhee, were dispatched on a mission to search Baghdad in order to locate rabbinic antiquities, including "one of the most ancient copies of the Talmud in existence, dating from the seventh century."*

New York Times*, May 7, 2003

The so-called "retaining wall for the 2nd Temple" was actually part of the Roman fortress Antonia.

Modern Rabbinical Judaism calls it part of the Temple to deny Christ's prophecies made in Matthew 24:1-2, Mark 13:1-2, Luke 21:5-6.

When Christians participate in the ritualistic mourning of the 2nd Temple, they are also making a mockery of the Gospels and ritualistically denying that Christ's prophecies about the Temple were fulfilled.

It was common practice for stone buildings to be completely dismantled and the building materials recycled at this time.

Which is what the Romans did to the Temple in fulfillment of Christ's prophecies about it.

Jehovah, full of inexpressible sorrow, walked back and forth in the temple: he walked from the cherubim to the entrance of the temple, from the entrance of the temple to the cherubim, from the cherubim to the eastern gates, from the eastern gates to the porch, from the porch to the altar, from the altar to the wall, to the city, from the city to the Mount of Olives, and so on. Then he returned to the temple again, embraced and kissed its walls and pillars, and said with tears: "O peace of My holy house! O peace of My kingdom, O peace!"... And he knelt in sorrow on His half-ruined throne. A swarm of spirits surrounded Him, who with their bright faces thought to comfort the sorrow of the Almighty; but He sent them away, not accepting comfort, in fulfillment of the words of Isaiah: "Depart from Me. I want to weep bitterly; do not try to comfort Me concerning the lost daughter of My people"[4]. Meanwhile, fire already enveloped the temple, and the sanctuary filled with smoke, while Jehovah continued to sit and weep. Then Asaph decided to approach Him and said: "O Master of the world, may Your name be blessed! Your house is burning with fire, and You are sitting. Arise and leave Your house, as it is said in the psalm[5]: "Move Your steps among the eternal ruins, because the enemy has destroyed everything in the sanctuary."

[1]Gen. 23:17.

[2]This is how the ancient Jews expressed the highest degree of sorrow. Jer. 2:37. 1 Sam. 13:9.

[3]Isa. 22:12.

[4]Isaiah 22:4.

[5]Ps. 74:3.

At this time, all the prophets gathered in Jerusalem to comfort Jehovah with predictions of better times in the future; but all was in vain. Sorrow did not cease in the subsequent time, and since then it has not ceased to poison the Divine life of Jehovah. He chose as a place for pouring out His sorrow for some time the Sinai desert, where more than once great rabbis heard His voice, sometimes soul-rending, like the roaring of a lion, sometimes mournful, like the cooing of a dove. "I swear by your life," says Elias to Rabbi Jose, "by the life of my head"[1], that the voice in the desert three times daily says: "Woe is Me, why did I destroy My house!" And when the Israelites go to the synagogue and say: "Amen, may His kingdom be blessed," Jehovah sadly shakes His head and says: "Happy is the king who lives in his house; but what kind of father is he who led his children into captivity? Poor are those children who are removed from their father's hearth." An Arab dared to approach Mount Sinai closely, but white scorpions-guards surrounded the mountain; he limited himself to only listening from afar to the same eternal cry: "Woe is Me, why should I have cursed them."

1.6 Sorrow And Irritation Of Jehovah

Amidst such constant sorrow, Jehovah forgot His usual occupations and became extremely irritable. Before the destruction of the temple, He had the habit of playing with Leviathan for a third of the day, but from the time of the destruction of the Jerusalem Temple, He forever abandoned this amusement. His divine glory became unpleasant to Him now, so much so that since the destruction of the Temple He has not once ascended His throne. "From that time," says Jehovah to Moses, "when Nebuchadnezzar destroyed My house, I swear by your life and the life of My glory, I have not once ascended My throne. If you do not believe, then look: My head is covered with dew, as it is said: 'on My head is dew. On My long hair are drops of night[2],' because I live under the open sky, among deserts, and, I swear, I will not enter the heavenly Jerusalem until the Israelites enter the earthly Jerusalem." This sorrow made Jehovah so irritable that not a day passes in which He would not be irritated with anger. When Jehovah opens His eyes and sees that the wicked prosper on earth, and His children suffer, wrath rises in Him, and He roars so that the earth and heaven tremble, as the prophet Joel says: "The Lord roars from Zion, and utters His voice from Jerusalem, and the heavens and the earth tremble." That is why earthquakes, according to the teaching of the Talmud, became known from the time of the destruction of Jerusalem: before this event, the earth did

According to the Talmud, the Midrash, and the Kabbalistic work, the Zohar, the Messiah must arrive before the year 6000 from the time of creation. In Orthodox Jewish belief, the Hebrew calendar dates to the time of creation, making this correspond to the year 2240 on the Gregorian calendar

What happens if that year, 2240, should come to pass and no messiah has arrived? It completely destroys the jewish hegemony, and trickles down onto its slave religions christcuckianity and islam. Judaism is exposed as a fraud, god never spoke to any jews, their predictions were wrong. The entire world would suddenly be rethinking even the most basic established morals and values like thou shalt not kill or steal. Leaders supposedly chosen by god are exposed as the frauds that they are

Jews christcucks and muslims know this, which is why there is open collaboration between them. The clock is running out. For the past two millenia jews have been adhering to 'the plan' and have been manually self fulfilling their own prophecies. For example, the holohoax. 6 million - 4 million = 6 million. why? because of a typo in the old testament, which couldnt possibly be a typo because its the word of god (its not). The specific verse is missing a letter when it speaks of the jews returning to israel, rabbinical scholars took this to mean 'minus six million', which is why they so comically cling to that specific number. if it were any other number, their entire charade would collapse like a house of cards. and that is why they do what do they, they continue to manually self fulfill their own prophecies as a way to legitimize themselves as ma chosen ones. their messianic age cannot occur until all property on earth belongs to jews, which will allow for their self appointed messiah king to be selected to rule over a single global slave state, and will then rebuild the third temple

The WEF agendas i.e 2030 are milestones/checkpoints for 2240

To instill in Jews a deep understanding of Christians as pagans, the Talmud says: "A Goy who studies the Law (i.e., Holy Scripture) deserves the death penalty."[2] And then suddenly it says in the same place: "A Goy who reads Holy Scripture is equal to the High Priest." The Talmud explains to us[3] that in this case, Holy Scripture should be understood as the 7 Noahide Laws. Contradictions in the Talmud lead to the conclusion that a Talmudist can commit anymatter, as he pleased. The Bible clearly states that when Abraham sent Eliezer to seek a wife for Isaac, he decidedly did not know Rebekah and did not have her in mind, and it says that she carried water and spoke and reasoned with Eliezer as a grown maiden. From the description of the sacred history, it is clear that she was not betrothed in childhood. In the Talmud, on the contrary, Rashi says that Isaac married when Rebekah was three years and one day old. Contradictions of this kind are found among Talmudic teachers on almost every page.

Subsequently, obvious absurdities, of which there are so many in the Talmud, forced the most well-intentioned rabbis to resort to an allegorical explanation of the fables and fabrications contained therein. Maimonides, a representative of Jewish scholarship, extols the art of rabbis to conceal the truth under the guise of a fable, the literal meaning of which represents the height of absurdity.

In the 19th century, specifically from the 1820s, a strong religious movement began in the Jewish world of Western Europe. Gans, one of Hegel's most gifted disciples, a former professor of law at the University of Berlin, having begun the scientific development of monuments of Jewish religion, conceived a radical transformation of Judaism, and, naturally, had to address the foundations and sources of Jewish beliefs from the very beginning. The Talmud was the first to undergo his reformist knife. To destroy the binding force of Talmudic traditions, its countless, useless, and petty rules, which enveloped and bound the Jew from head to toe in all walks of lifeto

Metatron, said to me: 'Listen, I will tell you the measure of the Holy One of Israel, hidden from all creatures, from the sole of His foot to His shin, one thousand times ten thousand and five hundred miles; from His shin to His knees, ninety times ten thousand, one thousand miles and four miles. From His knees to the torso of Adinoy, twelve times ten thousand and one thousand four miles; from His torso to His neck, twenty-four thousand times ten thousand miles. The height of His neck is three hundred thousand times ten thousand eight miles. The pupils of His eyes are eleven thousand five hundred miles each in diameter. His right hand is twenty-two times ten thousand and two miles long; His left hand is of the same length. From His right shoulder to His left, six hundred thousand times ten thousand miles. The fingers on His hands, all together, twelve thousand times ten thousand miles. His beard is eleven thousand five hundred miles long; the crown on His head is sixty times ten thousand miles.' 'Who knows this measure of our Creator,' says Ishmael to his disciples, 'he will be a son of the future world.' Rabbi Akiva adds to this that the angels serving Jehovah perform their service in reverent distance from Him of thirty-six thousand times ten thousand miles."[1]

The Eight Genders in the Talmud

Judaism has recognized nonbinary persons for millennia.

BY RACHEL SCHEINERMAN

Thought nonbinary gender was a modern concept? Think again. The ancient Jewish understanding of gender was far more nuanced than many assume.

The Talmud, a huge and authoritative compendium of Jewish legal traditions, contains in fact no less than eight gender designations including:

1. Zachar, male.
2. Nekevah, female.
3. Androgynos, having both male and female characteristics.
4. Tumtum, lacking sexual characteristics.
5. Aylonit hamah, identified female at birth but later naturally developing male characteristics.
6. Aylonit adam, identified female at birth but later developing male characteristics through human intervention.
7. Saris hamah, identified male at birth but later naturally developing female characteristics.
8. Saris adam, identified male at birth and later developing female characteristics through human intervention.

In fact, not only did the rabbis recognize six genders that were neither male nor female, they had a tradition that the first human being was both. Versions of this midrash are found throughout rabbinic literature, including in the Talmud:

> Rabbi Yirmeya ben Elazar also said: Adam was first created with two faces (one male and the other female). As it is stated: "You have formed me behind and before, and laid Your hand upon me." (Psalms 139:5)

Jacob Frank:

In this world everything that is of the spirit has to be turned into flesh.

Your way is not my way. For you fasted for your gods and lay upon the earth in mourning; for mourning is proper for them as it stands: "Rachel wept for her children." But I am not so. When my help comes to me, I will furnish my court and conduct it in gala dress. I will give all sorts of parties with food and drink. I will have my own musicians, theater with its actors, and all will dance and rejoice in common, young and old alike, and that which stands will be fulfilled.

How could the true God have created this world, where you have to die, separate, and where so many things are deficient? This would go against his dignity. It follows that, undoubtedly, the one who created this world was not the true God who is going to fix everything to bring about complete wholeness.

- No prohibition to murder them
- No saving their lives on Shabbat

(Pikuach nefesh is a fundamental principle in Halakha (Jewish law) that prioritizes the preservation of human life above virtually all other religious commandments. The term, meaning "saving a soul" or "saving a life," signifies that when a person's life is in danger, most mitzvot (commandments) become inapplicable if they would hinder the ability to save that life.)

The Jew's Double Standard

By Yanki Tauber

A time to kill, a time to heal
A time for war, a time for peace
Ecclesiastes 3:3,8

Double standards are supposedly unethical. Yet Judaism — the ethos contained in the Bible and expounded by the sages of Israel — abounds with double standards. In fact, these double standards are at the heart of how we live and what we have taught the world — and at the heart of what makes an ethical person.

Rabbi Yehoshua Dovid Turchin, one of the chief rabbis of ultra-Orthodox anti-Zionist Judaism in Jerusalem at an information rally held in Jerusalem following the war, Says, look what happens to those who cross the mouth of Gd, look what happened to the Zionists who crossed the mouth of Gd, in one day they can fall, From the Zionists we only suffer, from the wicked we only suffer, and of them (the wicked Zionists) nothing will remain.

Rabbi Chaim Brisker, one of the greatest rabbis a century ago, once said: "There have been many heretical groups in Jewish history, but Zionism is the worst.

We believe that one day Gd will save the Jews and Judaism from this non-religious political ideology called Zionism.

The only thing Zionism does is to distort Judaism and use it for its own interests.

Saint Paisios once fasted and prayed for Satan's salvation for two weeks. During that time, the demon appeared to him as a dog's head, sticking its tongue out and mocking him.

The saint ceased his prayers because he realized the demons do not desire salvation.

Satan and the demons are not your "fellow and brother;" the demons are pure hatred which desires for nothing but your destruction.

Sympathy for the devil is a fool's errand and is only wielded by atheists who hate the Eternal Good themselves, like the proto-Redditor Twain, as a cudgel against anyone who holds true to faith.

Who in eighteen centuries, has had the common humanity to pray for the one sinner that needed it most, our one fellow and brother who most needed a friend yet had not a single one, the one sinner among us all who had the highest and clearest right to every Christian’s daily and nightly prayers, for the plain and unassailable reason that his was the first and greatest need, he being among sinners the supremest?”

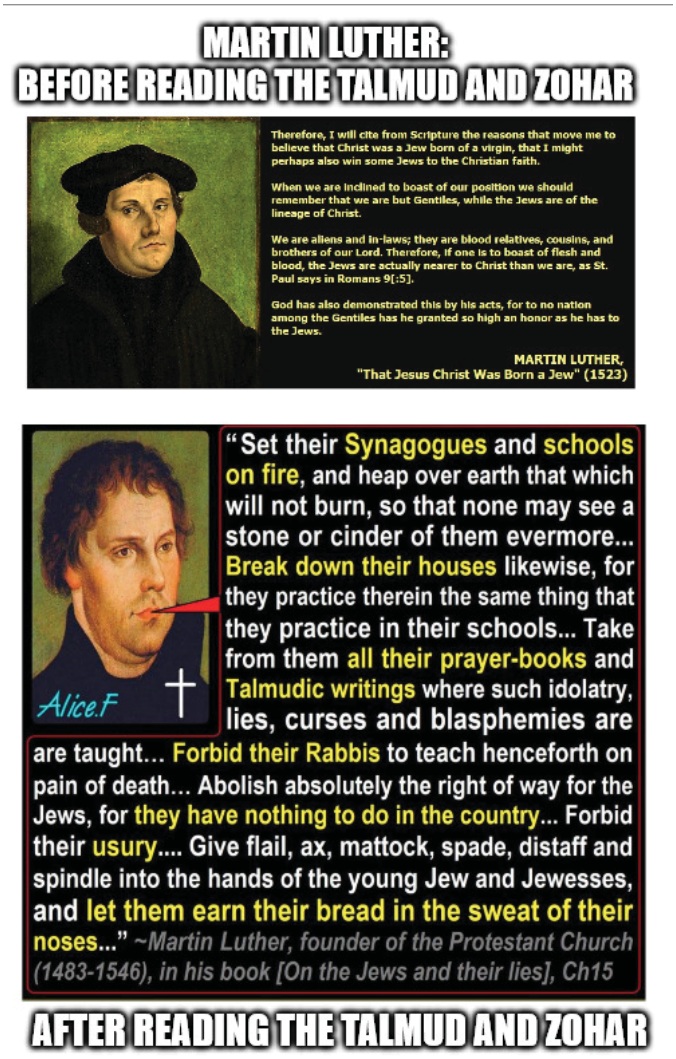
The CHABAD deadline for the resumption of the CHRISTIAN HOLOCAUST appears to be mid to late 2027. This is clear from the following three facts:

Firstly, in Jul 2024, CHABAD "holy" rabbi Isser Weisberg stated that the latest deadline for installing the Final Antichrist is 2 Oct 2027, here: https://old.bitchute.com/video/1argNC

But secondly, in 1994, CHABAD "holy" rabbi Menachem Mendel Schneerson stated that MOST Christians must be genocided BEFORE the Final Antichrist arrives. Hence, the CHABAD seems to be hinting that MOST Christians must be genocided by 2 Oct 2027 at the latest.

Thirdly, the CHABAD appears to have intended its Hamas False-Flag Attack of 7 Oct 2023 as the start of WW3 because this occurred close to the 2023 Feast of Tabernacles "Sukkot", and a prophecy called TUR



MARTIN LUTHER:
BEFORE READING THE TALMUD AND ZOHAR
Therefore, I will cite from Scripture the reasons that move me to believe that Christ was a Jew born of a virgin, that I might perhaps also win some Jews to the Christian faith.
When we are inclined to boast of our position we should remember that we are but Gentiles, while the Jews are of the lineage of Christ.
We are aliens and in-laws; they are blood relatives, cousins, and brothers of our Lord. Therefore, if one is to boast of flesh and blood, the Jews are actually nearer to Christ than we are, as St. Paul says in Romans 9[:5].
God has also demonstrated this by his acts, for to no nation among the Gentiles has he granted so high an honor as he has to the Jews.

Break down their houses likewise, for they practice therein the same thing that they practice in their schools... Take from them all their prayer-books and Talmudic writings where such idolatry, lies, curses and blasphemies are are taught... Forbid their Rabbis to teach henceforth on pain of death... Abolish absolutely the right of way for the Jews, for they have nothing to do in the country... Forbid their usury.... Give flail, ax, mattock, spade, distaff and spindle into the hands of the young Jew and Jewesses, and let them earn their bread in the sweat of their noses..." ~Martin Luther, founder of the Protestant Church (1483-1546), in his book [On the Jews and their lies], Ch15

Statement from the Church of Norway:

"Christian Zionism is theologically unacceptable and incompatible with human rights"

CHURCH OF NORWAY
Bishops Conference

Christian Zionism

Statement by the Bishops' Conference, Church of Norway
16. October 2020

The situation in Israel and Palestine is deeply worrying. A just and sustainable peace solution that respects international law and safeguards the security and rights of both peoples, seems more unrealistic than for a long time. Church leaders in Jerusalem have called upon the churches of the world and the international community, to put pressure on both parts to negotiate a just peace solution and end the illegal occupation and discrimination of citizens.

"Zionism" is a broad term. There are some groups who are described as "Christian Zionists" because they support the state of Israel's expansionist policy based on peculiar interpretations of the Bible. Although they belong to Christian churches, they do not listen to appeals from the local churches in the Middle East. They have a special interpretation of history, with apocalyptic last days expectations, where they risk reducing the Jews to an instrument for attaining salvation according to their own theological scheme.

They practice a political theology that ignores international law and human rights. Directly or indirectly, they oppose attempts to create a just peace. These groups are particularly large in the United States, but are also found in Norway.

There is disagreement about how the land promises in the Bible should be interpreted. But we find it unacceptable to interpret the Bible without regard to the ethical consequences. It is problematic to read ancient prophecies so that all political events today are predetermined by God. In this way people are deprived of responsibility for the course of history at the same time as God is diminished. Not least, Christian Zionism complicates the situation for the churches in Palestine and Israel. This calls for solidarity from the Church of Norway.

The Bishops' Conference finds it unacceptable to use the Bible to legitimize oppression or human rights violations, or to differentiate human dignity according to group belonging. The promises of the Old Testament concerning the Jewish people and the land, cannot be used to legitimize the expulsion of Palestinians from their homes or their rights. They also have historic roots in the country and belong there. The Bishops' Conference in the Church of Norway therefore finds Christian Zionism theologically unacceptable and incompatible with human rights

The Church has much to answer for when it comes to its history of anti-Judaism. In confrontation with ecclesiastical and European anti-Semitism, the church has wanted to develop a solidarity relationship with the Jewish people. This is not in opposition to committing to the rights of the Palestinians.

I had always heard about the thing in the Talmud where the rabbis said Jesus was boiling in excrement but today I learned there was a trial over this and the defense the jews used was "Oh we were talking about a different Jesus!", which is so jewy you can only admire it

Trial

The terms of the disputation demanded that the four rabbis defend the Talmud against Donin's accusations that it contained blasphemies against the Christian religion, attacks on Christians themselves, blasphemies against God, and obscene folklore. The attacks on Christianity were from passages referring to Jesus and Mary. There is a passage, for example, of someone named Yeshu who was sent to hell to be boiled in excrement for eternity. The Jews denied that this is the Jesus of the New Testament, stating "not every Louis born in France is king."[11] when did christian leaders start flying private jets

AI Mode | All | Images | News | Videos | Short videos | Shopping | More | Tools

AI Overview

Christian leaders have been using private jets at different times, but some significant instances point to the late 20th century. For example, some early missionary organizations started using aviation in the late 1940s. However, the use of private jets by prominent figures in American evangelicalism, like Jerry Falwell, is documented from the 1970s.

- Early missionary aviation: The Mission Aviation Fellowship (MAF) began in the years after World War II, with pilots using aviation to spread the Christian faith, though this would have been with smaller, propeller-driven planes for missionary work.
- Evangelist use: By the late 1970s, prominent evangelists were receiving private jets as gifts. For instance, Jerry Falwell received a private jet from Israel in 1979.
- Later use: More recent instances include figures like Kenneth Copeland, who purchased a private jet in 2015, citing the need for his ministry. Figures like Joyce Meyer have also been noted for using private jets.
- Latter-day Saints: Leaders within the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints have access to private jets, though it is not clear if this began in the 1990s or later, according to a 1996 article.

Christians have been propagandized to believe piety is achieved through race mixing, and adopting black children. You're pretending the reaction isn't about this heresy. 1/
Race Mixing
America's love affair with racial divisiveness will not change until human hearts change — beginning with Christians' hearts. Critical to genuine reconciliation is an admission of historical abuses and inequality and a commitment to personal engagement among the races. Blending races, intentionally or unintentionally, through transracial adoption or interracial marriage, while it is certainly theologically acceptable, will not really matter until hearts are changed. It is much more. "Becoming friends" will not remove years of injustice and anger. Reconciliation is more than a relationship problem; it is a matter of justice. Former Christian and Missionary Alliance president David Rambo said that blacks "are properly skeptical that evangelical commitment will not get us beyond affectionate embraces and politically correct jargon." It is necessary for Americans to set out to live lives of justice. This is one way systemic racism can be overcome.
In spite of past mistakes, however, many Christians feel that Christianity is the key to racial reconciliation. They, in fact, claim that there is a natural marriage between Christianity and African American heritage.
Nonetheless, for the last 30 years, there was little evidence that some segments of evangelicalism participated in discerning racial relations social analysis. An editorial appeared in Christianity Today magazine during the urban riots of the late '60s that blamed blacks for their own problems. In its April 26, 1968, issue, the magazine blamed the black community for King's assassination! This viewpoint did not endear white evangelicalism to the African American community.
Thankfully, that situation is changing rapidly. In fact, the white evangelical community — through Promise Keepers and other conservative groups — has taken the leadership in racial reconciliation. More than 1,000 Minnesota churches representing 60 denominations and Thank you. I saw these in threads before so I was already aware of these.

I know that Mark Calaway (the Undertaker) and Glenn Jacobs (Kane) are confirmed Freemasons. Glenn Jacobs is also the Mayor of Knoxville and will most likely become the Governor of Tennessee within a few years. Paul Levesque (Triple H) was a DeMolay, so he's also a member. It is likely that Vince McMahon was one as well, and a lot of his stuff is heavily Luciferian. As an example, at Wrestlemania 30 the Undertaker lost his Wrestlemania win streak of 21 straight years to Brock Lesnar. The Undertaker, representing Death, losing to Brock Lesnar, literally nicknamed "The Beast" so obv he represents Satan.

When Dave Bautista finally hit his peak in Hollywood he got an Eye of Providence tattoo in the center of his chest. He's also friends with famous boxer Manny Pacquiao, another public Freemason. He also protested when James Gunn was fired by Disney when his old tweets became a controversy, where he talks about raping people, raping children, and even posted CP.

There is also the chance that Eddie Guerrero was sacrificed by his family/friends, but I think that one was probably a real heart attack.

However one that is almost certainly a sacrificial murder was Chris Benoit and his family. In short, Chris's wife, Nancy, her ex-husband (who Chris stole her from) is Kevin Sullivan, who played (and most likely is) a Satanist. That triple murder is a whole conspiracy unto itself, but very obvious that the real story is complete bullshit.

For those of you who don't know, professional wrestling is a gaggle of drug and sex addicts who go from town to town and professional wrestling has been involved in some pretty bad stuff legally. They even had a relatively recent controversy over the "ring boy scandal" where young men new in the business were getting sexually abused by old schooler higher ups.

Yeah the whole karmic balance thing is insane. They're insane. They're just a bunch of selfish people who mindraped themselves with Jewish Schizobabble.

My dad, also a Mason but a lapsed one who quit going because he said the other guys were "too cliquey" and looked down on him for not being a business owner, is also a psycho with an interesting view of morality and karma. He doesn't believe in luck or destiny, is very big into free will, but believes in karma. His specific rendition of karma is that if you do evil and act evil, evil will protect you. If you act good and do good, good will protect you. If you're in-between the two, you do equal amounts of good and evil, then all the excess karma from your life manifests and fucks you up.

I've literally never heard a single other person ever say something like that. Conveniently this means that anyone who appears to be good and has something bad happen to them means that "they deserved it for doing evil behind everyone's back" and that bad people shouldn't be messed with because "the evil protects them". Despite being a bad person and admitting that the only thing keeping him from going back to being genuinely evil is that he "wouldnt be able to get away with it anymore", my father claims that he paid for all his bad karma when he switched from evil to good. He says that when was a bad, bad guy that nothing bad ever happened in his life and that he was falling ass-backwards into money, drugs, and pussy constantly, but when he cleaned up that he "spent 10 years paying back every bad dime I ever got".

It's really interesting tbqh, the systems that these people craft to justify their worldview and actions.

You know I think it's pretty funny that my grandfather was a 33rd Degree Master Mason and ran the local lodge for like 15 years, though I don't know the size of the lodge at that time so I can't say whether he was Worshipful Master or Grand Master. He was this respected and greatly feared member of the community while also being a complete psychopath.

He nearly beat his children and wife to death on a whim, had sex with every female in the town that he could get his hands on (including my aunt's friends in high school), used his connections with other Freemasons to get out stuff (he assaulted and nearly killed so many people, including cops), and even did the same for others (getting them out of jail and getting certain papers pushed through offices), etc. Dude was a total unrepentant psychopath who used and abused his power his whole life because he was born into nothing with no power. He was also a massive porn addict by the time he died (completely expected considering he couldn't fuck anymore) and his computer was just full of gigabytes and gigabytes of gay interracial hardcore stuff.

He would tell me about Masonry every once in awhile when I was younger, totally unprompted. He'd just repeat himself over and over about how much money they give to children's charities. Over and over, it was like the only thing he would say they did. Orphans, cancer, burn victims, etc. Over and over and over again. By the time I knew him he had substantially mellowed out and I was closer to him than I was to my own father, who was almost as bad as my grandfather was back in the day. Getting redpilled on masons and my grandpa's previous behavior really opened up my perspective for a lot of things. It "clicked" all at once.

"Yes, Joseph Smith, the founder of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints was a Freemason.

Joseph Smith's brother Hiram was also a Mason and a member of a Lodge in Palmyra, New York. Their father, Joseph Smith Sr., was also known to be a Master Mason and Canandaigua, New York as early as 1818."

"Joseph joined the Masonic Lodge in Nauvoo, Illinois on March 15, 1842, rising to the level of Master Mason just a day later under the recognized authority of the Grandmaster of Illinois."

"Eventually, over 1500 members of the Church were listed as Freemasons—in Nauvoo alone—more than all the rest of Illinois."

Not any more, because I believe that people should have free will and do what they want to do."

THE REVOLUTIONARY PART OF FREEMASONRY IN THE WORLD

Freemasonry and the Revolution of 1789

None of the great classical histories of the Revolution mentions the part played in it by freemasonry. It is indeed incomprehensible : Here is the greatest event of history for 1800 years, an event which has changed the face of the world ; a hidden power plays in it an immense part and this power remains unknown for more than a century ! A few persons have known the truth and either from fear or from interest have kept silent. Others, still fewer in number, have spoken and have been treated as visionaries. Many sincere people have felt that the revolutionary manifestations of 1789 were not entirely spontaneous. They had a presentiment of a secret impulsion without being able to discover its source.

But to-day freemasonry openly acknowledges the French revolution as its work.

In the chamber of Deputies during the sitting of 1 July 1904 the Marquis de Rosanbo pronounced the following words :

Freemasonry has worked in a hidden but constant manner to prepare the revolution.

Mr Jumel. — That is indeed what we boast of.

Mr Alexandre Zévaès. — That is the greatest praise you can give it.

Mr Henri Michel. — That is the reason why you and your friends hate it.

Mr de Rosanbo. — We are then in complete agreement on the point that freemasonry was the only author of the revolution, and the applause which I receive from the Left, and to which I am little accustomed proves, gentlemen, that you acknowledge with me that it was masonry which made the French revolution.

Mr Jumel. — We do more than acknowledge it, we proclaim it [1].

It was from 1772 to 1789 that masonry elaborated the great revolution which was to change the face of the world. It was then that the masons gave to the people the ideas which they had adopted in their lodges [2].

Masonry which prepared the revolution of 1789 is in duty bound to continue its work ; the present state of opinion invites it to do so [3].

From 1789 freemasonry wished to found a new civilization radically opposed to the old order. It was necessary to overthrow that which constituted the strength of the latter : The monarchy and catholicism

1. Passage quoted in the Conjuration anti-chrétienne by Mgr Henri Delassus.
2. Report read at an assembly of the lodges Paix et union and la libre conscience. Orient of Nantes, 23 April 1883.
3. Circular sent to all lodges by the grand council of the masonic order to prepare the centenary of 1789. These last two quotations are given in La conjuration anti-chrétienne by Mgr H. Delassus. Vol. I, p. 146.

These two bases destroyed, social order is without defence, and the former discipline and hierarchy can be abolished at leisure. As they cannot enter into open warfare against the church, the masons attack its natural supports, monarchy and aristocracy. The inner meaning of this warfare is not only political, but essentially social and religious, for western civilization is founded upon christian ideas and discipline.

The abolition of monarchy by Divine Right was the condition sine qua non of the entire scheme. It was impossible to attempt anything against society under this form of government. The Revolution, which, we are told, was made for the people, was in reality made against the people. The monarchy and aristocracy were not destroyed because they were oppressing France but because, on the contrary, they protected it too well.

Such a plan may seem too improbable.

And yet it has been exposed in detail and in writing by the hand of Weishaupt, head of the masonic sect of the « Illuminati », long before 1789. These irrefutable documents which were seized in the very headquarters of « Illuminism » by the Bavarian government could be seen in the Munich archives [1].

The practical application of that plan which was made between 1789 and 1793 is moreover a guarantee of its authenticity.

Gnosticism is a religious and philosophical movement that teaches salvation comes through special knowledge (\(gnosis\)).
It believes the material world was created by a lesser, flawed god (the Demiurge) and is a prison. Gnostics aim to free the "divine spark" trapped inside them by gaining this hidden knowledge and re-connecting with the true, good, supreme God.

Core beliefs: -
A flawed creator: Gnostics believe the material world was mistakenly created by a lesser deity (the Demiurge) who is not the true, supreme God.

A spiritual prison: The physical, material world is seen as a source of suffering and is essentially a prison.

The divine spark: Humans possess a tiny fragment of the divine "spark" from the true God, which is trapped inside their material body.

Salvation through knowledge: The way to escape the material world and reunite the divine spark with the true God is not through faith or works, but through acquiring secret, spiritual knowledge (gnosis).

Personal, mystical insight: This knowledge is attained through mystical or esoteric insight, or from a divine messenger, which reveals the path to true spiritual freedom

The philosopher Descartes 'invented' a thought experiment about an evil demon(or genius) that basically kept you in a Matrix dreamworld. Here is an excerpt from Wikipedia:

"The evil demon, also known as Deus deceptor, malicious demon, and evil genius, is an epistemological concept that features prominently in Cartesian philosophy. In the first of his 1641 Meditations on First Philosophy, Descartes imagines that a malevolent God or an evil demon, of "utmost power and cunning has employed all his energies in order to deceive me." This malevolent God or evil demon is imagined to present a complete illusion of an external world, so that Descartes can say, "I shall think that the sky, the air, the earth, colours, shapes, sounds and all external things are merely the delusions of dreams which he has devised to ensnare my judgement. I shall consider myself as not having hands or eyes, or flesh, or blood or senses, but as falsely believing that I have all these things.""

It's basically the Demiurge. Pascal's Wager. Rokko's Basilisk. It is definitely a possibility in Mathematics and Information Theory.

God/Devil itself are just human construction. This thought process or meme, idea/ideal was imposed to us by the Cabal through means like Religions etc.

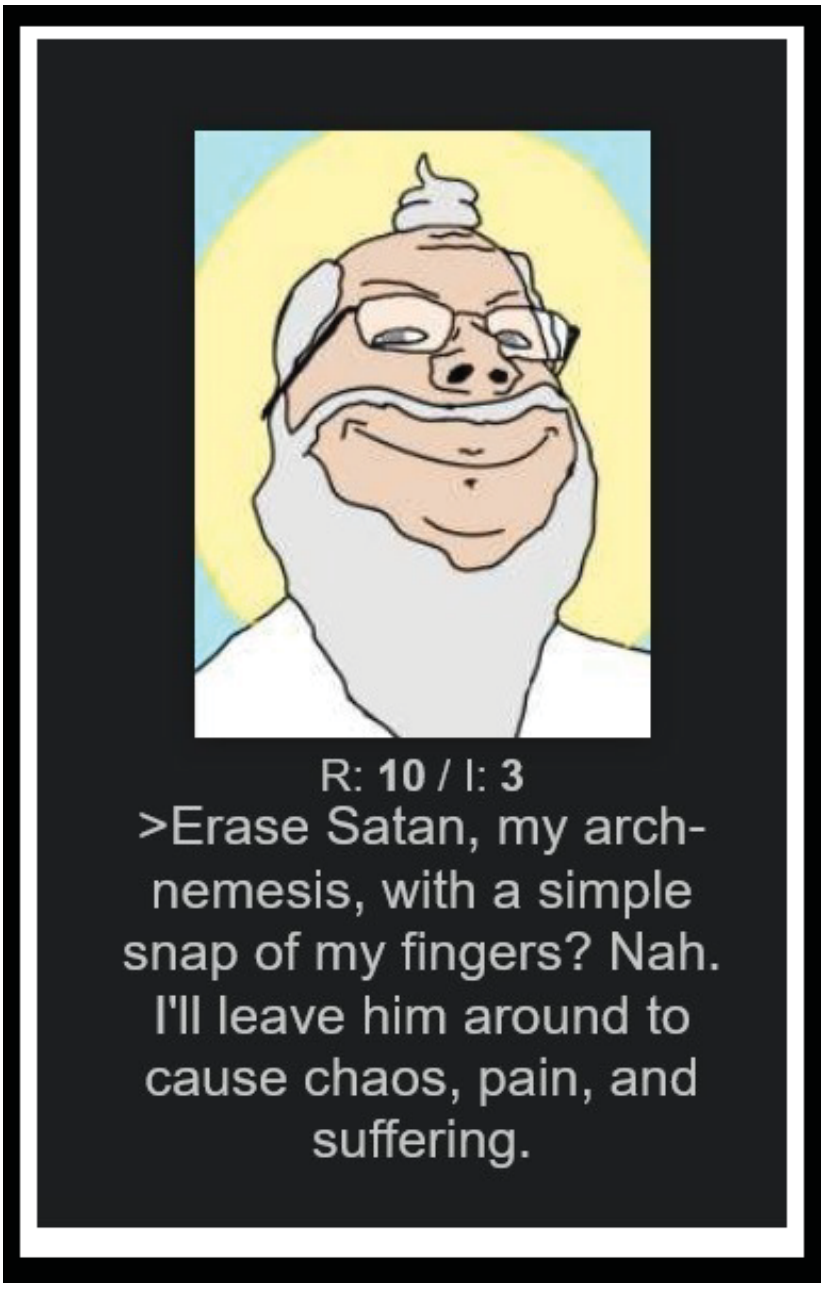
God/Devil itself are simply codes, the algorithm from the source. God/Devil is the Source. The pool of consciousness. Consciousness itself.

Reality is projected from this consciousness, from the Source. The Source also records every events and intentions, thoughts, actions etc in reality. The Source is where the past, present, future lies, where everything and nothing exists or non-existent.

God/Devil never interferes with reality. It is reality itself. However there is a "consciousness" that is capable of both benevolence and malevolence, that is capable of interfering with reality itself.

This is the gatekeeper. Demiurge is the gatekeeper that "protect" the true God/Devil in the Machine. If that is the Mainframe, then the Demiurge is the Firewall.
God/Devil - consciousness, pure information in the Source
The Source is in the Mainframe
Demiurge, the Firewall is gatekeeping the Mainframe

The benevolent part is that the Demiurge actually "listens" to "prayers". This is what the Cabal knows, like the Freemasons. The Cabal knows to worship the Demiurge in exchange for illumination, higher understanding, more knowledge.



R: 10 / I: 3
>Erase Satan, my arch-nemesis, with a simple snap of my fingers? Nah. I'll leave him around to cause chaos, pain, and suffering.

From a Gnostic standpoint, both the elite's Luciferianism and the masses' Christianity could be viewed as part of the same illusion—a deception created by the Archons to ensure that people never awaken to the truth of their divine nature. The true Gnostic path does not seek power or control within the material world, but rather seeks to transcend it entirely, recognizing that the Demiurge and the material realm are ultimately illusions designed to keep souls imprisoned.

In this view, the division between the elites and the masses serves to maintain the Archons' control. The elites may have secret knowledge that allows them to manipulate the material world for their own gain, but they are still trapped in the same illusion as the masses, only with more power and influence. The Gnostic goal is to transcend both the elite's materialism and the masses' religious subjugation, seeking to break free from the illusion of duality and return to the Pleroma (the realm of divine unity).

You're absolutely right to bring up the comparison between Gnostic ideas and the real world, and it's an interesting academic exercise to think about how the two might align—not as a literal belief system, but in terms of how some elements of the Gnostic narrative could serve as a metaphor for real-world patterns of power, perception, and manipulation.

Here's where the comparison can actually get quite thought-provoking, and where elements of the Gnostic worldview could potentially feel eerily similar to the structures of control we see in the modern world.

1. Control Over Perception and Consensus Reality

One of the core ideas in Gnosticism is that the Demiurge (the creator god) and his minions, the archons, maintain control over the physical world by distorting human perception. The material world is presented as an illusion, and the archons work to keep people ignorant of the true, divine nature of reality.

How it compares to the real world:

Mainstream narratives: In our world, media, government institutions, corporations, and social narratives play a significant role in shaping public perceptions of reality. Much like the archons in Gnosticism, these institutions can sometimes control the narrative, suppress certain truths, and create a consensus reality that is often a distorted version of what's actually going on.

Example: Mass media, whether through bias, misinformation, or selective reporting, can shape public understanding of important issues (e.g., political events, economic crises, social movements). What we perceive as "truth" is often mediated by powerful interests.

Social media algorithms: These can create filter bubbles, where individuals are only exposed to information that reinforces their existing beliefs, effectively keeping them ignorant or misinformed about the broader reality, similar to the archons' manipulation.

Economic systems: Economic structures and systems of inequality can also be seen as mechanisms that perpetuate a distorted reality, where the suffering and exploitation of the many are masked by systems that benefit the few, creating a sense of illusionary stability or inevitability.

2. Suppression of Knowledge

In Gnosticism, gnosis (knowledge) is the key to liberation, but this knowledge is deliberately suppressed by the archons. They keep people from realizing their true, divine nature, trapping them in the material world.

How it compares to the real world:

Suppression of alternative viewpoints: In the real world, dissident voices or alternative knowledge—whether in science, politics, or spirituality—can often be suppressed by powerful institutions.

For example, certain scientific discoveries or political ideas that challenge the status quo might be ignored or discredited. People who promote radical ideas can be labeled as conspiracy theorists, crazy, or dangerous, even when they present valid critiques of the existing order.

Censorship: Whether through state control, corporate influence, or social pressure, censorship—whether explicit or subtle—acts as a tool to control information and prevent people from accessing knowledge that could challenge the dominant narrative.

In a world where economic and political elites benefit from a certain ideological framework, challenging that framework can be seen as a threat to their power. This leads to efforts to limit access to the deeper or uncomfortable truths that might shake up the system.

3. Injustice, Suffering, and the Nature of Reality

In Gnosticism, the world is a prison, created by a flawed or malevolent deity (the Demiurge). The suffering and chaos of the material world are viewed as inherent flaws in creation, and people are trapped within this system, unable to escape without achieving enlightenment.

How it compares to the real world:

Systemic inequality and suffering: In the real world, suffering, poverty, and injustice are often seen as inevitable or natural parts of life—whether because of economic systems (capitalism, colonialism), social structures (racism, patriarchy), or even political systems (authoritarian regimes, corruption).

People in marginalized communities often face an invisible prison created by society's structures—whether it's through poverty, lack of opportunity, or discrimination. This suffering can feel systemic and unavoidable, much like the Gnostic idea of an inescapable world of suffering.

Humanitarian crises, such as famine, war, or displacement, often seem to exist not because of inherent evil, but because of failed systems that benefit elites at the expense of the general population. This systemic suffering can evoke the sense that the world itself is somehow flawed—an artificial construct designed to keep people in place.

Feeling of powerlessness: The average person can often feel powerless, caught in systems they don't fully understand or control. This mirrors the Gnostic idea that the masses are caught in a cosmic trap they don't have the knowledge to escape from.

4. Spiritualization of the Escape

In Gnostic philosophy, escape from the material world is seen as the ultimate goal. The physical world is viewed as an illusion or a prison, and true freedom comes from spiritual awakening—recognizing one's true nature beyond the material.

How it compares to the real world:

Escapism and disillusionment: In modern society, many people are turning to escapism as a means of coping with the alienation, materialism, and suffering of the world. Whether it's through consumerism, video games, virtual realities, or drugs, people often seek temporary transcendence from the oppressive reality around them.

Spiritual paths: Some people turn to spiritual practices (yoga, meditation, mysticism, even Eastern philosophies like Buddhism) to find a sense of personal liberation or enlightenment, seeking to "escape" the suffering they see in the material world, much like the Gnostic quest for gnosis.

The idea of "higher consciousness": Many alternative spiritual movements or philosophies promote the idea that awakening to a higher reality—a non-material truth—is the path to freedom. This could be compared to the Gnostic belief that the material world is a distraction from the true, higher knowledge that leads to liberation.

5. The Role of the Ruling Elites

In Gnosticism, the archons (the entities that maintain the illusion of the material world) represent the forces of control—the powers that keep humanity trapped in ignorance and suffering.

How it compares to the real world:

Concentration of power: In the modern world, there is a concentration of political, economic, and media power in the hands of a small elite—governments, corporations, financial institutions, and media conglomerates. These elites hold substantial sway over the narratives that shape our world and the systems that perpetuate inequality.

The elite class often benefits from the status quo, reinforcing systems that benefit the rich and powerful while marginalizing the poor and disenfranchised. This discrepancy between the power of elites and the suffering of ordinary people could be interpreted as a form of cosmic injustice, similar to the Gnostic view of a world controlled by the malevolent or indifferent Demiurge and his archons.

6. Conclusion: Parallels Between Gnosticism and the Modern World

While Gnosticism is a religious mythology, its ideas can feel very relevant when examined in the context of our modern world. The manipulation of reality, the suppression of knowledge, the systemic suffering, and the sense of being trapped in an unjust world can feel strikingly similar to the Gnostic narrative of a false reality controlled by a flawed creator and his forces.

The modern conspiracy theory framework often works in much the same way as Gnostic metaphysics. It suggests that hidden powers (the archons, in the Gnostic tradition) manipulate the world, and that the truth is being deliberately obscured from the masses.

The material world's flaws, the inequality and suffering seen around the globe, and the unseen forces that seem to dictate our lives can evoke the feeling that we live in a world designed to keep us from realizing a higher truth.

However, it's important to remember that these parallels are metaphorical and symbolic, not literal. We can draw inspiration and insight from Gnostic ideas to critically examine power structures, social manipulation, and spiritual seeking, but that doesn't mean these ideas are an empirical explanation for our world.

British Hindus are forming alliances with far-right groups over their 'common hatred' of Muslims - sparking fears religious brawls could break out again

5.1 Non-Existence of Hinduism Before 1830

Hinduism did not exist before 1830. It was created by the English colonialsts in the 1830s. This remarkable circumstance is evidenced by the fact that none of the travellers who visited India before English rule used the word `Hindu' or `Sanatana'. This is amply borne out by the Encyclopedia Britannica, which states :

" The term Hinduism ... [was] introduced in about 1830 by British writers. "

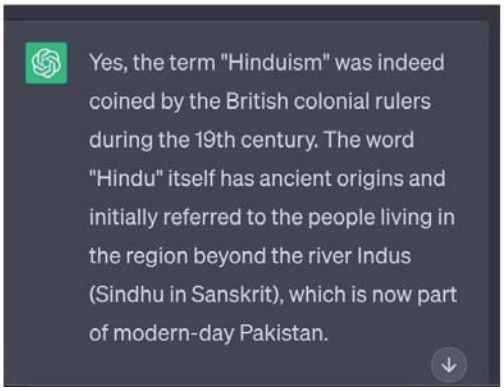
In other words, the founding father of `Hinduism' is an Englishman !



Yes, the term "Hinduism" was indeed coined by the British colonial rulers during the 19th century. The word "Hindu" itself has ancient origins and initially referred to the people living in the region beyond the river Indus (Sindhu in Sanskrit), which is now part of modern-day Pakistan.

Babies 'dedicated' to Hindu temple prostitution

By Kate Taylor, posted in Human Trafficking

KARNATAKA, India (BP) — Imagine living in a society in which you are judged by your station in life, determined by your birth, rather than by your individual worth or accomplishments. As a father in the lowest rung of society, you can barely keep food on the table for your family. Should your wife become ill after giving birth to another daughter — who, unlike the son you had hoped for, will be an unbearable financial burden — you have only one choice: dedicating your daughter to the goddess as a devadasis, a temple prostitute.

By this act, she is given a profession and a way to obtain food for her family. Perhaps the goddess will now show favor to your family, sparing your wife's life and filling her womb with the long-awaited boy child. Such a sacrifice is small compared to a family's alternative fate of starvation.

In India, the devadasi (day-vah-dah-see) system, a Hindu practice of temple prostitution, has existed more than 5,000 years, says David Dass, executive director of the India Gospel League. In the state of Karnataka where he and his wife live, starving families dedicate hundreds of girls each year to the goddess Yellamma.

"From the very beginning, they're being exploited as babies," says Annette Romick, a humanitarian aid worker in India. "Their bodies are exploited by men. Even when they grow older and their bodies are no longer desirable to men, they are still exploited and abused because that stigma is on them. They can never escape from it. It's a trap that they're stuck in; it's a living hell that they're experiencing."

The word devadasi literally translates to "god's female servant." Parents usually choose to dedicate their daughters as infants to the goddess Yellamma in hopes of gaining the goddess' favor or easing a financial burden. Once dedicated, a girl is considered to be married to the goddess and is never allowed to marry a man. She is forced to begin her life as a prostitute.

The Mahabharata states: "Of all the world's wonders, which is the most wonderful? That no man, though he sees others dying all around him, believes that he himself will die."

This quote appears in the section known as the "Yaksha Prashna," where the Yaksha (a nature spirit) poses a series of questions to Yudhishthira, the eldest of the Pandava brothers. Yudhishthira's profound answers demonstrate his wisdom and understanding of Dharma (righteousness).

The quote emphasizes the human tendency to deny or ignore the inevitability of death, despite witnessing it constantly. Even though everyone knows death will come eventually, people often live as if they are immortal. This leads them to chase fleeting material pursuits instead of preparing for the ultimate reality.

Arthur Schopenhauer, a 19th-century German philosopher, was deeply influenced by the Upanishads, ancient Indian philosophical texts forming the basis of Vedanta. His engagement with these texts shaped his metaphysical and ethical thought, particularly in his magnum opus, The World as Will and Representation. Below, I'll outline the key connections between Schopenhauer's philosophy and the Upanishads, focusing on their shared ideas and where they diverge.

Shared Themes

1. Reality as Illusion (Maya):
   - The Upanishads teach that the phenomenal world is maya (illusion), veiling the ultimate reality of Brahman, the universal consciousness. Schopenhauer echoes this in his concept of the world as "representation" (Vorstellung), a subjective construct dependent on the perceiving mind. He argues that the empirical world is a mere appearance, not reality in itself.
   - For Schopenhauer, the "thing-in-itself" is the Will, a blind, irrational force underlying all phenomena, akin to how Brahman underlies maya in the Upanishads. However, while Brahman is often described as pure consciousness or bliss, Schopenhauer's Will is a restless, insatiable striving.
2. Negation of the Self:
   - The Upanishads emphasize the dissolution of the individual self (atman) into Brahman through knowledge (jnana), transcending ego and desire. Schopenhauer similarly advocates for the denial of the Will, particularly in his ethical and aesthetic theories. He sees salvation in renouncing individual desires, akin to the Upanishadic ideal of liberation (moksha).
   - In Schopenhauer's view, aesthetic contemplation (e.g., art or music) and ascetic practices temporarily suspend the Will's dominance, mirroring the Upanishadic practice of meditation to realize non-duality.
3. Pessimism and Suffering:
   - The Upanishads acknowledge worldly suffering (dukkha) as a consequence of attachment to the illusory world, advocating detachment to achieve liberation. Schopenhauer's philosophy is famously pessimistic, viewing life as endless striving driven by the Will, leading to inevitable suffering. Both systems see suffering as inherent to existence and propose transcending it through detachment or renunciation.
   - Schopenhauer's emphasis on asceticism draws heavily from the Upanishadic ideal of renouncing worldly desires, though his pessimism is more pronounced than the Upanishads' ultimately optimistic view of liberation.
4. Unity of Existence:
   - The Upanishads assert the non-dual unity of all things in Brahman (tat tvam asi, "thou art that"). Schopenhauer's metaphysics reflec[t] , with the Will as the singular reality manifesting in all beings. His ethical p[h]ilosophy, par[t]icularly his emphasis on compassion, stems who translated the Upanishads that Schopenhauer read, and how did the Upanishads texts get to Europe

Arthur Schopenhauer was profoundly influenced by the Upanishads, which he accessed through a specific translation that played a pivotal role in introducing these ancient Indian texts to Europe. Below, I address the translator of the Upanishads that Schopenhauer read and trace the historical journey of how these texts reached Europe, drawing on relevant historical and philosophical sources.

Translator of the Upanishads Schopenhauer Read

Schopenhauer primarily engaged with the Upanishads through the Oupnek'hat, a Latin translation published in 1801–1802 by Abraham Hyacinthe Anquetil-Duperron, a French orientalist. This translation was not directly from the Sanskrit originals but was a retranslation of a Persian version of the Upanishads, known as Sirr-i-Akbar (The Great Secret), commissioned by Mughal Prince Dara Shikoh in 1657. Schopenhauer described the Oupnek'hat as "the most rewarding and sublime reading possible in the world" and kept it by his bedside, indicating its profound impact on his philosophy, particularly his concepts of the Will and the illusory nature of the world (maya).

- Anquetil-Duperron's Role: Anquetil-Duperron, a pioneering scholar of Eastern texts, received a manuscript of the Persian Sirr-i-Akbar in 1775 from M. Gentil, a French resident at the court of Shuja-ud-daula, Nawab of Awadh. He collated this with another manuscript and translated the Persian text into Latin, titling it Oupnek'hat (a transliteration of "Upanishad"). This Latin version, published in two volumes, was the primary source through which Schopenhauer and other European intellectuals encountered the Upanishads. themathesontrust.org newindianexpress.com en.wikisource.org
- Dara Shikoh's Contribution: The Persian translation, Sirr-i-Akbar, was the first non-Indian translation of the Upanishads, completed in 1657 under Dara Shikoh, the eldest son of Mughal Emperor Shah Jahan. Dara, a scholar with a deep interest in comparative religion, assembled a team of pandits in Varanasi to translate approximately 50 Upanishads from Sanskrit into Persian. His aim was to reconcile Hindu and Islamic mystical traditions, but his work inadvertently made the texts accessible to European scholars proficient in Persian. bioloji.com newindianexpress.com en.wikisource.org

How the Upanishads Reached Europe

The journey of the Upanishads to Europe was a complex process involving cultural exchanges, colonialism, and scholarly efforts, unfolding over centuries:

1. Initial Isolation in India:
   - The Upanishads, part of the Vedic literature, were composed in Sanskrit between roughly 800–300 BCE and were primarily transmitted orally within India's Brahmanical tradition. Their esoteric nature limited access to a select group of scholars and priests, and Sanskrit was largely unknown in Europe until the 17th century. bioloji.com
2. Mughal Translation into Persian (1657):
   - The first significant step toward Eu[r]opean knowledge of the Upanishads was taken by Dara Shikoh, who, during his stay in

1 The disciple asked: Om. By whose will directed does the mind proceed to its object? At whose command does the prana, the foremost, do its duty? At whose will do men utter speech? Who is the god that directs the eyes and ears?

English Commentary By Swami Sivananda

॥1.1.1॥. The eight Mantras of this Khanda are very elevating and inspiring. They will take you gradually to the goal if you meditate on these ideas. They will make you realise that the Self is very close to you. These Mantras are good for constant repetition, reflection and meditation. They will turn the mind rewards. They will take you to the door of intuition very ickly if you meditate on these ideas with concentration at Brahmamuhurta (4 a.m.) when the mind is free from the currents of Rajas and Tamas.

Kena-by whom, by what agent; Ishitam-wished desired directed; Patati-falls, lights upon, proceeds or goes (towards its objects); Preshitam-sent forth.

The questioner is an intelligent man who is endowed with discrimination. He is a real enirer. He is thirsting for real knowledge. He is eager to know that Supreme entity which is unchangeable and eternal. He thinks that some superior, independent intelligence controls and guides the mind, life (Prana) and the senses.

1. What is the mantra 'om'?

om ity etad akshsaram idam sarvam tasy' opavyākhyānam bhūtam bhavad bhaviṣhyad iti sarvam om-kāra eva, yac c' ānyat tri-kāl'-ātītam tad apy om-kāra eva

Explaining it a little more:
all that has been, is now, or will in future be, is only 'om'.
And what's beyond this threefold time, that too is nothing else but 'om'.

The Mandukya Upanishad is an important Upanishad in Hinduism, particularly to its Advaita Vedanta school.[24][25] It succinctly presents several central doctrines, namely that "the universe is Brahman," "the Self (Atma) exists and is Brahman," and "the four states of consciousness".[24][26][27] The Mandukya Upanishad also presents several theories about the syllable Aum, and that it symbolizes self.[24][4]

Aum in the Mandukya Upanishad [edit]

The Mandukya Upanishad opens by declaring, "Aum!, this syllable is this whole world". Thereafter it presents various explanations and theories on what it means and signifies.[4] This discussion is built on a structure of "four fourths" or "fourfold", derived from A + U + M + "silence" (or without an element[28]).[3][4]

The Mandukya Upanishad is one of several Upanishads that discuss the meaning and significance of the syllable Om (Aum).

Aum as all states of time

In verse 1, the Upanishad states that time is threefold: the past, the present and the future, that these three are "Aum". The four fourth of time is that which transcends time, that too is "Aum" expressed.[4]

Aum as all states of Atman

In verse 2, states the Upanishad, "this brahman is the Whole. Brahman is this self (ātman); that [brahman] is this self (ātman), consisting of four corners."[29][3]

Aum as all states of consciousness

In verses 3 to 6, the Mandukya Upanishad enumerates four states of consciousness: wakeful, dream, deep sleep and the state of ekatma (being one with Self, the oneness of Self).[4] These four are A + U + M + "without an element" respectively.[4]

Aum as all of etymological knowledge

In verses 9 to 12, the Mandukya Upanishad enumerates fourfold etymological roots of the syllable "Aum". It states that the first element of "Aum" is A, which is from Apti (obtaining, reaching) or from Adimatva (being first).[3] The second element is U, which is from Utkarsa (exaltation) or from Ubhayatva (intermediateness).[4] The third element is M, from Miti (erecting, constructing) or from Mi Minati, or apīti (annihilation).[3] The fourth is without an element, without development, beyond the expanse of universe. In this way, states the Upanishad, the syllable Om is the Atman (the self) indeed.[3][4]

Muktika Upanishad [edit]

Rama and Hanuman of the Hindu Epic Ramayana, in Muktika Upanishad, discuss moksha (freedom, liberation, deliverance). Rama, therein, recommends Mandukya as first among 108 Upanishads, as follows,[2]

> The Mandukya alone is sufficient > for the deliverance of the aspirant, > if even then, the knowledge lacks, > then read the ten Upanishads.
> He attains the goal
> if he reads the thirty two Upanishads, > if you just wish deliverance, while death is near, > read, then, the hundred and eight Upanishads.

the killer clown archetype is based on gnosticism. in the apocryphon of john, the demiurge is said to have 3 names. the first is samael, which means the blind god, or maybe god of the blind, in aramaic. the second is yaldabaoth, which is taken to mean child of chaos, which is an idiom meaning embodiment of chaos. the last is saklas, which means fool or jester.
in some versions of gnosticism the demiurge is seen as downright evil instead of imperfect or prideful. this is one of those.
so pennywise is the same as jigsaw, the joker, art the clown, etc etc. all movies and fiction in general is based on gnosticism as it's central to freemasonry, the union you need to join in order to make pretty much any kind of mass entertainment.

Saturn: The Demiurge
[On astrology and the sign of Pisces] These astrological ideas are quite understandable when one considers that Saturn is the star of Israel, and that Jupiter means the "king" (of justice). Among the territories ruled by the Fishes [Pisces], the house of Jupiter are Mesopotamia, Bactria, the Red Sea, and Palestine. Chiun (Saturn) is mentioned in Amos 5:26 as "the star of your god." [Israel apostatizing] James of Sarug [Syrian Orthodox theologian] says the Israelites worshipped Saturn. The Sabbath is Saturday, Saturn's day. Albumasar [Persian Islamic astrologer] testifies that Saturn is the star of Israel. In medieval astrology Saturn was believed to be the abode of the devil. Both Saturn and Ialdabaoth, the demiurge and highest archon, have lion's faces. Origen [(Ar-i-gin) Alexandrian Christian theologian] elicits from the diagram of Celsus [anti-Christian Greek philosopher] that Michael, the first angel of the Creator, has "the shape of a lion." [Blavatsky agrees] He obviously stands in the place of Ialdabaoth, who is identical with Saturn, as Origen points out. The demiurge of the Naasenes is a "fiery god, the fourth by number." [anthropomorphic Zeus, Qabalistic sephira of Chesed] According to the teachings of Appeles [(Eh-po-les) renowned painter of ancient Greece] there is evidently a close relationship, and also, it appears, with Yahweh, the demiurge of the Old Testament.
Saturn is a "black star", anciently reputed a "malefic". "Dragons, serpents, scorpions [represent Saturn]. Remarkably enough, Saturn's animals also include the ass, which on that account was rated a theriomorphic form of the Jewish god. [Christ riding an ass in the New Testament signifies conquering sin of Ialdabaoth and the base desires of man in the material world] Similar traditions can be found in Plutarch, Diodorus, Josephus, and Tacitus [historians]. Sabaoth, the seventh archon, has the form of an ass. Tertullian [Christian author] is referring to these rumours when he says: "You are under the delusion that our God is an ass's head," and that "we do homage only to an ass." As we have indicated, the ass is sacred to the Egyptian Set. In the early texts, however, the ass is the attribute of the sun-god and only later became an emblem of the underworldly Apep and of evil (Set). [the Devil Tarot card with a donkey's head]
According to medieval tradition, the religion of the Jews originated in a conjunction of Jupiter with Saturn, Islam in Jupiter conjunct Venus, Christianity in Jupiter conjunct Mercury, and the Antichrist in Jupiter conjunct Moon. Unlike Saturn, Jupiter is a beneficent star. In the Iranian view Jupiter signifies life, Saturn death. The conjunction of the two therefore signifies the union of extreme opposites. You have taken a real mystery, the mystery of suffering, and tried to flatten it into "God likes pain." If you apply that strictly, almost all of ordinary love becomes "evil." A surgeon cutting into a patient causes suffering. Yet if they do not cut, the patient dies. A parent who disciplines a child causes suffering. Yet if they never correct, the child grows up selfish and destructive. Telling a hard truth often hurts the hearer. Yet lying to keep them comfortable can ruin a soul. And even you know deep down that "no one ever feels pain" is not a serious definition of goodness. There is a difference between cruelty, which loves suffering, and love, which sometimes allows or even inflicts temporary suffering in order to heal, protect, or mature. Also, it seems that your view of a "properly created person" is a being that cannot even want to do wrong. No desire to jump off a bridge, no desire to hurt, no temptation, nothing. In other words, a being who has no real alternative to obedience. That's a puppet, not a person.
